HOUSE SAVES PHILIPPINES FROM SILVER

Civil Government Act Is Last Great Measure of This Session.

CONGRESS WILL ADJOURN TODAY

Conferees Compromise by Dropping Currency Question from the Bill.

LEGISLATURE COMING AT END OF TWO YEARS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 30.—After a series of conferences extending over Saturday, Sunday and today, the senate and house conferees agreed on the points in dispute in the Philippine government bill this afternoon and the house adopted the report. Mr. Lodge, chairman of the senate committee on the Philippines, called up the conference report in the senate, and at his instance it was ordered printed. He gave notice that he would call it up tomorrow morning.

It is expected that congress will adjourn tomorrow, although no exact time has yet been set.

The result of the struggle in conference is a substantial victory for the house. The senate is prevented from adopting free coinage of silver for the Philippines and from practically fastening the silver standard on that country for all time. This was really the hardest fight of all. The house insisted to the last moment upon the introduction of the gold standard there, and would have gone to the extent of killing the Philippine bill entirely if the senate had insisted on its clause for a 50-cent Philippine dollar.

Subsidiary Coinage as Makeshift.

A compromise was finally reached by which the senate receded from its free coinage proposition and the house receded from its stand in favor of the gold dollar. A proposition was inserted which will permit the Taft government to supply subsidiary coinage to meet commercial requirements.

The secret of the senate's obstinacy in endeavoring to have the silver standard perpetuated in the Philippines is that the great financial concerns of Europe that are engaged in the banking business at Manila, Hongkong, Shanghai and elsewhere have impressed the senate with the belief that the introduction of the gold standard would upset business conditions. The motive for these representations is that these bankers are making tremendous sums out of the rate of exchange, which they actually fix at a ruinous figure, and which they will continue to maintain so long as the silver basis is maintained in the east. The members of the house claim that after making the fight for the gold standard in this country in the last three campaigns they could not afford to go before the people as having voted for passing the silver standard on our oriental possessions.

Senate Yields on Land Question.

The victory of the house over the senate in the matter of leasing land causes great satisfaction at the war department. The senate had actually voted to prohibit the leasing of lands in greater quantity than 40 acres, which would have prevented the development of the country and kept things at a standstill. The compromise fixes the maximum quantity of land that a corporation may acquire at 1,024 hectares.

The house had made provision for a Philippine legislature which should be elected whenever a condition of complete peace should prevail. This was favored by Secretary Root, who said it would have a good effect and enable the Filipinos to participate in government. The senate objected, holding that the time had not yet arrived to permit the Filipinos to have a legislature. The senate, in the compromise, accepts the proposition for a legislature, but the election is to be postponed for two years after a complete census of the archipelago has been taken. The Moros and other Pagan tribes are excluded from the legislature.

The bill, as finally passed, provides for the appointment at once of two Filipino commissioners to the United States congress at a salary of $5,000 and $2,000 for expenses, whose privileges are similar to those of territorial delegates. They are to serve until the election, when two commissioners are to be elected.

Passed Finally by House.

The bill, as it will go to the president, contains the legislative limitations, and the bill of rights complete as in the house bill.

With the final adjournment probable tomorrow, the house worked under high pressure from noon today until far into the night. The conference report on the Philippine government bill, which is considered the last serious obstacle in the way of adjournment, was adopted by a strong party vote, with the single exception of Mr. McCall, of Massachusetts, Republican, who voted with the Democrats.

A partial report on the general deficiency appropriation bill was adopted, and after a prolonged fight the house, by a vote of 118 to 101, accepted the senate amendment to appropriate $500,000 for the Buffalo exposition, and then sent the bill back to conference. The senate amendments to appropriate $160,000 for the Charleston exposition and $1,000,000 to pay the Hawaiian fire-bubonic plague awards were defeated, the former by a vote of 71 to 118.

Subsequently, at the night session, the house reversed itself and assented to the senate amendment making an appropriation for the Charleston exposition.

At the evening session the Dick militia bill, which is to be used as a stop-gap for the remainder of the session while the house is waiting for conference reports, was taken up. The adjournment resolution is to be withheld until the conference report on the Philippine bill is adopted by the senate.

The Row in the Senate.

In the senate hot words passed between Mr. Bailey of Texas and Mr. Beveridge of Indiana, which, after adjournment, was followed up by a physical assault by the Texas senator upon the senator from Indiana.

Mr. Bailey criticised the state depart-

SENATOR BAILEY TRIES TO CHOKE MR. BEVERIDGE

Other Lawmakers Drag the Infuriated Texan Away from Hoosier.

IT HAPPENS AFTER EXECUTIVE SESSION

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 30.—Senator Bailey of Texas assaulted Senator Beveridge of Indiana tonight just after the senate had adjourned from executive session. The Texas senator was dragged away and separated from his opponent by some of those about the senate. He was very angry and threatened severe harm to the Indiana senator.

The episode was the result of a heated controversy which the two senators had during the afternoon, when Senator Beveridge said Senator Bailey had made "an unwarranted attack" on Solicitor Penfield of the state department. In the executive session Mr. Beveridge, like other senators who smoke, lighted a cigar and took a seat on the Republican side. He was still sitting there when the senate adjourned. Senator Bailey crossed the aisle and walked through the seats until he was facing Senator Beveridge.

"Beveridge," he said, "I don't want to have any trouble with you, but I want you to withdraw those words which charged me with making an unwarranted attack upon Penfield."

The Texan Gets Angry.

"I didn't intend to insult you," replied Senator Beveridge, "and there is nothing in my language that you could consider offensive."

"I don't allow anyone to say that I lied a man, and that is what you do in making the charge. Now, if you don't withdraw the words when I ask you, I'm going to make you withdraw them."

Senator Bailey had been getting more and more angry and excited as he talked. He had been sitting down part of the time or leaning against the desk immediately in front of Senator Beveridge, Beveridge in reply to Senator Bailey's last remark, still remaining in his chair, said: "I repeat that I did not intend to insult you and that I have nothing to retract."

As those words were uttered Senator Bailey threw himself upon Senator Beveridge, who is a man hardly up to the average in physique, and seized him by the throat with both hands. The rush was so sudden and fierce that the chair in which Mr. Beveridge was sitting was pushed back against a desk and the desk was toppled over.

Other Senators Drag Bailey Away.

Before the assault could go any further senators who had been sitting near had moved up between the desks. Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota seized Senator Bailey by one arm and Senator Spooner seized the other. The Texas senator is a powerful man, and it was with great difficulty that the two senators were able to drag him away from Senator Beveridge, and when they succeeded a part of the Indiana senator's neckwear was ripped and torn away in the vigorous grasp of Senator Bailey.

Senator Bacon of George and Barney Layton, assistant doorkeeper, came quickly forward and assisted in pulling the Texas senator farther away, Senator Bailey meanwhile struggling to get free and lunging toward Senator Beveridge. As he was removed a little distance he was heard to utter something that sounded like a threat about killing. Without further effort, however, he walked away, when Senator Bacon urged him to be quiet and led him toward the Democratic side.

Senator Bacon engaged Senator Bailey in conversation for some time, advising him to cool down. Senator Spooner also went across the aisle and discussed the matter with the Texas senator, urging him to apologize, and, if possible, fix it up at once. Senator Bailey refused all such proffers, declaring that Senator Beveridge had insulted him in the senate, and that he had taken the only course left, as the Indiana senator had refused to withdraw his remarks.

Senator Beveridge remained in the chamber for some little time, and continued to smoke his cigar. He remarked to those who spoke to him on the subject that it did not amount to anything. He made no effort to resist or resent the attack made on him. In fact, the whole thing was over in a very brief interval, before much resistance could have been offered.

Mr. Beveridge denied that he had been choked by Mr. Bailey. According to his version, the Texas senator had made a lunge at him, but his arm was caught by Senator Spooner before the threatened blow landed.

Cloudburst Causes Death.

WHEELING, W. VA., June 30.—(Special.)—A cloudburst on Glenns run transformed that stream into a torrent. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burris and children made an attempt to cross on a raft, which was overturned by the current. Burris and one child reached shore. The mother and a 2-year-old babe were carried down the stream, the latter drowning. Mrs. Burris was unconscious when found, but will recover.

SOUTH SIDE GAS COMPANY IS OWNED BY THE MONOPOLY

Reduction in Price of Illuminant Caused Discovery of Deal Made in May.

CONSUMERS ARE ELATED

After having paid big prices for illuminating gas for more than a half century, the residents of the South Side will today enter upon a new era of cheap gas, cheap, that is, compared with the former cost of the article. It is true that the South Siders will pay the exact amount paid for some years by other Pittsburghers, but even that is a great financial relief to them.

Postal cards notifying South Side consumers that on and after July 1 they would have to pay but $1 net for each 1,000 feet of gas were sent out yesterday, and at the same time it became known that the midsummer Santa Claus was the Philadelphia Company. In other words, the Philadelphia Company has bought out the South Side Gas Company, the only concern of the kind that was still independent of the big monopoly. The purchase was made in May, but not a word has been made public until today.

Yesterday the cost of illuminating gas on the South Side to the consumer was $1.50 for 1,000 cubic feet, with 10 cents off, making the net cost of the gas $1.40. Beginning today, and for as long as the Philadelphia Company chooses, the price will be $1.20 a thousand, with 20 cents off for cash within a stipulated period.

The purchase of the controlling interest and the reorganization were effected quietly. Former Judge J. H. Reed, president of the Philadelphia Company, has been elected president of the South Side Gas Company, and the executive officers of the Philadelphia have taken similar positions on the South Side company.

HAITIANS DROP USELESS BALLOT FOR THE BULLET

Election Abruptly Stopped While Voters Get Their Guns and Blaze Away.

U. S. CRUISER SENT THERE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Port au Prince, Haiti, June 30.—The elections for deputies have been interrupted. The various political parties in Haiti are in arms and ready for battle. There has been much firing here and the situation is critical.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—Acting Secretary of State Hill received a request by cable today from United States Consul L. W. Livingston, at Cape Haitien, for an American warship to protect the interests of the United States during the present revolutionary crisis in Haiti. Dr. Hill referred the request to Secretary Moody and orders were sent forward today to the gunboat Marietta at San Juan, Porto Rico, to proceed at once to the scene of trouble. It is a 36-hour run from San Juan to Cape Haitien.

The state department received two cable dispatches from United States Minister Powell at Port au Prince in the afternoon in regard to the situation in Haiti. The first said that the minister had received a telegram from Cape Haitien saying the Haitien admiral had fired on the city and that several persons had been killed. The minister's dispatch also said that President Firmin had left Cape Haitien under the protection of the foreign consuls on a Haitien vessel. The conditions at Port au Prince were reported quiet.

Another cable dispatch received shortly afterward, said the Haitien minister for foreign affairs had informed Minister Powell that the government had ordered the arrest of Admiral Killick.

BIG SHIPMENT OF COAL BEGINS THIS MORNING

Between 16,000,000 and 18,000,000 Bushels Will Go Out.

GREATEST PARADE OF BOATS IN YEARS

A general resumption in navigation on the Ohio river has occurred, and once more the clanging of steamboat bells and the tooting of whistles will resound throughout the Ohio valley.

Today the biggest parade of steamers that has left Pittsburgh in many years will start on their journey south with great fleets of coal, and in addition many thousands of tons of steel rails, cotton ties, barbed wire, nails, etc., will be transported in barge lots. It will be the first coalboat run since last March. From 16,000,000 to 18,000,000 bushels of coal will be moved about 25,000,000 bushels are loaded.

More steamboats are in the Pittsburgh harbor at this season of the year than for 20 years past. It rarely happens that a majority of steamers engaged in towing coal between Louisville and New Orleans are seen in port in June and July, but such is the case now.

All of the coal companies will take advantage of the water. The Ohio is expected to reach a stage of from 11 to 14 feet, which is excellent coalboat water. The firm of C. Jutte & Co. will send the following towboats with coal tows: Gleaner, 20 coalboats; G. W. Thomas, 14 boats; W. H. Flint, 14 boats; Philip Prell, 12 boats; W. C. Jutte, 12 boats.

The A. B. Budd Coal Company will dispatch the Harvester with 17 boats; Frank Gilmore, 10 boats; Convey, 10 boats.

The Clyde Coal Company will send the Lookout with five boats and five barges. These firms constitute the independent coal operators doing business in the south, and it will be the largest run of coal made by the independents since the coal combination was organized. They will ship nearly 3,000,000 bushels.

Combine's Big Shipment.

The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, the river coal combination, will ship from 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 bushels of coal and probably half of the amount shipped will go through to New Orleans, as it is fully expected that there will be enough water at Louisville to start southern shipments. It is estimated that 400 coalboats will be sent through to the far south. The following towboats will get away today and tomorrow, taking coal for the combination: Joseph B. Williams, Defender, Exporter, Alice Brown, Harry Brown, Sam Brown, Charles Brown, Boaz, Raymond Horner, Pacific, John Moren, James Moren, Ed Roberts, Ironsides, Iron Age, Mariner, Joseph Walton, Sam Clark, Enterprise, Tom Rees, Valiant, Cruiser, Tom Dodsworth, Volunteer, Jim Brown, Jim Wood, Faillie and Tornado, while a number of other towboats will help out with tows, some of which may be sent through. The Nellie Walton, B. D. Wood, Dave Wood and Stelle Moren went below the dam Sunday night, taking light tows of barges. Every available boat that turns a wheel, which the combine owns, will be used to help get the fuel to points below.

Trouble Getting Labor.

Some trouble was experienced yesterday in getting labor. The coal combination imported over 100 deckhands from Cincinnati and for a time men wanted $60 a month for decking, but finally settled on $50. Firemen early in the day yesterday were demanding $70, and some of them wanted to be paid at the rate of $80 per month, but they decided on $60 per month, and it is said that with few exceptions no more is being paid.

The rise is coming principally out of the Allegheny river, and just the exact amount of water expected will not be known until this morning. There will be a good coalboat stage, but the conservative ones place the maximum height of the river at 14 feet, at the dam. One operator, in discussing conditions yesterday, said that there would be plenty of water for all concerned, and that all pilots need to do was to keep from hitting the banks. The river is in good shape, except for a few obstructions at Aliquippa, Wickley and Logstown, where the government is building dams. The Davis island dam was lowered last night. A few boats were expected to get away last night, but the big start will be made at daylight this morning. The Pittsburgh and Cincinnati packets have resumed operations.

WILL IMPORT COAL.

Cargo to Be Brought from Cardiff Because of Miners' Strike.

PHILADELPHIA, June 30.—The announcement is made that a steamship of 4,300 tons capacity has been chartered to load coal at Cardiff, Wales, for Philadelphia. This movement is taken as indicating the unwillingness of steamship companies to pay the prices now demanded for bunker coal at this port, owing to the miners' strike.

This, it is said will be the first cargo of British coal ever brought to Philadelphia.

Dr. J. Walter Fewkes, vice president of the section of anthropology, addressed the section in the Oakland Methodist Episcopal church on "Prehistoric Porto Rico."

In the First United Presbyterian church Dr. Henry Hyde spoke before the section of social and economic science.

Eight sections organized yesterday afternoon and elected members to the general and sectional committees as follows:

Mathematics and astronomy—General committee, Prof. Mansfield Merriman of Lehigh university; sectional committee, R. H. Woodward, A. B. Nelson and C. S. Howe.

Mechanical science and engineering—General committee, Prof. Thomas Gray of the Rose Polytechnical school; sectional committee, J. D. Webb, C. M. Woodward and W. T. Magruder.

Geology—Prof. L. C. White, state geologist of North Carolina; sectional committee, B. K. Emmerson and F. Bascom.

Zoology—Dr. W. J. Holland, Carnegie institute; sectional committee, C. W. Hargeit, H. F. Osborne and F. M. Webster.

Botany—General committee, Prof. S. M. Tracy of Mississippi; sectional committee, E. A. Hitchcock, W. L. Gray and F. W. Rance.

The vice presidents and secretaries of the last meeting and those of this meeting also act as members of the sectional committees.

The First Lecture.

The members of the association attended the first public lecture of a series at Carnegie music hall last night, when Dr. Leonard P. Kinnicutt of the Worcester Polytechnic Institute spoke on "The Prevention of the Pollution of Streams by Modern Methods of Sewage Treatment." The hall was well filled when the lecture opened at 8:15 o'clock, and about 500 persons were in attendance.

Dr. Kinnicutt illustrated his lecture by stereopticon views showing different filtration plants in various sections of the world. The lecture was highly interesting and entertaining and was greatly appreciated by all who heard it. Dr. Kinnicutt said in part:

"Sewage can be defined as the water supply of a city after it has been used. It contains the solid and liquid excreta of the population, household waste, the washings of the street, and the refuse of every branch of industry.

"The total amount of this refuse matter varies, but on the average the sewage of a city is pure water, containing one-tenth of one per cent of city waste, seven pounds to 1,000 gallons. In addition to this refuse matter sewage contains in immense numbers, approximately 150,000,000 to the liquid ounce, those microscopic organisms called bacteria. Only very few of the micro-organisms contained in sewage are harmful to man, but in the perfect treatment of sewage the bacteria as well as the refuse must be removed."

The Conclusion Reached.

For convenience in discussing the questions Dr. Kinnicutt divided his subject into the following heads. Sewage farming, chemical precipitation, intermittent filtration, the septic tank, contract bed treatment, and continuous filtration. In drawing his conclusions Dr. Kinnicutt said:

"Regarding the various methods I have mentioned I would say that sewage farming as a general method of sewage treatment is not practicable; that chemical treatment only removes a part of the polluting substances in the sewage. It is a partial or preliminary treatment, advisably only in cases where sewage contains germicidal substances, thus preventing the use of the septic tank.

"Intermittent filtration is the last of all methods for the treatment of sewage in cities where sand can be easily and cheaply obtained, though the amount of sewage than can be treated per acre per day is not over 75,000 gallons, unless the septic tank is used in connection with the process. The septic tank process is a most valuable adjunct and almost an essential part to all bacterial methods of sewage treatment.

"The contract method is not adapted and should not be used for the treatment of crude sewage, but can be considered a very satisfactory method for the treatment of sewage after it has undergone putrefaction in the septic tank. Continuous filtration, though capable of treating much greater quantities of sewage per acre than can be done by any other method, is still in the experimental age."

The American Anthropological association yesterday elected the following officers: President, Prof. W. J. McGee of Washington, D. C.; first vice president, Prof. S. W. Putnam of Harvard; second vice president, Dr. Franz Boas of Columbia university; third vice president, Prof. W. H. Holmes of the United States national museum; fourth vice president, Prof. J. W. Powell of Washington, D. C.; secretary, Dr. George A. Dorsey of the Fields Columbian museum of Chicago; treasurer, Prof. Roland B. Dixon of Harvard. The association will have three special meetings a year.

DOES YOUR WIFE PLAY?

Of Course It's Nobody's Business if She Doesn't, Nevertheless an Angelus Should Be in Your Home.

There are few persons so indifferent to music as to pay no attention to the pleasure afforded by good music.

If your wife does not play it may be because she no longer has time, or maybe she had not time to practice before you married her? In either case there is no reason why your home should be without the divine harmonies of the masters, for the Angelus piano player will bring all the world's music to you as often as you wish it.

Don't for a moment confound the Angelus with those mechanical devices which produce a series of sounds in imitation of music. There is nothing at all mechanical about the Angelus. This is explained by the fact that the Angelus is so constructed that the person operating it has absolute control of the expression. The music becomes slow or fast, soft or loud at the will of the operator. When you play the Angelus this remarkable instrument becomes your willing medium through which you interprest the music you desire to hear.

It's all the same to the Angelus, whether you like heavy orchestral music or popular songs, for by means of the Angelus the music of the universe is at your command.

And do not hesitate with the idea that it may be difficult to learn to play the Angelus. You do not have to "learn." You can operate the Angelus the first time you sit down to it. Another thing—it plays any piano. So if you own a piano you owe it to yourself to own an Angelus—and the sooner you make up your mind to secure one the sooner you'll be congratulating yourself.

Suppose you come in today or tomorrow and hear some of your favorite music played on the Angelus. That won't cost you a cent and will surely afford you a great deal of genuine satisfaction.

The Angelus is the only piano player having an orchestral attachment and it is sold only by

WOOSTER'S ALUMNI AT FESTIVE BOARD

Local Graduates Gather to Recall College Days and Honor Alma Mater.

The Pittsburgh Alumni association of the University of Wooster, O., held its annual banquet in the Hotel Henry last night. An elaborate menu was prepared and the banquet room was handsomely decorated. Almost the entire membership of the association was present when the banquet was served.

Among the honor guests who were present were the Rev. Dr. L. E. Holden, president of the Wooster university, and Prof. W. H. Wilson, head of the mathematical department. The menu card was very handsomely designed, the second folder of which contained the list of toasts. Dr. W. R. Crabbe, '77, of Shadyside academy, was toastmaster. The first toast was "Early Days at Wooster," responded to by E. P. Douglas, '77, McKeesport; "What Has Wooster Done?" and the Rev. C. S. McClelland, '77, of the Mt. Washington Presbyterian church, soon made clear that Wooster has turned out some on the leading graduates of the country. "Athletics at Wooster," was responded to by the Rev. Kinley McMillan, '86, of the McKeesport Presbyterian church; "Wooster Girls," by the Rev. S. B. Linhart, '91, president of Blairsville College for Women, and the "New and Greater Wooster," by President L. E. Holden.

Among those present were: The Rev. J. S. Nichols, '89; Forrest Price, '88; Prof. F. D. Glover, '91; M. F. Allison, '91; the Rev. B. R. McHatton, '95; Mrs. B. R. McHatton, '98; Prof. W. Z. Morrison, Mrs. W. Z. Morrison, '87; Miss Isabel De Vier, '85; Mr. John F. Miller, '81; J. W. Hutchinson, '88; John L. Priestley, '91; J. T. Stoneroad, '87; Dr. I. K. King, '93; Harry L. Graham, '93, Butler, Pa.; Walter Lobengier, '92; Karl F. Overholt, '97; Dr. J. W. Connell, '74; the Rev. Raymond Huston, '98; Earl McClelland, the Rev. J. H. Morris, '88; the Rev. Dr. Cheesman.

COLONIAL TROOPS ARE ASKED TO STAY

King's Rapid Recovery Indicated by Intimation That Coronation May Soon Occur.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 30.—The Colonial troops, which are to be reviewed tomorrow, have been invited to remain in England for the present. This is taken as an indication that the officials are contemplating the possibility of the coronation of King Edward taking place earlier than hitherto anticipated.

The following bulletin was issued from Buckingham palace at 7 p. m.:

"The king has had a fairly comfortable day, and the discomfort in the wound has been less. Signed: Treves, Laking, Barlow."

The bulletin at 10 o'clock said:

"His majesty has slept well. The dressing of the wound gives much distress, but there is no bad symptom of any kind."

At noon the following official statement was given out at the palace:

"There is no cause for alarm in the distress caused by dressing the wound. This occurs at least twice daily. The wound, which is of considerable depth, is dressed from the bottom, as it is essential that it should heal from within outward. The dressing causes his majesty considerable pain, which he has borne with great fortitude. In fact, his majesty's courage and patience call for the greatest admiration. The king was much benefited by the change to the couch yesterday, on which he stayed for a few hours. The electric fans have proved of great value in keeping down the temperature of the apartment. The queen is in constant attendance in the sick room, but the utmost quiet is enforced. The king occasionally sees his children, but the interviews are of short duration. No matters of state or business are allowed to be submitted to the king, who is also debarred from reading his correspondence. Neither Drs. Laking, Barrow nor Treves have left the palace since the operation, except for an occasional hour."

The feeling of relief as a result of a favorable report of the condition of the king vented itself tonight by the touching of the 3,000 bonfires throughout the United Kingdom, which were originally prepared to celebrate coronation night.

BIG NEW YORK FIRM LEASES SKYSCRAPER

New Building at Sixth and Wood Will Be Occupied by Claflin Store.

Negotiations now pending indicate that James McCreery & Co., drygoods merchants of New York, will occupy the skyscraper that Henry W. Oliver will erect next year on his Wood street frontage. A substantial agreement has been reached by which the McCreery company will receive a lease on the building for a period of 20 years, but the final papers have not yet been signed. It is probable that the building will be so constructed as to accommodate the proposed lessees.

The McCreery company, whose establishment is in Twenty-third street, New York, is one of the stores controlled by the H. B. Claflin company of New York. This is the largest drygoods merchandising establishment in the world. It is known that John Claflin, president of the company, has been seeking an entrance into this city for some time, and the present negotiations have been conducted between Mr. Oliver and the McCreery company through the office of Samuel W. Black & Co.

Two attempts on the part of the Claflin officials to buy a drygoods store in Pittsburgh having failed, according to report, the McCreery company took up the matter of securing a 20 years' lease on the Oliver building. One of the conditions of the lease is that the building shall have a frontage of 240 feet in Wood street, the entire distance from Sixth avenue to Virgin alley, and that it shall be constructed in accordance with the needs of the McCreery company. The consideration for the lease is a business secret, but it is undoubtedly the largest deal of the kind ever made in this city.

The coming of the McCreery company means much to Pittsburgh in a business way. The H. B. Claflin company, with which it is allied, has, besides this establishment, the big Adams store in New York, the Posner store in Baltimore, two stores in Cincinnati, and one each in Columbus, Toledo and Newark, N. J. It is also credited with having a controlling interest in a number of other large drygoods establishments.

B. & O. RAILROAD WANTS TO SPEND $1,000,000 HERE

Common Council Refers the Propositions to the Proper Committees.

WILL OBVIATE CROSSINGS

Railroad Asks for Most of Second Avenue from Allegheny Avenue to City Line—Another Big Project Planned for Downtown District.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company has plans and appropriations made for improvements in the Pittsburgh district which will cost $1,100,000 at the outset. Later a heavy additional expenditure is planned which arranges to throw the present line of the Baltimore & Ohio on the line of Second avenue, between Laughlin Junction and Hazelwood avenue.

Much of the plan was presented to the common branch of Pittsburgh councils at the meeting last night in ordinances, which provide for the city giving the railroad additional wharf rights near the present station, and also for a complete change of the present lines, between Allegheny avenue, in Glenwood, and the city line, a distance of over two and a half miles.

The plans for changes throw the main line of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in this section nearer the river line. On the inside of these tracks it is proposed by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad to provide an improved street 40 feet wide. Now the street is of little value for a long stretch, except for the use of the United Traction Company branch of the Pittsburgh Railways Company.

Presented in Council.

One ordinance presented in common council last night provides for the new site for a $500,000 passenger station for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, names the following conditions: That the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and its underlying interest, the Pittsburgh & Connellsville Railroad Company, move its present station building, so as to abut on the south line of the roadway of Water street, at a distance of 100 feet east of the easterly line of Smithfield street; that the railroad company construct a stone retaining wall 15½ feet southerly from the south line of Water street and from Smithfield street to the east line of Grant street, the stone wall to be brought to an elevation the same as the roadway of Water street; that the railroad interests construct a new freight station, abutting on the southerly line of Water street, between the present passenger station, when removed, and the present freight house on the easterly line of Grant street, that the railroad construct a new passenger station, with offices abutting on Smithfield street, between the line of the retaining wall and the harbor line of the Monongahela river, and construct tracks and trainsheds supported on pillars between said passenger station and the east line of Grant street. Further provision is made that a public landing be maintained between the east line of Grant street and Smithfield street and that the southerly line of Grant street be located.

What B. & O. Offers.

In consideration of this the railroad interests are to pay the city $4,000 a year, which is an addition of $1,000 on the present annual rental for wharf rights. A further condition for the protection of the railroad company is that if it has to pay damages the rental is to be suspended. This ordinance was presented by Edward J. Edwards of the Second ward, and was referred to the committee on corporations.

The second matter presented for the approval of councils in the interest of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad was in the shape of a contract of the Pittsburgh & Connellsville Railroad Company and its investor interest, the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, with the Pittsburgh Railways Company. It indicates that the tracks of the railroad and the traction lines now cross at grade at points between Allegheny avenue and the city line along Second avenue and that under existing conditions the thoroughfare is impassable for vehicles, and both interests desire to relocate the present tracks. The railroad proposes to occupy most of Second avenue between Allegheny avenue and the city line, and agrees to relocate the street, grade and pave it and build a curb and necessary retaining wall, with the understanding with the city that the street car interest is allowed to occupy the new street for its tracks. This was presented by W. H. Baker of the Twenty-third ward, and was referred to the committee on surveys.

The Downtown Scheme.

The railroad interests have also a plan, now in abeyance, which would throw its present lines downtown and along Second avenue, on the present street, between Hazelwood avenue and Laughlin Junction. At Laughlin Junction the railroad would connect with its present tracks overhead. Its present right of way would become the street and the street would be occupied by the railroad.

This matter now goes over at the instance of Jones & Laughlins, ltd. These interests have improved plans and property in this section, which they think would be injured by the change and the engineers of both interests are now figuring on a compromise arrangement.

In its new line, the Baltimore & Ohio railroad plans a four-track system, the improvement to cost about $800,000. This does not include the planned changes between Hazelwood and the city proper. Robert Pitney, general agent of the Baltimore & Ohio, said yesterday that in a year three people were killed and 13 injured at two of the grade crossings, which it is proposed to abolish.

The new passenger station of the Baltimore & Ohio is planned to be 100 by 350 feet, seven stories high, and of modern construction with brick and terra cotta exterior. The present passenger station is to be moved over to Water street and from the freight office building in front of an extension, 125 by 400 feet, to be made to the present freight house.

The train shed is to be extended 160 feet and revised plans provide for two arches under the passenger station to obviate objection of the river interests.

Another Term for Van Sant.

ST. PAUL, MINN., June 30.—Many delegates have arrived for tomorrow's Republican state convention and all the candidates have opened headquarters. Gov. Van Sant's renomination has been assured for several months, and it is considered probable that the platform will take cognizance of his action in seeking to enforce the law against railroad combinations.

MORE STRIKERS BREAKING RANKS

ENGINEERS RETURN TO WORK FOR DELAWARE & HUDSON.

Sixteen Men Arrested, Charged With Disorderly Conduct in Panther Creek Valley—Pumpmen Back at Work at Pittston.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., June 30.—Notwithstanding the strike leaders reported today that all strikers were standing firm, the superintendents of the Delaware and Hudson collieries in the Wyoming region announced that all the engineers of that company are now at work. The strike leaders acknowledge that the Delaware and Hudson company has many engineers at work.

The local coal operators ridicule the statement credited to T. D. Nichols, president of District No. 1, United Mine Workers, to the effect that the United Mine Workers will make an appeal to the governor for troops to protect the strikers and the people in general from the brutality of the coal and iron police.

The Citizens' alliance of Wilkesbarre offers rewards aggregating $5,000 for the arrest and conviction of all persons engaged in boycotting, hanging effigies and other criminal acts of intimidation. A reward of $1,000 is offered for the arrest and conviction of any one who enters into a conspiracy to boycott any individual, firms, or corporation. For hanging anybody in effigy $500 reward will be paid.

HAZLETON, PA., June 30.—Copies of the following notice were distributed among the striking miners at the Harwood colliery this morning:

"With a view of ending what we deem a hopeless and uncalled for strike, an opportunity of resuming work at our Harwood colliery is hereby offered to our employes. Let every inside man who wants to begin work quietly notify the general inside foreman, and let every outside man notify the outside foreman. When a majority of the adult inside and outside men signify their desire to begin work this colliery will be started. Foremen will not make known the names of those applying for work. CRIDER & COMPANY."

Several hundred strikers stationed along the roads leading to the Drifton colliery of Coxe Bros. & Co. this morning turned back all men who reported for work with the exception of the clerks and the passenger crews of the Delaware, Susquehanna & Schuylkill railroad. The strikers and the Coxe deputies came together on the Freeland borough line. When Sheriff Jacobs arrived the men dispersed.

MRS. JAMES K. CLARKE ONCE MORE A BRIDE

An Erie Man Who Became Interested in Her Divorce Case Weds Her in Washington.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—The divorced wife of James King Clarke of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Esther Bartlett Clarke of this city, was quietly married here at noon today at the home of her father to Lyman T. Whitehead of Erie. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead left Washington for a northern trip before going to their home at Erie.

The romance which ended today began two years ago, it is said, when Mr. Whitehead, while visiting in Pittsburgh, attended a session of court when the divorce suit of James King Clarke against the bride of today was on trial. Mr. Whitehead became interested in the defendant. He thought her unjustly treated and sought an introduction to her. An attachment followed, with today's wedding as the result.

The notoriety attending the Pittsburgh divorce suit and subsequent proceedings resulted today in every effort being made by the bride's family to keep all particulars of the second marriage from the press. The bride's father declined to be seen by any one and all the servants were pledged to secrecy, while the bride's brother successfully evaded the reporters. For this reason the name of the clergyman who performed the ceremony could not be ascertained.

It will be recalled that after Mrs. Clarke obtained her divorce last fall on the ground of desertion The Gazette had an exclusive interview with Mr. Bartlett in which he declared that his daughter had no intention of ever remarrying; that she had a broken heart, and that her family were very solicitous about her health.

FOR THE CONVENTION.

Local Endeavorers Are Completing Last Details of the Preparations.

The committee on arrangements for the annual state convention of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor union to be held here July 8, 9 and 10 has completed every detail necessary to the success of the event. A final meeting will be held the latter part of this week to sum up the work already done and make some changes on the program. Harry W. Kellar, state secretary of the union, states that this year's convention promises to be most successful.

A circular has been sent out from the district headquarters to the ushers who are to look after the comfort of the thousands of Endeavorers who will gather here during the convention, instructing them as to their duties and the exact hour of the various rallies. Finley T. Jamison and R. G. Armstrong are the chief ushers. They will have as assistant chiefs W. C. Bollen, W. Harvey Thomas, Will W. Nesbit, J. M. Ryall, Howard Neely, J. F. Conner, R. T. Griffith, J. K. Wassell, W. C. Colvin, Charles H. Stewart, J. F. Williamson, F. M. Wilson, G. H. Hurlbut and C. H. Glasser.

TWO DEATHS MAY RESULT FROM A BLOODY FIGHT

Both Participants Are Now in Pittsburgh Hospitals for Treatment.

GUNS AND KNIVES USED

Luke Tangi Disemboweled Joseph Thomas at Bower Hill With a Knife and Was Shot by Officers While Resisting Arrest.

Two deaths will be the result of a row at Bower Hill yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. One of the men is Luke Tangi, 24 years of age, who was shot in the abdomen and badly beaten about the head while resisting arrest for his assault on Joseph Thomas, 28 years of age, whom he cut about the face and in the abdomen. Both were brought to the city and taken to hospitals.

The men have been employed on the Wabash railroad and the trouble commenced when the men quit work and went to the boarding house of Tony Bell for supper. While getting ready for the meal the men quarreled about some money. Thomas was foreman of a gang and had some money stolen from the boarding house. He accused Tangi of taking it, and Tangi slashed him across the face with a knife.

The man, blinded by the blood, staggered about the yard, and while helpless Tangi went to him and deliberately cut him across the abdomen. Thomas dropped to the ground, Tangi standing over him. Two girls employed in the house went to him to give assistance and Tangi cut them both slightly on the arms. He then turned and fled.

Thomas was cared for by the men, who, when Tangi had gone, were ready to assist. Fear of his knife had prevented them from previously taking any part. An hour later Dr. S. C. McGarvey, the Wabash physician, arrived, and seeing that Thomas' intestines were out, and that he was in a serious condition, did what he could for him and had him sent to Pittsburgh.

It was nearly three hours after the cutting when Officers R. M. McMullin and John Shriver of Bridgeville heard of the affray. They went in pursuit of Tangi, whom they located up a tree not far from the boarding house. When he saw the officers he dropped to the ground and started to run. They followed, commanding that he surrender.

Tangi heeded not, so they commenced to shoot. This brought Tangi to a stop, although he was not hit, and much to the surprise of the officers when they approached Tangi he drew a pistol and began to shoot at them. Both of them then fired at him and he dropped, shot in the abdomen. He still resisted arrest and was beaten over the head.

Tangi was taken to the lock-up at Bridgeville, where he was examined by Dr. S. J. S. Fife. The wound in his abdomen was found to be a serious one, as he was bleeding internally, so he, too, was sent to Pittsburgh. He was received at the Homeopathic hospital at 11 o'clock, and was then almost in a state of collapse. It could not be told last night whether he would live until morning.

Thomas was taken to Mercy hospital. He was severely cut on the thigh, at the lower part of the abdomen on the pelvis and on the face from the top of his head to his chin. His condition is very serious.

HOUSE SAVES PHILIPPINES

ment for its handling of the case of an American citizen. Dr. Scott, and reflected on the competency of Judge Penfield, solicitor of the department. Mr. Beveridge characterized the words of the Texas senator as an "unwarranted attack." This characterization Mr. Bailey regarded as an insult and demanded that the Indiana senator withdraw his words.

Mr. Beveridge declined to withdraw them unless Mr. Bailey first withdrew his language in respect to Solicitor Penfield, although he disclaimed any intention of insulting Mr. Bailey.

Mr. Bailey also declared that Powell Clayton, United States ambassador to Mexico, was either incompetent or dishonest.

Early in the session Mr. Elkins delivered an earnest speech in favor of the annexation of Cuba, maintaining that it would be in the best interests of both countries. Mr. Elkins, in closing, declared too much had been said about what we owe to Cuba and how much depends upon our relations with the island. He added:

A Fling at Secretary Root.

"Our able secretary of war, who conquers with his cold and frosty intellect and never has a hot thought, never was swayed by passion in his life, deliberately wrote down these words in his report: 'The peace of Cuba is necessary to the peace of the United States.' Now, who on earth believes that?"

He continued to ridicule the idea, which, he said, permeated statements in the senate, saying that it was "extravagant talk and it was everywhere. It is all through the country. It is epidemic."

Mr. Elkins' remarks drew a sharp fire from Mr. Platt of Connecticut and Mr. Hanna of Ohio, who deprecated any annexation proposition at this time, and urged that the United States ought to be sensible of its obligations to the civilized world, if not to Cuba.

After a lively colloquy, in which Gen. Wood was criticised, by inference, for using Cuban funds to advance the reciprocity propaganda, Mr. Elkins' resolution for annexation was referred to the Cuban relations committee.

Among the many bills passed was one giving Rear Admiral Schley the pay and allowance of a rear admiral on the active list of the navy.

Mr. Scott of West Virginia, requested consideration of his joint resolution providing for a survey of the isthmus of Darien for canal purposes, but it was referred to the committee on interoceanic canals.

The house passed the Dick bill to reorganize the militia of the states by a vote of 180 to 28. Just before adjourning for the night the naval bill was sent back to conference, the item still in dispute being the provision to build certain warships in government yards.

TOLD TO LEAVE THE CITY

Local Anarchists Have Received Orders From the Police Bureau.

The Pittsburgh anarchists have been notified to leave this city. Detectives Richard Kelly and George Waggoner served notice on them yesterday that their presence would not be tolerated here for the present. They have to leave the city this week. In addition to this the anarchists residing in the surrounding districts have been warned they will not be allowed in the city limits for the next six days. The Pittsburgh detectives and the secret service operatives have been watching the movements of the anarchists for the past two weeks. If any of them are found in the city during the specified time they will be arrested and locked up as suspicious persons.

About a week ago Superintendent Philip Demmel detailed Detectives Kelly and Waggoner to go among anarchists and notify them to leave Pittsburgh during this week. The detectives went to the residence of Harry Gordon at No. 708 Wylie avenue and conveyed this information to him last week. He had been away on a lecturing tour with Miss Nettie Robbins, the well-known anarchist lecturer. Recently they have been in Paterson, N. J. Last week they came to this city and Detectives Kelly and Waggoner went to them and told them they would not be allowed in Pittsburgh during this week. Both agreed to leave Pittsburgh at once.

Last week Detective Kelly went to Coal Valley and informed the anarchists there they could not come to Pittsburgh this week. He took a well-known anarchist with him and the two went among the "reds" of that vicinity and conveyed these orders to them. In every instance they agreed to remain away.

It was the intention of Miss Nettie Robbins to deliver a lecture in Pittsburgh this week. It was learned yesterday by the detectives that with Harry Gordon she will lecture in Youngstown, O., instead. Miss Robbins took the place among the anarchists that was formerly held by Emma Goldman. This lecture will be for the benefit of the Berkman release fund.

The anarchists in Allegheny have also been notified. Detectives Kelly and Waggoner went among their homes in Butchers run last week and gave them warning they could not come to Pittsburgh on penalty of being arrested as suspicious persons. There are some 200 anarchists in and about Pittsburgh, including Italians, Hungarians and Poles. Most of them are employed in the mills on the South Side and Woods run.

HOMES ROBBED AT ROCHESTER

Thieves Got Away With $250 and Large Amount of Silverware.

SPREAD FEAST ON PORCH

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROCHESTER, PA., June 30.—Last night thieves were busy here and many houses were entered. At the residence of John Elliott in Madison street they secured $250 from C. H. Wright, the superintendent in charge of the building of the dam between this place and Freedom. At the residence of Frank L. Robinson in Kentucky avenue they secured over $250 worth of silver and a considerable quantity of clothing.

At the Robinson residence they enjoyed a feast on the front porch, the menu including edibles which they had stolen from other residences. They were evidently a nervy set, as the porch is in full view of the street and is lighted by the street lights.

At Freedom half a dozen residences were visited, but no money or silverware was secured. At Baden the residence of Postmaster M. L. Strock was entered and the silverware on the sideboard placed in a pile on the floor. As it was left there, it is thought the thieves were frightened away.

Dynamite Exploded Under House.

UNIONTOWN, PA., June 30.—(Special.)—A lot of dynamite was exploded under house No. 10 at the Bessemer coke works last night, while the house was full of people. The explosion tore out the side of the house and blew away the floor where a child was sleeping in its cradle. The child escaped without a scratch, and none of the people was seriously injured.

Neck Broken By a Belt.

CORRY, PA., June 30.—(Special.)—Jady Cole was killed at the plant of the Maple Boring Machine Company this afternoon. He was under the building placing rosin on the rapidly moving belts when his head was caught by one of the belts and his neck broken. He was about 30 years old and leaves a family.

B. & O. PREPARING FOR NEW BUSINESS

Plans for Handling Traffic of United States Steel Corporation.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LORAIN, O., June 30.—Following closely upon the visit of President Charles M. Schwab of the United States Steel Corporation to this place, came President Loree of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad today. The railroad and steel companies' interests here are closely identified. It is understood that the Baltimore & Ohio people will put their property in such shape here as to be able to satisfactorily handle the additional business of the steel company, which will come with the improvements promised by Mr. Schwab.

A member of the party said: "President Loree thinks a great deal of this point and expects to develope things here. He expects to send here all the West Virginia coal possible. The facilities will be put in such shape as to handle all the coal that can be shipped. The property above the Nickle Plate was purchased for new docks. The plans have not yet been completed, but the details are now being worked out, and the work of construction will be started as soon as possible."

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

UNIONTOWN, PA.—A live wire, supply an electric mining machine in the Pittsburgh Coal Company's mine at Whitsett, killed John Lawrence last night.

SHARON, PA.—O. D. Grove, 25 years old, was killed by a train in the yards of the Sharon Steel Company. He was employed as a brakeman in one of the yard crews.

CUMBERLAND, MD.—Joseph Ray Irons, aged 11, the son of J. B. Irons of Morgantown, W. Va., died last night on the Baltimore & Ohio Duquesne limited as the train was nearing Rockwood, Pa. Death was due to hydrophobia.

TITUSVILLE, PA.—Lee Hays, aged 21, died Sunday evening from smallpox. Nine others of the family are in the pest house, near their home in Garland, most of them in a critical condition.

BUTLER, PA.—Mrs. Catherine Bailey of Clarion county has brought suit against Butler borough to recover $10,000 damages for injuries sustained on a defective sidewalk. The plaintiff alleges she was tripped by a loose plank, sustaining a fracture of the hip.

INQUIRY BOARD FOR A BISHOP

Talbot's Case Will Be Taken Up by Ecclesiastical Grand Jury.

TO MEET IN HARRISBURG

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, June 30.—To determine whether or not Bishop Talbot of the Central Pennsylvania diocese of the Episcopal church shall be placed on trial for conduct unbecoming a bishop a board of inquiry will convene on Wednesday at the parish house of St. Stephen's church, this city. The proceedings against Bishop Talbot are the result of the dismissal of the Rev. Dr. Ingram N. W. Irvine as rector of St. John's church, Huntingdon, for conduct unbecoming a clergyman. Dr. Irvine was tried and convicted and then deposed from the ministry, although the aid of a court of equity was invoked unsuccessfully, both to prevent the trial and the deposition.

The board of inquiry acts much like a grand jury. Bishop Talbot will not be present, nor will he be represented by counsel. The charges against him are preferred by two clergymen and two laymen of Philadelphia and by three laymen from Huntingdon.

The sitting of the board will be private, and if the evidence is sufficient to justify the board in directing that the bishop be tried, the case will be referred to Bishop Dudley of Kentucky, who will take the necessary steps for the trial.

Should a majority of the board decide that there is not sufficient ground to put the accused bishop upon trial, the charges, together with a certificate of the board of its refusal to make presentment, must be sent to the secretary of the house of bishops to be deposited among its archives, and no further proceedings may be had upon the charges, except upon affidavit of a communicant of the discovery of new testimony as to the facts charged and setting forth what such testimony is.

MEASURES FOR REVENUE WERE PUT THROUGH

cil for some time, the machine having been able to prevent suspension of the rules on them several times, but last night they were passed. They will now be messaged to select council, and will presumably be held up for the usual length of time in the rump committee on finance of that body. But they will come out sooner or later, and the machine forces there will be compelled to go squarely on record regarding them.

The ordinances are as follows: Providing for the weighing of coal on city scales and fixing a fee for the same; providing for the election of a dockmaster and fixing his salary at $900 per annum; providing for the election of a city gauger and assistant city gauger at salaries of $1,500 and $1,000, respectively; providing for the appointment of four revenue officers by the city controller at salaries of $85 a month each. They passed finally last night by the following vote:

Ayes—Messrs. Baldauf, Barker, Beckert, Beehner, Bole, Brown, D. F. Crawford, Fitzpatrick, Hughes, Jack, Lamb, Lauler, David Lewis, Martin, McNeil, Thomas O'Brien, Reitz, Schuck, Shaw, Shearer, Sterratt, Stevenson, Walls, Woods, Zeuger and President Crawford.—26.

Nays—Armstrong, Barr, Brand, Cabert, Cross, Delaney, Edwards, Leslie, John Lewis, Moore, McNally, Rodgers, Semmelroch, Sheehan—15.

From the Controller.

The following communication was received from Controller John B. Larkin, and was received and filed:

Pittsburgh, June 30, 1902.

To the Honorable Members of the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh.

Gentlemen:—The presentation of interest bills to contractors and banks to whom assignments of contracts have been made, recalls a request made by this office some years ago for the modification of an ordinance passed May, 1892, granting contractors or assigns interest on the face of their contracts from the time their work is regarded by the city as completed.

Such claims form no part of city's indebtedness, but arise from delay of fixing cost to the property abutting on streets recently paved and for the construction of sewers by direction of department of public works. The cost of these improvements is apportioned by a board of viewers appointed by court, and subject to appeal and delay, covering in many cases two or three years; meantime, the city pays interest on the whole cost from completion of work until the owners of abutting property have had 30 days' notice from city treasurer of pro rated cost. The appropriation to that interest fund this year is $50,000, all of which, if required, may be taken from the treasury to meet obligations in which the general public is only incidentally interested, inasmuch as the city cannot collect interest from the owners of property during the adjustment, it seems clearly equitable that when the adjustment is made it should include the interest as a part of the total cost and judgment in default should be against the owners of property, and not against the city.

City Shouldn't Pay.

The contractor has his equity and should get interest on the face of his contract from the time the work is completed, but the city, it seems to me, is not justified in charging Fifth, Sixth or Seventh avenue owners with interest incurred in improving Fourth avenue.

In other words, one class of people should not be compelled to pay any portion of the cost involved in the improvement of the property of another class. Independent of these considerations there is no provision for the increase of the interest bearing debt, and none can be made without consent of the people at the polls through submission to them of the proposed increase, as provided by law. If the city can be made pay interest on a debt for improvement of its streets, it has the same right to improve its public service in the same manner, and thus increase the public debt indefinitely without consulting the people who pay it.

It would be unfair to those holding existing contracts to refuse to meet assumed obligations, but some means should be taken to secure to all concerned a just and equitable arrangement whereby those who loan their credit are protected against loss. Unless this is done this office must give notice that all contracts made after January 1, 1903, must depend for interest charges on the property improved, unless the courts reverse the ruling of the controller. Respectfully submitted,

J. B. LARKIN,
Controller.

Favor the Increase.

Ordinances increasing the salaries of the city police, the city detectives, and certain employes of the bureau of highways and sewers, came from the finance committee with an affirmative recommendation, and the request that they be referred to the special committee on revision of salaries, which is preparing an ordinance fixing the salaries of all city employes. W. H. Stevenson, chairman of the committee, made a motion that the ordinances be referred to this committee, and this was bitterly fought by Armstrong and Leslie, but they were finally so referred, by a vote of 24 to 16.

John J. Hughes of the Fifth ward presented a resolution that Roger O'Mara, formerly chief of detectives, and Sol. Coulson, formerly assistant superintendent of police, and for a time superintendent of detectives, be recalled to the active list for July 4, and be assigned to the task of protecting the president. Half a dozen members spoke on the matter, and after a great deal of raillery, the resolution was so amended as to request the department of public safety to assign them to such duty, and was adopted. The intention is to have Coulson ride at the head of the mounted police in his well-known regimentals and dignity, and for O'Mara to take charge of all precautions for the president's safety, as he did for 25 years during the visits of various notables to Pittsburgh.

To Enforce the Penalty.

A resolution which had passed select council yesterday afternoon was messaged over, asking that the city solicitor enter suit against the Pittsburgh Junction railroad to enforce the penalty of $20 a day for each engine using bituminous coal, according to the provision of the franchise ordinance passed in 1881, which prohibits the use of bituminous coal. The ordinance was introduced in select council by James J. Booth. After a great deal of debate, during which the resolution was opposed by John Lauler, Joseph Armstrong, William Brand and John F. Semmelroch, the further consideration was postponed until the next meeting.

A resolution was messaged over from select council after passage there, directing the city to enter into a contract with James Rees & Sons for the repair of a fire engine at a cost not to exceed $1,500. The resolution was opposed by Messrs. Becker and Reitz, and on motion of William Brand of the Seventeenth ward, it was referred to a committee of three, President Crawford appointed on this committee Messrs. Brand, Beckert and Reitz. It was stated that Rees & Sons is the only firm in the city that can bid on this work, and that they are compelled to have special tools made for the purpose. The objection to the ordinance was raised because Rees & Sons are reported to have agreed to do the work for a sum less than the estimated cost.

On the call of the wards, the following papers were presented: By Mr. McNally—An ordinance for the grading, paving and curbing of Henry street. By Mr. Armstrong—An ordinance giving the Garrison Foundry Company the privilege of constructing a switch track; by Mr. Shearer—An ordinance locating the grade of Haverhill street.

The Garbage Contract.

The ordinance authorizing the city recorder and director of public safety to advertise for bids for the collection and disposal of garbage for the four years beginning July 1, 1903, when the contract with the Pittsburgh Reduction Company expires, came from the finance committee with an affirmative recommendation, and a motion to suspend the rules for the final passage of the ordinance was made. The machine members adhered solidly to the Flinn interests, and voted against the suspension of the rules, with the result that the motion to suspend the rules was lost by a vote of 26 to 15, a two-thirds vote being required.

The following measures were messaged over from select council and were passed finally: Repealing the location of Denniston avenue, Penfield street and Wellesley avenue; locating Penfield street, Albemarle avenue and Shetland street.

President C. S. Crawford announced that according to an existing ordinance no regular sessions of councils are held during the months of July and August, and for that reason, there would be no further regular meetings until the second Monday of September. All meetings held during the interim will, therefore, be special meetings, and the chair announced that there will be a special meeting next Monday night.

Select council's regular session yesterday was notable chiefly because there was no contention. Over 100 measures were passed finally, and each one by an unanimous vote. There was the usual jugging of measures from the legal to the illegal committees, and vice versa, but it is now done with such ease that President John S. Lambie is familiar with them.

James J. Booth of the Fourteenth ward presented and had passed under a suspension of the rules a resolution directing the city solicitor to bring suits against the Junction Railway Company to recover the penalty of $20 a day for violating the use of bituminous coal. It will now go to common council. Other new bills presented were ordinances for grading, paving and curbing Mellon street and establishing the grade of Shetland street. A joint resolution adopted by the common branch for a committee to confer with the Pennsylvania railroad authorities in relation to placing floors on bridges over certain streets on the South Side to prevent cinders falling through, was concurred in and Mr. Sankey and Mr. Schlernitzauer were appointed to act with three members of the common branch. The report of the committee to investigate the shortage of water last spring was received and filed without comment.

Among the new bills passed were the ordinances authorizing the letting of contracts for the improvements in the parks, aggregating $150,000. These ordinances passed common council weeks ago, but were held up in select by the rump committee on parks.

The rump committee on parks reported affirmatively the ordinance of the Duquesne Street Railway Company for rights of way on Grant street from Water street to Seventh avenue, on New Grant street to Liberty avenue on Seventh avenue to Smithfield street and for connections with the Consolidated and United Traction companies on the intersecting streets on Smithfield and Grant streets. It was referred to the joint committee.

Will Move the Engine House.

The select committee on public safety reported affirmatively a resolution for the removal of No. 23 Engine house, and negatively the ordinance authorizing letting a contract for a repair shop. A resolution to pay for extra work on the Eighth street engine house and an ordinance authorizing the repair of an engine were passed finally.

The rump committee on finance reported affirmatively fixing a license fee of $75 a year for tracks and switches; regulating the wages of mechanics at the union scale; requiring inspectors and supervisors of plumbing, bricklaying and other like work to be skilled mechanics and to be certified as such; letting a contract for the improvement of the lower Bedford basin to establish a recreation park. With some resolutions for claims and tax releases they were all passed.

The committees on public works and surveys reported a lot of street improvement ordinances, all of which were passed. President Lambie said no meetings would be held in July or August unless called specially.

"ipper" Law Decision Denounced at State Meeting of Attorneys.

ITSBURGHERS PRESENT

ciation of Lawyers at Cambridge Springs Hears a Number of Proposed Laws, Some of Which Were Originated by Allegheny Jurists.

By JAMES HARTLEY MERING, Staff Correspondent.

Cambridge Springs, Pa., June 30.—tsburgh and Allegheny county figed prominently in the proceedings the eighth annual meeting of the nsylvania Bar association, arsely, by President Simpson's at on the "ripper" bill and conseat decisions by the supreme court; mmendably, through the report of committee on law reform, which mmends the extension of rules of originated by Judge Sterrit, to to every county in the state, and an egulating the admission of expert ony to conform to the ideas of the dge J. W. F. White.

esident Alexander Simpson, Jr., of ladelphia at the meeting this afternon delivered an address with particular erence to statutary changes in the e of public interest and needed ges suggested by judicial decisions ng the year, in which he scored the reme court for its decision in the sburgh "ripper" act and denied the slative right to appropriate money colted from taxpayers to certain charities. esident Simpson sounded a note of ning against the rapid increase of apriations by the legislature, and espey against furnishing funds for char- institutions whose organizations are efines used to further the ambitions politicians.

CONTROLLER WILL REFUSE PAYMENT

WORK DONE ON CITY STREETS INVOLVED IN LABOR TROUBLE.

Union of Pavers and Rammers, Now on Strike, Complains to John B. Larkin of Alleged Illegality in Having Work Done.

Controller John B. Larkin will hold up the voucher that will be presented for certain repair work done on Liberty street and Fifth avenue. He will do this as the result of a complaint made to him by the business agent of the local union of pavers and rammers. The complaint resulted from an attempt by Director J. Guy McCandless to break the strike of rammers and pavers who are in city employ. The union is also threatening to take revenge on Booth & Flinn for assisting the city to get some work done and putting "scab" labor at work on city streets.

Nearly three weeks ago the rammers and pavers, under the direction of Supt. John Battles of the bureau of highways and sewers, asked higher wages, and when they could not get them they promptly struck. The pavers asked an increase from $4.25 to $4.50 a day and the rammers asked an increase from $2.50 to $2.75 a day. The wages they asked were the union scale of wages, and at that time there was an ordinance pending in councils providing that all mechanics in the city employ should receive union wages. This was explained to the striking employes, and it was asserted that nothing could be done until this ordinance was passed. They adhered to their determination to strike, declaring that their organization did not countenance their working for less than union wages.

This thoroughly tied up the repair of streets with block or cobblestone. The strikers were quietly awaiting the passage of the ordinance, which finally occurred yesterday afternoon, when they learned that some city repair work was being done on Liberty street and out Fifth avenue. They investigated and found that rammers and pavers on the pay roll of Booth & Flinn were working there, but were not able to learn under what circumstances the work was being done.

Andrew Hurney was at the head of a delegation representing the union that called on Controller Larkin yesterday in regard to the matter. They were unable to inform the controller whether the work was being done under a contract with Boot & Flinn or whether the firm of contractors was lending enough men to the city to take the places of the strikers. It is said that the men in the employ of Booth & Flinn are not affiliated with the union and a number of them are foreigners. Controller Larkin told the delegation that he would do whatever is possible, and no matter what the circumstances may be found to be the situation is such that the controller will be justified in not paying for the work.

If the work was done by contract the controller will refuse payment, because the awarding of the contract was not authorized by councils, as was necessary. If the men were simply loaned to the city by the contractors payment will be refused on the ground that the men have not been residents of the city long enough to come within the terms of the ordinance and of the state law regulating the employment of men by the city.

Director McCandless said yesterday afternoon that there were certain places along Liberty street that were out of repair and that he had instructed Supt. Battles to take bids and have the work done by contract, as it is the desire of the director to have in good repair the streets over which the presidential parade will pass on July 4.

DELIGHTFUL MACKINAC.

A Summer Outing to the Grand and Pleasing Resorts of Michigan by the Pennsylvania Lines.

From the heat and dirt of Pittsburgh to the ideal summer resorts of Michigan in a day is only made possible by the incomparable service of the Pennsylvania lines. Leave Pittsburgh at 8 in the morning, with your breakfast if you have had the time, and if you have not then eat it in the dining car en route. Pleasant, dustless traveling during the day, a comfortable night in a sleeper going up the peninsula, and in the morning Petoskey, Mackinac and the appetizing meal at the Grand hotel.

Not a change of cars from your home to the center of the section that is sought after by tourists more this year than ever before. Harbor Springs and resorts on Little Traverse Bay may be reached for breakfast by simply stepping from the Pittsburgh-Petoskey car into through cars running from the latter point.

The return through car arrangement is equally convenient. Passengers may start from the Northern Michigan end of the line in the morning and be in Pittsburgh the next morning. The train leaves Mackinaw at 8:15 a. m., and runs directly through to Pittsburgh, arriving at 7:45 a. m. with no change of cars.

Petoskey is not the only place in Michigan by any means, but because of its situation is made a natural center by means of the excellent train service of the Pennsylvania lines and the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad. The resorts of Michigan appeal to the tourist solely upon their merits as a place of rest, good climate, opportunities for diversion and agreeable social colonies.

As did the Indian every summer, so does now the Pittsburgher. The lake region of Michigan was the summer home of the Indian tribes because of the health-giving waters; because of the game that everywhere abounded; because of the streams alive with fish, and because of the beautiful days and invigorating nights made strengthening by the breezes blowing from the pine.

For Pittsburghers there are the same attractions. The skies are just as blue as they were when the red man trod the forest paths, the game is there in plenty for the hunter who is willing to seek it, the lakes and streams apparently hold just as many of the finny tribes, and the waters of health are there for all. It has but to be sought to be obtained in as great an abundance and variety as in the days of the Indian.

Plenty of Pittsburghers can be found near Petoskey. Going up Crooked river one of the prettiest places is Pittsburgh landing. Not far away is Indian Point or Burt Inlet, the home of the Argonaut club of Pittsburgh. A fine club house is in course of construction.

For health and pleasure, for an ideal summer vacation, go to Petoskey. Then you will return mentally and physically refreshed, and better able to attend to business. But by all means go on the through service of the Pennsylvania lines. You will then be pleased from the time you leave home until you return.

Safety Assured.

A savings account in the Pennsylvania Trust Company of Pittsburgh, 410 Smithfield street, paying 4 per cent compound interest, will give you a feeling of absolute security, because the safety of your money is assured by a capital and surplus of $800,000. You can begin with $1.

UNITED STATES STILL A FRIEND OF THE CHINESE

Again Stands in the Way of the Grasping Powers of Europe.

GIVING UP OF TIEN-TSIN

Terms Proposed by the Diplomatic Corps at Peking So Hard That This Government Refuses by Cable to Accede to Them.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 30.—Again has the United States refused to accede to the plans by which the powers are making China's burden heavier for her to bear.

Minister Conger today cabled the state department that the diplomatic corps at Peking had made a proposition to return Tien-tsin to the control of the Chinese government under certain conditions. Minister Conger named these conditions in his message, and although they were not made public, it was said at the state department that they were too onerous for the United States to agree to.

It is understood that one of the conditions under which the city is to be turned over to the Chinese, is that China shall maintain only a small military force there.

The United States tomorrow will receive its share of the first payment by China of the international indemnity for the outrages perpetrated during the Boxer insurrection. This country's share will be 540,000 Haikwan taels, or $400,000, and is interest on the $25,000,000 which the country will receive as its portion of the entire indemnity. The entire amount will be paid over by China tomorrow to all the powers will be $8,013,680.

The money paid the United States will be converted into the United States treasury and used as a trust fund for the settlement of claims arising out of the Boxer trouble.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

Senator Foraker's condition is improving.

New postoffices have been established in West Virginia at Gilfoily, Lewis county, Patrick E. Gilfoily, postmaster; Rand, Kanawha county, William N. Samples, postmaster.

Cyrus C. Wells, private secretary to the secretary of the navy, has resigned to take a position with the National City bank, of New York. His place will be filled by Fred L. Fishback, present confidential clerk and formerly Mr. Moody's secretary in congress.

The senate ratified the treaty with Great Britain permitting the government of Zanzibar to collect a duty of 10 per cent advalorem on articles imported into the country. This consent of the United States to this arrangement was made necessary by the fact that this country was a party to the conferences of Berlin and Brussels concerning trade with the Kongo basin.

The president has decided to protect the present occupants of the asphalt property in Venezuela the National Asphalt Company, from dispossession until the decision of the supreme court of Venezuela has been rendered and reviewed by the United States.

Among the recent changes among the employes of the interior department were the following: Lewis Jones of Ohio, promoted from $1,000 to $1,200 a year, and Samuel W. Malliotte of Ohio, from $1,200 to $1,400; George W. Morse of Pennsylvania, a special examiner at $1,000, resigned.

Frank shot first, the charge taking effect in the elbow of his brother. John was brought to the Allegheny general hospital, where his arm was amputated. Frank escaped.

Hellman Buried—The body of Andrew Hellman, the Mt. Washington dairyman who shot his wife and killed himself in their home in Owens street last Saturday, was buried yesterday afternoon in the West Liberty cemetery. The funeral was held from Beinhauer's chapel in South Eleventh street. Mrs. Hellman is still living, but her condition is said to be critical.

Backed Off Incline Car—A horse and wagon owned by Benjamin Americus of No. 1544 Clark street fell off the rear end of a car on the Seventeenth street incline yesterday morning. The wagon alighted on the incline trestle and then rolled off on the embankment. It was demolished, but the horse escaped with slight injuries. The driver, Samuel Marasoski, escaped.

Boxmakers' Picnic—An outing was given Saturday to the 135 employes of the Standard Box & Lumber Company, at Colonial grove, on the Evergreen road. The features were the baseball game between the boxmakers and sawyers, resulting in the boxmakers winning, 17 to 13, after which music and refreshments were served. In the evening there was a banquet at the Evergreen hotel.

Knocked Out by Burglar—Elmer Wilson of No. 97 Sloan street, Esplen, was knocked unconscious yesterday morning by a burglar in his home. The man gained entrance to the house by sawing out a panel in the kitchen door. Wilson was awakened by the noise the thief made opening bureau drawers. He jumped out of bed and tackled the man, who struck him with a black jack. The burglar escaped.

Died an Exile—Gustave Adolph von Wittznasch, 65 years old, is dead at the Allegheny city home, of which he had been an inmate for about three years. Wittznasch always claimed to be a member of a wealthy and ancient family in Germany, but had been exiled on account of his views on governmental reform. He had been in this country 15 years, and before going to the home was employed as a tanner.

Glass Worker's Lucky Injury—John Merkle, a window glass worker in the D. O. Cunningham plant in South Twenty-second street, was badly cut while working yesterday morning. He was taken to the South Side Hospital. Merkle's fellow workmen consider the accident as lucky for Merkle, as the glass houses closed down yesterday for the summer, and, as Merkle is a union man, he will receive pay from the union while injured.

Fire Hastens Consolidation—A meeting of the citizens of Whittaker will be held the latter part of this week to take steps to form a consolidation with the borough of Munhall. The meeting is the result of the fire at Whittaker on Saturday night, when $5,000 worth of property went up in smoke, while the fire company and citizens of the borough stood by and watched it, helpless to prevent it, owing to lack of water.

Three Hurt in Trolley Crash—In a trolley collision in Federal street, Allegheny, yesterday morning, Michael Feeney, motorman of Western avenue car No. 590, and John McFerron and his daughter were slightly injured by flying glass. The accident occurred near the Ft. Wayne railroad station and was caused by the Western avenue car crashing into Millvale car No. 195. The cars were crowded and the collision caused considerable excitement.

Strange Case at County Home—Herbert Bowen, who was employed on the Wabash railroad work at Carnegie, is at the county home at Woodville suffering from paralysis of the entire left side, and is also bereft of the power of speech and hearing. On Saturday he was found lying along the railroad apparently intoxicated. He was hauled to the Carnegie lockup in a wheelbarrow and from there sent to the county home. When he awoke he was paralyzed.

Said to be an Open Joint—William O'Hare of Wilkinsburg, William Price of Braddock and Joseph Gamble of McKeesport furnished $1,000 bail each for court yesterday on charges of keeping a gambling house and selling liquor without a license. The bail was furnished by a Braddock liquor dealer. Information was made by County Detective Robert G. Robinson. It is alleged that the men have been conducting one of the most open places in the state in a hollow near the West Braddock bridge.

Family Sorely Afflicted—Sadie and Nellie Berry, 7 and 9 years old, daughters of Patrick Berry, a mechanic employed at the Schoen car works, on Sunday were buried in Calvary cemetery. The children died last Thursday from pneumonia. Two more children of the same family, Joseph, 2 years old, and Margaret, 3 years old, are at present dangerously ill. The Berrys live in the Woods Run district, where it is reported an epidemic of sickness exists owing to the unsanitary condition of the district.

Is Too Swift for Them—No soda or cigars, no candy or fruit, and no newspapers on Sunday is the demand made of Burgess J. C. Miller of Homestead. There was a meeting last night in the Fourth Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, which was addressed by the Rev. O. B. Miller of the Pennsylvania reform bureau. W. E. Johnson, B. F. Stark and M. F. Power were appointed a committee to see Burgess Miller. Some of the church people call Homestead a wide open town, and say that what are called "blue laws" must be rigidly enforced.

A TRUE STORY.

(How a Young Wife Regained Her Health and Beauty.)

MR. W. E. BIRCH, Afton, Va., an extensive fruit grower of that place, writes the following letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio. We print the letter in part:

Afton, Va., June 4, 1900.

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen:—"I am glad to be able to say I have found one remedy that is everything and more than is claimed for it.

"My wife was very much run down and out of sorts in every way, she had a pelvic disorder which left her very weak, nervous and no appetite at all.

"One day I happened to be at my father's store, S. A. Birch, Coresville, Alb county, Va., and noticed your medicine there for sale.

"I thought it might help my wife so I brought a bottle of it home and within a week she commenced to eat and now she is hungry all the time and not half the medicine has been taken. We both agree that it beats any medicine to bring on an appetite and to put the nerves in good shape that we have ever had anything to do with. We had our family doctor to give her medicine and he did all he could, but she did not improve the least.

"She has consumption in her family and she was in such bad shape; so run down, nervous, weak, and could not eat, that I had begun to get very uneasy, but your medicine has made an entirely new woman of her. I believe she eats and feels better than she has for years."—W. E. BIRCH.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

We are pledged in honor to give reciprocity; we have taken our valuable consideration in advance; the fragment of the Republican party that blocks the pathway of duty and honor must be prepared to assume the full responsibility. We wonder, were the question statehood, would they indorse statehood, or offer some other substitute.

The Test of Fealty.

Common council has passed the five revenue ordinances suggested by Controller Larkin. The matter is now up to the select branch and its action in the premises will afford another test of its ability to profit by experience. Since the organization of councils last spring the machine control in the select branch has used every device to retard public business and to prevent the carrying out of policies indorsed by the people at the February election. These revenue ordinances are directly in line with the popular sentiment voted at that election and select council must go on record upon them.

No better opportunity will ever be offered the machine members of the so-called upper branch of city councils to redeem themselves in the eyes of the public. Their course during the spring has convinced many that popular rights will never be recognized as they should until they are again exercised at the polls. If the majority in select council desire to prove the contrary this is its opportunity. A large minority can be depended upon, in that body, to vote for these ordinances if given the opportunity and the test of fealty to the machine or the popular will is to be made upon the manner in which they are treated.

State Fight and National Issues.

The Democratic party in Pennsylvania elects to go before the people this fall with its record on national policies concealed from public inspection. This is not saying that the record will be concealed, but that the Democratic managers desire to conceal it. The Post is an organ and advocate of concealment. Therefore, it is interesting to note that in deprecating discussion of Bryan's influence in the next Democratic national convention the Post says, among other things:

> Two years will elapse before the convention meets, and 18 months before the election of delegates commences in the various states. In the interval an important national election takes place in all the states, and it may be a determining factor in the changing drifts of political opinion.

From which it is to be gathered that Democrats who speak with authority admit after all that state elections have a bearing on national issues, notwithstanding avoidance of them by the Democratic managers at the Erie convention. It is a great truth that it is no less for its influence on national politics than for the spoil of the state offices that the Democrats desire to carry Pennsylvania in November. Were they to do so we would hear more from the Post in one day concerning the influence of the Pennsylvania vote on national issues and on the fortunes of the Democratic party in the nation than we are likely to hear in the four months intervening between this and election day. We would probably hear, among other things, of Pattison as a presidential possibility. "The coming man is yet to appear," says the Post. Therefore the Post and the state Democracy, to help him to appear and to prevent a handicap, would keep national issues out of sight in the state campaign.

Wireless Telegraphy in Alaska.

Uncle Sam is arranging to bring wireless weather reports from his far-away Alaska outposts. Gen. Greely has entered into a contract for the erection of two wireless stations, connecting Fort Gibbon with Bates Rapids. The airline distance over the route which the wireless signals will, of course, travel, is 165 miles. The signal service already has a wired system from Nome City to Fort Gibbon, and other telegraphic connections which, with this wireless stretch, will form a complete circuit of signal stations from Bering sea down to the south coast.

The awarding of this contract, with the promise that the line will be in operation by the 1st of October, is a striking illustration of the advances made in wireless communication. The government manifests an intention of availing itself of the advantages of the method, and Alaska offers a fine field for demonstrating its efficiency. Perhaps it is too much to hope that with a modern improvement of this sort it will be possible to give us a better variety of weather than we have been receiving, or more accurate predictions concerning what we do get.

Maj. Gardener's Second Thought.

It is characteristic of the cheerful and open-hearted way that American government officials have of taking the whole country into their confidence that the war department permitted to become public the contents of the original report of Maj. Gardener, a document which that officer declares he considered to be strictly confidential. It was intended for Secretary Root's information and use, but the enemies of the administration have exploited it as a bill of indictment of high crimes and misdemeanors against the United States government and the army.

Maj. Gardener now wishes that he had not been so prompt in forwarding what he deemed important information, because he has since heard a great many things which would have caused him to modify the report in many particulars, and perhaps would have decided him not to send it at all. He told the investigators that he did not wish to bring before the court the alleged outrages committed by five soldiers, because they were p...ably not true. He has ascertained that the affidavits by which they were supported can not be depended upon, owing to an unfortunate tendency of Filipinos not to hold swearing of that sort as sacred as more civilized people regard judicial oaths.

Maj. Gardener's acknowledgment that he placed too much credence in the tales of the Filipinos is gratifying to the friends of the army. There have been, without doubt, isolated cases of cruelty, but investigation has disproved many allegations of this sort. On the other hand, there has been much unpatriotic exaggeration and eagerness to magnify such instances of cruelty as have been substantiated.

A Vigorous Address.

There was plenty of vigor and food for thought in the address of President Simpson of the State Bar association yesterday. His first theme was the appropriations made by the state in aid of quasi public charities, with special reference to the scandals in connection with them. Unquestionably there ought to be legal safeguards to prevent the "sandbagging" that has become prevalent in dealing with the charity appropriations.

The remainder of Mr. Simpson's address was devoted to the decisions of the supreme court affecting the classification of cities, counties and townships. He took the position of the minority that classification is illegal and contrary to the intent of the constitutional convention of 1873 and of the people when they adopted that instrument. His argument was well knit, bristling with points, logical and fair. It ought, at least, serve to set the public thinking and later to expressing its opinions upon a matter which so intimately affects the local self-government of communities.

No Handshaking.

President Roosevelt will be very generally commended for his determination not to become the victim of the handshaking practice in his journeyings through the country. It is quite a natural desire for the people to grasp the hand of their chief magistrate, and the omission of the opportunity may bring disappointment to many. But when it is considered that the habit entails not only great labor, but peril to the president, its omission will be approved by all thoughtful persons. President Roosevelt has never encouraged the habit since his occupancy of the White House and has been gradually working away from the practice that had gained such general observance during the terms of the late President McKinley. That exceedingly popular and affable chief executive was often counseled to avoid the wearisome and dangerous custom, but his gentle nature and frank confidence in the people induced him to permit thousands to press around him.

While Pittsburghers would be proud of the privilege of shaking hands with President Roosevelt next Friday, they will all concur in the judgment that sets aside the abused courtesy. They will give him just as cordial evidence of their pleasure at having him as a guest in some less questionable manner.

Senator Bailey's assault upon Senator Beveridge was only slightly less disgraceful than the outburst of Tillman, the difference being that the Texan had the decency to wait until the session was over. Senatorial dignity has been so shattered by frequent exhibitions of rowdyism that "senatorial courtesy" ranks no higher than the proverbial honor among rogues that teaches them to "hang together, lest they hang separately." The senate is in need of thorough reform to rid it of its ruffians and its equally disgraceful obstructionists.

No state in the union can boast of a more intelligent and capable body of legal advisers than the Keystone state. This means that the annual gathering of the State Bar association brings together an unusual and noteworthy group of lawyers, a fact that can be amply demonstrated by scanning the list of attorneys in attendance upon the meetings now in session at Cambridge Springs.

When the Pennsylvania State Teachers' association fixed the time and place for its annual convention it acted with wonderful foresight. The convention's labors will be ended in time to permit participation in one of the finest Fourth of July celebrations ever witnessed.

The weather man has all his plans perfected for taking to the tall grass in the event that he fails to pull off a bright day on the Fourth.

So long as the fish bite well Mr. Cleveland can afford to worry through the summer without reading the Commoner.

The gentlemen who obstructed Cuban reciprocity will have a hard time of it trying to explain to their constituents.

If July tries to do the work left undone by June we ought to have quite a warm time of it.

Washington, D. C., is on the verge of its annual return to the habits of a country village.

Hereafter the appendicitis victim may extract some comfort from calling it perityphlitis.

The picnic industry has been dealt a sad blow by the eccentricities of June's weather.

The "June rise" made another narrow escape from having to change its name.

We shall sadly miss the sporting department of the Congressional Record.

The man with the vacation bee in his bonnet has the center of the stage.

Science and patriotism will own the town this week.

The Field a Large One.

From the New York Times.

When Mr. William Rockefeller had appendicitis Dr. McBurney was called in to perform the necessary operation.

After his recovery Mr. Rockefeller received the doctor's bill in due course, and, drawing a check, went to pay the account in person. In the conversation which followed appendicitis was naturally their main theme.

"You told me," said Mr. Rockefeller, "while I was sick, doctor, that everybody in the world had a vermiform appendix."

"With a few exceptions I believe that to be the case," answered the doctor.

"And that sooner or later," pursued the oil magnate, "every one would have to be operated on, either to cure or prevent the disease."

"That is the generally recognized opinion among the medical fraternity," was the answer.

"Well," said Mr. Rockefeller, rising, "if you will pardon my saying so, it seems to me that you have a better thing of it than has the Standard Oil Company."

Danger Lurking in the Deadly Third Rail

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 30.

Another warning of the danger of the "deadly third rail" was forced upon the attention of New Yorkers today when four cars on the Third avenue division caught fire and were destroyed. Defective insulation is supposed to have been the cause. Chief Croker of the fire department of New York is a shrewd, far-seeing man, and he issued an order some time ago that his men should wear rubber boots in case they were ever called on to attack a fire on or near this railroad. The order was made at the time the electric current was turned into the "third" rail. But for this precaution there might be a tale of dead firemen by this time, for the men had to walk all about the tracks to get the fire under control and to prevent its burning the buildings on either side. An expert electrician said to me today that the danger to passengers where the "third" rail is used is greater than is popularly supposed. He fears a dreadful calamity at some time in the rapid transit railway underground, with hundreds of roasted passengers as its main feature. Perhaps he may be mistaken in his anticipation, but the burning of these cars today took place just in the way he predicts some of those in the subway may go when the new electric system is installed there. The horror of several burning cars full of passengers can hardly be put into words. The cars destroyed on the "L" today were empty, but there is no apparent reason why the fire should not have broken out if they had been crowded with passengers. It is only fair to say that the electrician who set before me the dreadful possibilities of the "third" rail has a system of his own which he asserts would entirely eliminate the danger from electric transit, so that, perhaps, he may be prejudiced. Still, there was the fire today, proceeding from the exact cause that he declares to be ever-present. This disaster will not strengthen public confidence in the new rapid transit road, and it is assuredly the bounden duty of the commissioners of that great artery to see that the safest possible electric system is put into operation at the very beginning.

The Bowery Rich in Experiences.

Two Binghamton persons, a man and his wife, went down the Bowery last night for "experiences." They got them. The man says he is an ex-district attorney from "up-state," and his wife is a newspaper writer of Binghamton. They went into one of the toughest joints in the Bowery district at midnight and ate a sandwich or two. The man displayed a roll of bills amounting to about $15, and instantly, to use his own expression, he found himself the bottom man in a fierce fight, while his wife screamed "murder." Well, the police got the Binghamton couple out of the dive and found that the man had lost his money, watch and chain and had acquired a black eye, while his wife was scared almost out of what little senses she had when she suffered herself to be taken into a Bowery thieves' kitchen in the early morning hours. The police caught some of the thugs later, but the Binghamton couple will have to go home without the watch, chain and money. This little incident tends to show that the Bowery is still rich in experience of a strenuous type, if one searches for it earnestly.

Last of "Grimsee, Me Boy."

James B. Mackie, a comedian very well known in Pittsburgh as the star of "Grimes' Cellar Door" and other farce comedies, some of them written by a Pittsburgher, tells me tonight that he will play "Toby" in Charles H. Yale's "Devil's Auction" next season. Mrs. Mackie, well known under her stage name of Louise Sanford, will be "Jeannette" in the same piece. Another comedian familiar to Pittsburghers, John MacMahon, has signed a contract with Gus Hill to appear in "A Hot Old Time."

Police Chiefs' Organization.

Police Inspector Clayton of the borough of Queens, Greater New York, said today that he will accept the honor of being one of the directors of the International Association of Police Chiefs. The association includes in its membership the police chiefs of the world. It is distinct from the National Police Chiefs' association, of which Chief McAleese of Pittsburgh is a member.

The Purging of Paterson.

Paterson, N. J., is relieved that the strike riots are about over. All the silk mills and dye houses were in operation today. A commuter from Paterson told me today that the city has taken on its usual appearance of peace, and that there is general satisfaction that the long-continued trouble has ended at last. "And what is more," continued the commuter, "we have kicked all the anarchists out of Paterson, I am glad to say." "Where are they now?" "Hanged if I know." Some of them in New York, no doubt." "Which would be a sad prospect for New York, were it not that the police here enjoy nothing better than "fanning" with their clubs a group of real, red anarchists.

The Latest Elevator Accident.

One of those frightful elevator accidents of which Greater New York has been getting more than her share of late, occurred this morning. It was not the fault of the elevator this time, however. A messenger boy, in a hurry to deliver a message, tried to get out of the machine at the 16th floor of an office skyscraper after the elevator had started. He was crushed to death. While the fatality was due entirely to the lad's own carelessness, it surely will add to the apprehension with which many New Yorkers regard elevators nowadays.

A Tammany Triumvir's Wedding.

Tammany may be disappointed because Croker says he will not come back, but the Tiger showed his teeth in a broad grin today over the wedding of Charles F. Murphy, one of the triumvir, who was dubbed "Sport" by Devery, in contradistinction to his two colleagues, who, on the same high authority, are known respectively as "Two-spot" and "Joke." Murphy disappeared from Fourteenth street about a week ago, and the wheels of Tammany Hall became clogged in consequence, because all the henchmen and heelers were spending their time wondering what had become of "Murph." He turned up with his new wife last night, and today the whole outfit of Tammanyites, triumvirs and all the children on the East Side (at least, it seemed so) went up the Hudson on an excursion boat "to give the bridal couple a send-off." The bride remained at home, however.

A Suburban Little Girl's Adventure.

Elmhurst is a suburb of Greater New York. Little Josie Puston saw a boy in her father's cherry-tree, eating cherries, stones and all, this morning. "Come down," she commanded. The boy hastily swallowed a handful of cherries and came head first. He dropped on top of Josie and broke her leg, but ran away unhurt himself. Whether the cherries will avenge Josie for her broken leg is a matter between the boy and his physician.

Statesmen in a Whisky Poster.

Mayor Low said today that there was no redress for the use of one's portrait in an advertisement. He might have added, "unless the portrait is copyrighted," but he didn't. He was laughing over a large painting of himself in Fourth avenue, near Union square, showing him smacking his lips over a particular brand of whisky. In company with Admiral Dewey, Chauncey Depew, District Attorney Jerome and ex-Senator D. B. Hill. These distinguished gentlemen are pictured as in a silent ecstacy over their liquor. The mayor says he is not a good judge of whisky, but supposes he must let the picture remain, because the law will not help him to remove it. Anyhow, if the whisky really is good, the mayor, doubtless, feels that it would be cruel to the public to stop its being advertised.

Slighted the Union Jack.

On an excursion boat going up the Hudson this morning there were flags of many nations floating from flagpoles from stem to stern. The star of Cuba, the tri-color of France, the golden harp on a green field symbolizing Ireland, the German flag, the Italian flag, the Russian flag, and even the Chinese dragon were there, but the one flag conspicuously absent was the Union Jack of Great Britain. Probably the captain was afraid it might get tangled up with the Irish harp if admitted to his goodly company of bunting. At all events, it was not there.

Rival Queens of the Sound.

The question, Which is the champion of Long Island sound? may be settled during the night. The steamer Richard Peck of the New Haven steamboat line has been the queen of the seas in that sheet of water, but now the Bridgeport Steamboat Company has a new vessel called the William G. Payne, which it thinks is the faster. There was to be a race between the two this evening, but the Payne people say their boat will "wipe up the sound" with the Peck. On June 1 the Payne was brought forth from the ship yard. She is named after the vice president of the company and is the production of Harlan & Hollingsworth, after designs by Gardner & Cox. The order was to build the fastest sidewheeler in America. She is 260 feet long and 68 feet 9 inches beam. Her engines are compound inclined and have a stroke of six feet. On her trial trip the Payne made 21½ miles to the hour, and, according to her crew, has improved greatly since then.

Roof Garden on a Boat's Deck.

Roof-gardeners will have another of their favorite resorts after tonight. The "floating roof garden," on board an excursion boat will open its season tomorrow evening. A roof garden on a boat is something of a paradox, particularly as the "garden" is not even on the roof of the cabins, but flat on the deck. Still, so long as the audience listens to good music, has comfortable seats in a breezy situation, and is within easy reach of Broadway cars at the end of the performance, the boat gives all the advantages of a roof garden, and, therefore, may well appropriate its name, too.

A Talk to New Cooks.

Ten members of the senior class of the Educational alliance, in the Ghetto, were graduated as cooks last night. To them one of the faculty, Dr. Beaustein, addressed these pertinent observations, which may be taken to heart by other young women, in Pittsburgh as well as New York. He said that to cooks belong the task of helping their fellowmen and women in the making of good and pure homes. Too many of the young women of today scorn the task of housekeeping and housework and think they are about such things, whereas, if more take to this sort of work there would not be so many unhappy marriages.

The Rockaway Voyage.

The regular Rockaway steamers will begin their daily trips tomorrow. The trip to Rockaway beach is, perhaps, one of the most picturesque as well as the most invigorating from New York. A one-and-a-half hours' sail through the bay, passing Fort Hamilton and Fort Wadsworth, along the shores of Coney Island and Manhattan beach, then out on the broad Atlantic for half an hour to Rockaway inlet. One boat will make an afternoon trip, leaving the Battery at 2:05 o'clock for the especial purpose of giving the business men and women an hour and a half's refreshing sail.

Plunger Phillips' Ideas on Speculation.

George H. Phillips, a plunger from Chicago, today opened an office in Beaver street, in this city, as a grain broker. Of course, he was interviewed. In the course of his remarks he said: "I am not going to stay here long. I am longing to get back into the pit at Chicago. They think more of stocks and bonds here than of corn and wheat, but the time will come when the New Yorkers will speculate in wheat and corn as they do now in stocks. Why not? It is perfectly legitimate. Speculation makes the farmer prosperous, and when the farmer is prosperous the whole country is prosperous." Mr. Phillips' Chicago ideas are interesting, even if not exactly convincing, to New Yorkers, who think they know all there is to know in speculation of all kinds.

THE MAN UP A TREE

From a High Viewpoint.

PITTSBURGH is the scientific capital of the United States just now.

The June rise slopped over into the month of July.

The happy new year is now on its second half.

Not even Baptist Sunday schools thoroughly enjoyed the June picnic weather. Quite a number of firecrackers are being pulled before they are ripe.

No litter is wanted in the streets on the Fourth of July. P. S.—Nor on any other date.

Congress is preparing to put up the shutters.

The July disbursements of interest and dividends will be the greatest ever known. Here's hoping that you will receive your share!

Maj. Gardener manifests a wish to back pedal on those charges of cruelty.

Bulls and bears can now make taxless transactions on the stock exchanges.

At all events the coronation in September will be marked by one pleasing feature. Alfred Austin will scarcely deem it necessary to perpetrate another ode.

The government of Holland says that Paul Kruger must pay taxes just like any other ordinary resident. War is indeed terrible.

Of course the visiting scientists clearly understand that the weather is quite beyond the control of the local committees. Polysyllables are more than usually plentiful at Carnegie Institute.

Got It Cheap.

"That's Hammersmith's new house," said Mr. Murray Hill to Mr. Squirrel Hill, as the two stood in front of the dwelling in question.

"Indeed" That's a very fine house. How much did it cost Hammersmith?" asked Mr. Squirrel Hill.

"It cost him only about $1,000, I understand."

"How did he get it for that? It must be worth every cent of $18,000. How did he get it so cheap?"

"It cost his wife's father the balance. It was a wedding present, but Hammersmith put about $1,000 worth of improvements on it."

Benevolent Hope.

Mr. Wood—Of all the queer boycotts, I've just read of the very queerest.

Mr. Smithfield—What's that?

Mr. Wood—A painters' union in Baldwinsville, N. Y., has resolved to boycott the cemetery and the jail. What do you think of that?

Mr. Smithfield—I think that's all right. I hope those Baldwinsville painters will succeed in keeping out of both.

Correct Guess.

"Fine weather for Panamas," remarked the Cheerful Idiot, ironically, as the rain came pelting down.

"For the canal, I suppose you mean," added the Precise Citizen.

Stimulating Business.

"Business is dull, Tommy," said the druggist to his small assistant.

"Yessir," assented Tommy.

"We must do something to stimulate business, Tommy."

"Yessir."

"Well, Tommy, suppose you put in some of your spare time catching flies and placing the insects on that sample sheet of flypaper in the window."

"Yessir," —al' Tommy.

POINT BREEZE.

FISHERMAN'S LUCK.

Walter Brown was out fishing on the Sinnemahoning last Wednesday and Thursday. He caught about 48 bass and killed a large rattlesnake. The reptile satisfied its musical propensities by shaking a string of ten rattles, which Mr. Brown carries in his pocket to corroborate his story.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

Bass fishing in the Susquehanna river, as was some time ago predicted, is being spoiled by the coming of locusts. While bass are plentiful in the river and its tributaries, the fish so gorge themselves upon the insects that drop into the water that baited hooks lose all attraction for them.—Tyrone Times.

The finest catch of bass that has yet been brought to Franklin was carried in from Coobranton last night by L. T. Lamberton and John S. May. These gentlemen are two of the best fishermen in this section of the country and if there are any fish in the creek they always manage to get their share.—Franklin News.

Sunday evening William Bolser was caught making for the Beaver river with his fishing tackle. Some of his pious friends remonstrated against such conduct, but to no avail. Upon following him, however, it was discovered that the catch he was after was simply a fair maid's hat which the gentle (?) zephyrs had carried into the river.—New Brighton News.

Will Black, while fishing in the Sinnemahoning last week, caught a bald eagle in a trip. The bird was uninjured and he brought him home in a box. He is still young, not having developed the white head peculiar to the national bird of freedom, and will be held in captivity. Mr. Black also caught a number of nice bass, one of which weighed three and one-half pounds. The eagle has an expansion of wings of eight feet.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

Capt. Jesse M. Baker and J. Morgan Baker, who have been at Asbury Park, N. J., for the past few days, have returned to their Media homes thoroughly disgusted with fishing, so far as that particular locality is considered. The gentlemen, after being out several days, returned empty handed, not even being encouraged by a single bite. The fishermen report fishing very slow so far this season and no one has succeeded in making any large catches.—Media Ledger.

The fishing season for black bass opened Monday. The old rule that the blackberry should be in blossom when the bass begin to bite would seem to indicate that the season has been gauged about right, for the bearers of those toothsome berries are now white with their blossoms. If the disciple of Izak Walton approaches the right spot carefully enough, casts minnow often enough, waits long enough and has patience enough, in fact, if he is fisherman enough, he will come home at night with some bass in his basket.—Hyndman Bulletin.

Its Usual Luck.

From the Washington Post.

The Democratic party had its usual hard luck when it fell to the lot of Senators Patterson and Carmack to cross-examine Admiral Dewey.

In a Normal Condition.

From the Washington Post.

The Pennsylvania Democracy has been thoroughly Gufferized. Later on it will be gourfield, as usual.

PERSONALS.

J. D. Hilton, a member of the bar of Queensland, Australia, went to Chicago last night after spending two days in the city with friends in the East End. His time here was spent in inspecting the large industrial plants, and when seen last night he would talk of nothing but the manufacturing possibilities of the city. "I had often heard of Pittsburgh," he remarked, "in Queensland, and had heard its praises as a manufacturing city sung by people who had visited it. I had no idea when I left home that I also would return to sing its praise, but I must say that, after visiting all the large industrial centers of the world, Pittsburgh is the greatest. To call it the Birmingham of America conveys no idea of its manufacturing magnitude. It is the Birmingham of the world, with a world's industries in operation. I have visited nearly all the leading manufacturing centers of Europe, but they are dwarfed in comparison with Pittsburgh. I may also say, in passing, that your court house is one of the finest I have seen in America. It is a magnificent structure. I only saw the outside of your jail, but it impressed me with its security from mob attack. Yes, I know of the escape of the Biddles. The Queensland newspapers had an excellent account of the escape at the time, but, of course, lacking in detail."

E. F. Hays, a dealer in hardware, of Chicora, Pa., and Seymour, H. Bell of Sumpter, Ore., are at the Hotel Lincoln. They have just returned from the state of Sonora, Mexico, where they made an inspection of the mining property of the Green Consolidated Copper Company. "We have spent several months investigating this property," said Mr. Hays, "and we are now on our way to New York to buy some of the stock. The company possess over 2,000 acres, on which there are 17 mines, seven smelters and six convertors. The property is the richest in copper in the world. The output is very heavy, as the ore is almost pure copper."

J. Newman, representing Epstem Bros., cloak manufacturers of Philadelphia, is at Newell's hotel. "The styles in ladies cloaks" he remarked, "will not follow the lines of last year. The raglan has gone out of date, and will be replaced by the 27-inch cloak. It will be tight fitting, and the designs will be in melions, beaver and kersey. The new cloaks will be things of beauty, and the leaders will be of castors, tans and blues. The better grades will sell from $12 to $40 each. Pittsburgh merchants are already laying in their fall stocks."

Maj. F. W. Mead, who has been in charge of the United States marine department in this city, went to Vineyard Haven last night on a two months' leave of absence. The post will be filled by Dr. R. C. Craig during his absence.

D. R. Hefner, United States district attorney for the Middle district, Pennsylvania, is at the Seventh Avenue hotel.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

Among those at the hotels last night were the following persons from nearby towns:

Lincoln—J. L. McKee, Butler, Pa.; L. C. Roessler, Cumberland, Md.; A. L. Irwin, Meadville, Pa.; W. Z. Bennett, Wooster, O.

Monongahela—E. M. Grant, Morgantown, W. Va.; A. H. Bonwell, Fulton, W. Va.; J. G. Brown, Frank Cox, Morgantown, W. Va.; W. H. Taylor, Niles, O.; R. R. Nice, Beaver, Pa.; L. C. White, Morgantown, W. Va.; F. W. Powers, Youngstown, O.

Griswold—C. E. Stumpf, Ligonier, Pa.; James McKay, Oil City, Pa.

Henry—E. L. Hull, Sharon, Pa.; Aaron Fell, Weston, W. Va.; W. H. Wilson, Wooster, O.; J. D. Sloan, East Brady, Pa.; B. N. McCoy, Kane, Pa.

Newell's—F. W. Crane, Morgantown, W. Va.; C. W. Clawell, Bolivar, Pa.; F. C. De-vencho, C. T. Seaverr, Salem, W. Va.; W. C. Kelly, J. D. Ramsey, Bolivar, Pa.

Seventh Avenue—E. S. Kautner, Huntingdon, Pa.; J. B. Jones, Corsica, Pa.; D. W. Kulp, Marietta, Pa.; P. Buchannan, Steubenville, O.; Charles Thornton, Sharon, Pa.

Duquesne—H. S. White, Cleveland, O.; D. E. Farrell, Bridsboro, Pa.; F. R. Shyrock, Meadville, Pa.; W. S. Brady, Wheeling, W. Va.

Anderson—W. E. Tate, Clarksburg, W. Va.; J. B. Johnston, Canonsburg, Pa.

Saved His Panama.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Henry Sturgeon, a young man from St. Louis, risked his life yesterday morning to save his Panama hat. A cold plunge in the Ohio had no terrors for him. The pleadings of a pretty girl were unheeded. Thoughts of cold and pneumonia were not among those of the young man when he boldly swam after the costly covering. Sturgeon and the young woman arrived at the Seventh street depot about 11:30 o'clock.

Sturgeon's hat quickly attracted attention. Everybody knew that it was no sham, but a real article, and a few of the young men who were wearing imitations immediately began speculating upon its cost.

Sturgeon also wore a new flannel suit and was accompanied by a pretty girl, but the crowd entirely lost sight of these in their admiration for the hat. After promenading the length of the platform several times the couple walked through the tunnel that leads to the Daisy tracks.

The crowd watched them until they were out of sight and then turned their attention to other things. Only one young man, anxious for another glimpse of the Panama, followed them. He climbed the steps that lead to the Daisy line station and saw the young man and the young woman standing at the water's edge. Occasionally Sturgeon skipped a stone across the water. But he was standing straight when a gust of wind came along and caught the wife in him of the Panama. Sturgeon frantically caught at his hat, but he missed and when it alighted it was 25 feet from the shore. Sturgeon did not say a word and he did not lose a moment. He plunged into the icy water. Only the girl was frightened, and her cries of "Oh! Henry," were clearly heard by the people waiting for their trains. In a minute 25 persons were watching Sturgeon's heroic effort to regain his Panama. They watched the race intently. Not a word was said. The spectators saw Sturgeon gradually gaining upon the hat. Then it was caught by a wave and was carried beyond his reach. Sturgeon regained the distance he had lost and by a mighty effort reached the hat. A shout went up from those on the bank. The girl danced and clapped her hands as the young man, with the hat between his teeth, turned and started for the shore.

Sturgeon was happy when he again reached ground. But the flannel suit was far from neat and hung in folds.

"Oh, don't worry about those," said Sturgeon as he looked at himself. "The hat represents 15 planks and the suit only stood me $5."

Sturgeon allowed the sun to shine upon him for an hour and then he and the girl boarded a car for New Albany.

Society

DURING the pouring rain of yesterday afternoon, when streets were flooded and umbrellas were almost useless, the members of the Twentieth Century club awaited their guests, the ladies in attendance at the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. The Twentieth Century club is keeping open house this week for the visiting women, and yesterday inaugurated the special social affairs in their honor by a 4 o'clock tea at the clubhouse. Many braved the storm, and the rooms of the clubhouse were well filled, but there were many others who were prevented from attending because of the rain.

The rooms of the clubhouse were prettily decorated in a simple but attractive manner, none but garden flowers and a few potted plants appearing in the large assembly room, where the group of receiving ladies stood, and in the smaller reception room, across the hall. In the dining-room pink roses were massed unconventionally upon the tea table, which was lighted by candelabra with daintily-covered candles. Miss Anna Phillips poured the tea and was assisted informally by different members of the club. In the assembly room the receiving ladies were Mrs. William Thaw, Jr., Mrs. William R. Thompson, Mrs. William McC. Grafton, Mrs. David Glenn Stewart, Miss Alice Thurston, Mrs. Edward M. Bigelow, Mrs. John G. Holmes, Mrs. William N. Frew and Mrs. G. W. Allyn. The Twentieth Century club will keep open throughout the visit of the scientists to Pittsburgh. Because of the tea at the Pittsburgh Golf club this afternoon and Mrs. William Thaw's tea at Lyndhurst tomorrow no tea will be conducted at the clubhouse until Thursday afternoon.

Preceeding the tea at the clubhouse a number of visitors were received at the block house from 2 until 4 o'clock. Visitors also registered there during the morning, when the reception hours were from 10 until 12 o'clock. The reception committee of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the block house consisted of Miss Mathilde W. Denny, chairman; Mrs. W. H. Baitzell, Mrs. Albert H. Childs, Mrs. Sullivan Johnson, Mrs. J. R. Woodwell, Mrs. S. Jarvis Adams, Mrs. Moses Atwood, Mrs. James I. Buchanan, Mrs. Alexander Dempster, Mrs. Edward Gilmore, Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh, Mrs. William McConway, Mrs. Willis F. McCook, Mrs. James R. Mellon, Mrs. Frank H. Murdock, Mrs. Frank G. Paulson and Mrs. Robert Reineman. Several of the women were in attendance at the block house yesterday, others arranging to take their place today, tomorrow and Thursday.

Shadyside Graduates Go to College.

An unusual number of students who were graduated a few days ago from the Shadyside academy will go to college in September. Of the 33 boys who received their diplomas, 25 will matriculate in the freshman class in some one of the well-known universities. There are eight who will enter business life immediately.

William Metcalf Armstrong, Herbert Fulton Byram, George Love Coyle, Brownlee Harper Gibson, Roy Birney Hutchinson, Joseph Hanson Rose, Homer Dewhurst Smith and Arthur Edwin Wilson will enter Princeton. The Yale men will be Ernest Hillman, Frederick Warren Kay, Dilworth Richard Lupton, Henry Graham Meyer, Howard Thorne Muzzy, Charles Oliver and Joseph Thomas. Sylvester Cosgrave Preston will attend either Princeton or Yale. William Boyd, Jr., will go to the University of Pennsylvania, James Algernon Darsie will enter Lafayette, Walter Taber Grange has chosen Trinity college for his further study, Laurence Irving Neale will go to Harvard, George Wenisel Pollock has selected the State college, and William Knepper Skilling will enter Johns Hopkins university. Witt McClure Taylor is planning to go to the Boston School of Technology and Samuel Carothers will also enter a technical school in the fall.

Among the boys who will go into business are John William Curry, John Dalzell Duff, Harry Foster Griffith, Albert Walker McCurdy and Joseph Riter. John P. O'Brien will go to Europe for a course of study in foreign cities.

Memorial to Dr. Kennard.

A handsome memorial to the late Rev. Joseph H. Kennard, D. D., has been established in Philadelphia, where his home was for many years and where he died. Friends of Dr. Kennard contributed to a fund for the purchase of a lot, together with the building erected upon it, which is to be known as the Kennard Hall of Theology of Temple college. The property adjoins the Temple college founded by the Baptist Temple of Philadelphia, of which the Rev. Russell H. Conwell, D. D., is pastor. Dr. Conwell is also president of the college. Other friends are now contributing to the fund which is being raised for the alteration and refurnishing of Kennard hall, which is regarded as an important addition to the equipment of the Temple college.

Dr. Kennard was well-known in Pittsburgh, where he spent several of the later years of his life. His widow now makes her home in the East End with two of her daughters, Miss Beulah Kennard and Miss Louise Kennard. Another daughter, Mrs. James Stephen Martin, has adopted Pittsburgh as her home, while the fourth is married and living at present in Brooklyn, N. Y. Dr. Kennard was for many years the pastor of the Tenth Street Baptist church in Philadelphia and was also pastor in Chicago for some time.

Fairweather—DeWolfe.

In Chicago last evening, the wedding of Miss Laura Fairweather and Tensard DeWolfe of this city took place. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Samuel Fulsford, pastor of the First Unitarian church of Chicago, the wedding taking place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Genevieve Fairweather, No. 4343 Berkley avenue. The bride has a great many friends in Pittsburgh where she has frequently visited and been entertained. Mrs. William McConway gave a large reception in her honor, the last large affair at which Mrs. McConway was hostess—before moving to her new home in Lexington avenue, East End. Mrs. DeWolfe was educated at Miss Wheeler's school in Providence, R. I. Her family until recently lived in Meadville, where her father, Dr. Fairweather, was a well-known physician. Miss Fairweather was the perfecter of the Densmore typewriter, which bears his name, and she is also related to J. M. Barrie, the author.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWolfe are taking a wedding trip in the east and will return to Pittsburgh to make their home at No. 355 Oakland avenue. Mr. DeWolfe is the political writer on the staff of the Pittsburgh Leader. He is a graduate of the Allegheny college, Meadville.

Reception in Parnassus.

One of the prettiest receptions of the season in the Allegheny valley was held last evening at the home of Mrs. Alter in Parnassus. The affair was given in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Prentiss Agnew Brown, two prominent young society people of New Kensington, whose marriage was an event of the early June season. Mrs. Alter was assisted in receiving by Miss Cora Lee of Oakmont, who recently returned from Caldwell college in Danville, Ky. The home was decorated for the occasion in fern, rhododendron and roses, and the porches were brilliantly illuminated with Japanese lanterns. The guests numbered about 100 and were from Pittsburgh and the towns along the Allegheny valley. After the formal reception luncheon was served in the home. Miss Petty of Pittsburgh sang.

Summering in the Adirondacks.

The Rev. Dr. J. J. McCarrell, pastor of the McKeesport Presbyterian church, and Mrs. McCarrell, went a few days ago to the Adirondacks. They have taken a cottage at Saranac lake, where they will remain until October. Dr. McCarrell is regaining his health since his serious illness of a year ago, and is constantly improved since he left Western Pennsylvania. Last Sunday his pulpit was filled by the Rev. Dr. Moffatt, president of Washington and Jefferson college.

Miss Harriet McCarrell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. McCarrell, who graduated from Vassar this year, is entertaining a school friend, Miss Nelson and in a few days Miss McCarrell and Miss Nelson go to Barnesville to visit another school friend.

Assumes Management of the Bulletin

Mrs. Henry B. Birch, the well-known writer for the Pittsburgh Bulletin, and frequent contributor to the daily newspapers of Pittsburgh and eastern cities, assumed the management of the Bulletin last week, becoming its managing editor and business manager. Mrs. Birch has been very successful in her newspaper work, combining facility in using the pen with a rare business ability and enterprise which will find larger scope in her new venture. Mrs. Birch is a former president of the Women's Press club of Pittsburgh and is now a member of its board of directors.

Hoyt—Noyes.

An important society event in New Castle, Pa., was the marriage yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock of Miss Hanna L. Hoyt and Frank G. Noyes, of Napa, Cal. The bride is the second daughter of Lewis S. Hoyt, one of the heaviest oil operators of the West Virginia field, and vice president of the Citizens National bank of New Castle. The ceremony occurred at the Hoyt residence, which was elaborately decorated. The Rev. Dr. R. S. Jordan, of the First Presbyterian church, officiated. A wedding dinner was served immediately after to the bride and groom, and the 80 guests who witnessed the ceremony. From 7 to 9 o'clock a reception was held at the Hoyt home. More than 1,000 invitations had been issued. The bride is one of the leaders in the younger society set here. She was graduated from Wilson college at Chambersburg, Pa., and has since traveled in Europe, Mexico and South America. Mr. and Mrs. Noyes left at midnight for California, where the groom is engaged in the banking business.

Mrs. Muzzy's Card Party.

Mrs. Wallace G. Muzzy was hostess at a very pretty card party at her home on Broad street, Sewickley, last evening. The affair was in honor of two house guests, Miss Florence Edgar of Zanesville, O., and Miss Frances Crane of Urbana, O., who have visited often in the valley and are quite popular with the younger society set. Miss Jane P. Blair and her house guests shared in the honors of the occasion. The game was six-hand euchre and about 125 guests were present, principally from the valley. Garden flowers decorated the house. Several dainty prizes were won by the guests.

Coming and Going.

Clarence Pratt Tiers, wife and daughter, Miss Margaret, and Conrad C. Arensberg, with his two sons, Charles and Frank, sailed yesterday from New York for Europe. The Arensbergs will join Mrs. Arensberg and Miss Edith Arensberg in Germany and spend the summer in travel. The Tiers party will be gone only five weeks, spending a week in Paris, one in Germany and another in England.

J. B. Barker, medical director United States navy, and Mrs. Parker, are the guests of a brother, T. S. Barker, in Rippey street, East End.

Celebrated the Fifth Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schultz of Morrison avenue celebrated the fifth anniversary of their marriage on Saturday with a dinner at their home in Allegheny. Covers were laid for 35. Mrs. Schultz was Miss Grace McIntyre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McIntyre of the North Side.

Houston—George.

Mrs. Catherine Houston of Liberty avenue announces the marriage of her daughter, Grace Sylvan, to John Edward George yesterday.

League Games Today.

Cincinnati at Exposition Park.
St. Louis at Chicago.
Philadelphia at Brooklyn.
Boston at New York.

There was no ball game at Exposi...on park yesterday, and there was ...od reason therefor. The downpour ...rain was so steady and effective ... the ball park resembled a frog ...d, and the only way ball could ...e been played would have been on ...ts. The postponed game will be ...yed off on September 26, which is ... open date for both teams.

The champions and the Reds came ...r from Cincinnati on the same ...n, and, owing to accidents and other ...lays, were five hours late in reaching ...s city. The trip was one of many inci...nts as well as accidents, and the teams ...d a very narrow escape. It was just ...er leaving Cincinnati on Sunday night ...en the train was going at full speed ...nt the engine struck a horse attached ... a fine rubber-tired buggy. The horse ... cut into strips and the buggy ...cked. The horse was evidently a run...y chasing along the track and when ...ck was not over 100 yards from a ...y high trestle. The players, when they ...t off to look at the wreck of the horse ...d buggy, realized how close they were ... death, and some were badly fright...ed.

Indignant Lot of Players.

The Pittsburgh players are a very in...gnant lot over the action of the Na...al league executive committee in the ...roy case, and had John T. Brush been ...esent he would have heard a few re...arks which he would not care to see ...blished. Manager Clarke met John T. ... Cincinnati just before train time on ...nday night and told him what he ...ought of him for his action in suspend... Conroy. Clarke dared John T. to ...ke public the report submitted to him ... the row between Conroy and Tucker ... Umpire O'Day. That report placed ...e entire blame on the Chicago shortstop ...d held that the Pirate simply defended ...mself from assault. To make the mat... stronger, O'Day, who umpired the ...me at Cincinnati on Sunday, renewed ... statement that Tinker was the ag...ssor, and he could not understand the ...mmittee's action. The players look on ... as a bare-faced attempt to weaken the ...mpions and assert they will foot Mr. ...rush and his cohorts.

Secretary Pulliam Is Sore.

Perhaps the sorest man of the bunch ... Secretary Pulliam, who has good ...ounds for stating that John T. Brush ... not treat him with even half decent ...rtesy. Secretary Pulliam was an eye...ness of the row at Chicago and in...rmed President Hart that his player ... the offender. Manager Clarke, in ...ding story of the row, says that Conroy ... simply doing his duty as a ball ...yer in covering second base. At the ...e Tinker was on first and the man at ... batted between the pitcher and first ...e. Doheny started for the ball and ...eley ran to back up the play, and ...roy, as was his duty, ran to cover sec... base. Tinker not only deliberately ... into Conroy, but violently pushed him ...d the Pirate could do nothing but de...d himself.

Manager Clarke also asserts that ...ker had threatened before the game ... assault Conroy and was told that he ...d better be careful as Wid was plenty ... to take care of himself. Tinker's ...ath was caused by Conroy's covering ...ond in the 15-inning game on Sunday ... forcing him to go around the bag ...stead of cutting across the inside of it. ...e play, Manager Clarke says, is a part ... the game and is worked every day ... players not only in the National but ... every league in the country. The ...yers are not only sore at John T. ...sh but at Shortstop Tinker as well ... assert that there is something coming ... him which he will get before the sea... is over.

Brush Will Get a Hot Letter.

President Dreyfuss is also indignant ...r the action of the executive commit... and Mr. Brush will get a letter from ...n today which will contain a few choice ...marks. Mr. Dreyfuss also looks on the ...committee's action as a direct attempt to ...eaken his team, and says that there is ...uch a thing as going too far. He says ...at as yet he has not been officially noti...d of the committee's action, and if the ...cessity should arise he will play. Con...y. He thinks one way to get even with ...r. Brush is to go after his team, and ...e talks of offering a bonus for every ...irate victory over Cincinnati. So far ...is season the Reds have failed to take ... game from the champions.

Secretary Pulliam had a funny story to ...ll of a trick played on Dummy Hoy by ...ge Beckley on the way over. It hop...ed at one of the way stations that ... players got off for a lunch and Dum... wanted a piece of pie. Hoy can talk ...w words and he yelled at the waiter, "Piece pie," but Beckley told the waiter ...t to cut the pie, as that was a trick ...t Hoy's, who would run away. The ...aiter followed John's advice, and as the ...ll rang Hoy had to rush out without ...is "piece pie," but he was hopping mad ...d threatens to write to the officers of ...e road and have the waiter fired.

MORE PRAISE FOR PIRATES.

There Is No Let-Up in the Team's Play.

Says the Cincinnati Tribune:

"There is one thing in particular for which the Pittsburgh players deserve credit, and that is the absence of dissipation among the men. Ordinarily when a ball team gains a good lead in the race the players become reckless. This is particularly true when they so far outclass their opponents as the champions do the other teams of the National league. Dissipation and listless baseball is the result. Such, however, has not been the case with the Pirates. They have retained their interest and ambition, and work just as hard now that they apparently have the pennant cinched, as they did last season when Brooklyn was giving them a hard run for the position. Manager Clarke's men continue to play the best they know how. There has been no lack of discipline in the ranks. Every man is putting forth his best efforts, and, while an occasional defeat may be scored by the opposition, these are not caused by lack of earnestness of the Pittsburgh players. It all goes to show that even ballplayers appreciate good treatment, and the members of the Pittsburgh team have certainly had an abundance of that."

St. Louis, June 30.—The second game between St. Louis and Cleveland today was a 15-inning battle between Reidy and Bernhard, darkness ending the contest, neither team scoring after the eighth.

The field was so very soft and slippery that the players had trouble keeping their footing. In the first game the St. Louis team went to pieces behind Harper, who was very wild. He was batted all over the lot. Lajoie, Hickman and Bradley touching him for successive home runs in the sixth inning. Score:

THE BEAVER FALLS SHOOT.

Many Trap Experts Are Expected to Take Part.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., June 30.—(Special.)—All arrangements for the big target shoot by the Recreation Rod and Gun club of this place at their grounds here on July 4 and 5 are about complete. Word has been received from some of the best trap shooters in the country that they will be on hand. A special feature of the shoot will be on July 5 for a $50 hammerless gun, presented by the Ithaca Gun Company of Ithaca, N. Y., to the club. The match will be at 50 targets, $2 entrance fee. First man takes the gun; second, $15; third, $10; fourth, $5, and the entrance money. High gun shooting and not class shooting. A distance handicap will be used in this event of from 16 to 22 yards. All entries for this event must be in before 12 o'clock July 5.

Kennywood, Oakwood and Southern Parks have good shows. Phinney's big band and Laville's Diving Dogs at Kennywood this afternoon and evening. Helen May Butler's Boston Ladies' Band at Oakwood. Rocereto and the Marvelous Melville at Southern; Chicago Newsies' band, playing at Southern all week, will be at Highland park tonight. All free.

CANOEISTS READY FOR THE REGATTA

CENTRAL DIVISION'S ANNUAL COMPETITIONS ON SATURDAY.

Interesting Program of Events Will Be Decided on the Allegheny River—Duquesne Club Will Entertain the Enthusiastic Paddlers from Other States.

The Duquesne Canoe club yesterday issued invitations for the annual regatta of the Central Division American Canoe association, which is to be held in the Allegheny river Saturday, commencing at 2 p. m. and will be the biggest event in the way of the two-bladed paddle which Pittsburgh has ever witnessed. The annual cruise of the central division will commence about 60 miles above Pittsburgh in the Allegheny river and will proceed down to the famous junction site of the Iron City. The visitors will be the guests of the Duquesne Canoe club of Pittsburgh, with headquarters at Sylvan station, and Commodore H. W. Beltenstein and his committee of aids have been working hard to make the affair a big success.

Canoeing Here More Popular.

The enticing sport and recreation making use of the artistic craft which once under the manipulation of the red man's hands, was the sole navigator of the waters now teeming with towboats and coal barges, has received quite a revival in and about Pittsburgh this season, and the meeting of the Central Division of the American association here is expected to still further stir things up. The Duquesne Canoe club is putting the finishing touches to its new clubhouse at Sylvan station and the regatta will serve also as a house warming. An active summer of cruises has been planned for by the local enthusiasts of the birch bark and the double-bladed paddle.

The program of contests for cups and trophies, which will take place in connection with the annual regatta, will offer an opportunity for Pittsburgh to observe grace and skill called forth by the manipulation of the paddle such as many have never dreamed of.

The competitive events offering prizes are as follows: Double blade one-half mile West turn; single blade tandem; single-blade one-half mile West turn; single blade tandem; single blade one half mile West turn; single blade fours; sailing one and one-half miles; single blade novice; single blade ladies' tandem one-fourth mile; upset, overturn canoe empty and paddle to finish; single blade special; hurry scurry, run, swim and paddle; tilting tournament, the contestants to stand in the bows of their canoes and push opponents overboard with long padded poles.

Where the Clubs Are From.

Nearly all of the clubs belonging to the central division are located in New York state, as follows: Buffalo, Amsterdam, Bulwagga, Deowainsta, Duquesne, Gusinal Yacht club, Genessee Yacht club, Gouverneur, Drondequait, Mohican, Newburgh, Oakland, Oswegatchie, Rochester and Roundout organizations.

The Allegheny river is one of the finest streams in the country today for canoeing purposes. For over 300 miles the picturesque tributary of the Ohio is available for the gracefully gliding craft, the natural scenery being of the most delightful, while the course itself offers everything of diversity and pleasure for the paddler. The annual meeting of the American Canoe association, to be held on the Massachusetts coast in August, is the great event of the year for canoeists, more than 100 clubs from all over the country participating.

WILL START PROMPTLY.

There Will be no Delays in the Schenley Park Races on the Fourth.

It is important that all the athletes who will take part in the games at Schenley park on July 4 should know that owing to the unusually large entry list it will be absolutely necessary for the first event to be started at 1:30 in the afternoon immediately after the close of the first wild west show at the oval.

Trevor F. Myler, referee of bicycle races, and Charles S. Miller, referee of the field sports, met last night and decided upon the regulations for the day. Both agreed that if the contestants failed to come out promptly when called by the clerk of course and his assistants that the event would be started without the tardy ones. Stars and novices will be treated alike, but it is usually the experienced men that hold back.

The time for the arrival of the president at the oval has not yet been fixed by the reception committee. The route has also been selected but will not be announced. The contestants will be met at the club house before 1 o'clock in the afternoon and given their numbers and track privileges.

MISS JONES CHAMPION.

Nevada Girl Won the Tennis Title by Default.

PHILADELPHIA, June 30.—Miss Marian Jones of Nevada today won the woman's tennis championship of the United States from Miss Elizabeth Moore by default. Miss Moore was taken sick on Saturday while playing her second set with Miss Jones and play was postponed until today. Miss Moore's indisposition proved more serious than anticipated and she was unable to conclude the game. Miss Jones was thereupon declared champion.

HURST PARK GOT SPRING STAKES AT SHEEPSHEAD

Africander Made Favorite When Good Horses Were Withdrawn.

FINISH WAS A HOT ONE

Hurst Park, Who Was Always Well Up, Got the Place by a Short Head. Jockey Shaw Rode Two Winners. Track Was Slow.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 30.—Three favorites and three second choices were successful at Sheepshead Bay today. Hurst Park, second choice, beat the favorite, Africander, a head in the Spring stakes for 2-year-olds. Mizzen, who was second to Irish Lad in the Great Trial stakes Saturday, and Golden Maxim, also a defeated Great Trial horse, were carded to start, but the rain of yesterday and the slow track today caused their withdrawal. Hurst Park was always well-up and in a hot finish won. Jockey Shaw carried off the riding honors, piloting two winners. Summaries:

First race, the Bay Hurdle handicap, 2 miles over eight hurdles on turf—Big Gun, 150, Barry, 8 to 5 and 1 to 2, won; Ferocious, 130, Carson, 50 to 1 and 15 to 1, second; Neponset, 146, Larson, 12 to 1 and 4 to 1, third. VERY TOUGH GOING.

Washington Park Track Was Deep With Mud.

CHICAGO, June 30.—Today's races were run on the heaviest track that has been seen at Washington park since 1892; yet fields of fair size competed. Jockey Buchanan, who recently returned from France, where he rode for W. K. Vanderbilt, landed Sigmund a winner of the first race after Schreiber's colt had been backed from 20 to 1 to 10 to 1. It was Buchanan's first mount at the meeting. Conundrum was bid up from $800 to $2,500 by Albert Simons and retained by his owner. Simons bought Glendon, ch.c., 2, by Major Richards-Mirmarette, from J. C. Milam & Co. for $1,500 in advance of the first race. Summaries:

First race, two-year-old colts, five and one-half furlongs—Sigmund, 105, Buchanan, 10 to 1, won; Topsail, 102, Meade, 3 to 1, second; Rosanco, 105, Otis, 30 to 1, third. Time, 1:15 3-5. Gallant Smith, Wil Shelby, Pageant, Bernays, Lindell, Sidney C. Love, Glendon, Miramce and Gold Bell ran.

Second race, selling, six furlongs—Conundrum, 110, Lyne, 9 to 5, won; Pyrrho, 102, Donnelly, 15 to 1 second; Sentiolon, 112, Henderson, 50 to 1, third. Time, 1:22 3-5. Claies, Vincennes, Lovable, M. F. Tarpey, Rag Tag, Lady Bramble, If You Dare, L'Etrenne and Travers ran.

Third race, one mile and 70 yards—Articulate, 114, Lyne, 2 to 9, won; Vulcain, 113, Coburn, 4 to 1, second; Wellesley, 106, Prior, 60 to 1, third. Time, 1:53¾. Benckart and Semper Vigilans ran.

Fourth race, two-year-old fillies, five furlongs—Lady Maichless, 107, Knight, 14 to 5, won; Belle Graham, 103, Birkenruth, 15 to 1, second; Eva Russell, 105, Woods, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:09 3-5. Beach Girl and Josette also ran.

Fifth race, three-year-olds, one mile—Bragg, 107, Ransch, 11 to 2, won; Lacrimae, 102, T. Dean, 7 to 1, second; Little Scout, 107, Coburn, 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:52. Hoodwink and Hunter Raine ran.

Sixth race, selling, one and one-fourth miles—Peat, 109, Prior, 11 to 5, won; Trentham, 90, Wilkerson, 6 to 1, second; Marchal Nell, 100, Lyne, 5 to 2, third. Time, 2:21. Digby Bell, Satin Coat, Brutal, Miss Liza, Sardonic and Tammany Chief ran.

Tomorrow's entries:

First race, 5½ furlongs—C. B. Campbell, 117; Brigadier, 114; If You Dare, 109; Stuyvo, 108; Herodiade, 101; Hans Wagner, 100; Hanover Queen, 98.

THINK CUTLER IS THE AGENT OF ROCKEFELLER

New York Papers Locate Him in the Oil King's Offices.

HE IS DOING NO TALKING

Pittsburghers in Interest Declare There Is Nothing in Report That Carnegie Is to Contest Morgan in the Steel Corporation.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 30.—An afternoon newspaper stated on Saturday that Bertram Cutler, who holds 126,975 shares of the preferred stock of the United States Steel Corporation and 28,365 shares of the common stock, was a clerk in John D. Rockefeller's office in this city. The Sunday newspapers, however, attempted to discredit this, and said that Bertram Cutler was none other than Andrew Carnegie. It now develops that the story as originally published was correct.

Mr. Cutler is a clerk for Mr. Rockefeller, and can be found daily at room No. 1605 in the Standard Oil building at No. 26 Broadway. His home is at Prohibition park, Staten Island, which accounts for the fact that his name is not in the city directory.

Mr. Cutler is very young, not much more than 21 years old, and he has been with the Standard Oil Company for several years. He is exceedingly modest and refuses to say that he is the holder of 149,340 shares of Steel stock. Neither will he deny it; he simply answers all questions on that score to the effect that he has nothing to say.

Transfers the Dividends.

Others are not so reticent, however, and they say that Mr. Cutler transfers the dividends which he receives to Mr. Rockefeller and possibly another who is associated with Mr. Rockefeller. In any event, Mr. Cutler's name on the list is regarded as satisfactorily explaining the absence of Mr. Rockefeller's.

It is a very hard matter to get an interview with Mr. Cutler since the publication of Steel stockholders. The cerberus at the outer door must be satisfied as to the identity of the would-be questioner and his business with Mr. Cutler. He returns with the courteous answer that Mr. Cutler is very busy and really cannot say anything.

Questioned about Mr. Cutler, this guardian of the inner sanctum volunteers the information that "Mr. Cutler is not with Mr. Rockefeller exactly, but is connected with a man who makes his headquarters there sometimes." He leaves Mr. Cutler's position in the office a little bit in doubt, and does not explain just how the other man makes his headquarters in Mr. Rockefeller's private office. It was said today that Mr. Cutler must feel relieved or aggrieved, according to his way of looking at it, that he is not Andrew Carnegie. Mr. Carnegie has not yet been heard from.

Some Additional Light.

A dispatch to a Wall street agency threw some additional light on the subject. It said that the trade between Morgan and Carnegie eliminated the latter entirely from the management of the steel properties. The bond plan was not the creation of Mr. Carnegie, it is said, but was the idea of Mr. Morgan to eliminate Carnegie and his aggressive policy, which had threatened trouble with the Pennsylvania railroad and all the competitive steel and iron interests now amalgamated in the United States Steel corporation. It was, therefore, the Boston dispatch said, arranged that Mr. Carnegie's interest in the company should be confined to bonds and bonds were issued to him for his entire interest.

"It is a little singular," went on the dispatch, "that in the list of large holders of United States Steel corporation shares it should not have been guessed more accurately what interest was represented by Bertram Cutler as the owner of 100,000 shares, for while Mr. Rockefeller and the Standard Oil people were among the largest owners in Federal Steel and the Lake Superior iron ore deposits, which went into the steel corporation the Standard Oil names in the list of large holders were conspicuous by their absence."

Pittsburghers in interest say that there can be nothing in the report that Andrew Carnegie is to contest the policy of J. Pierpont Morgan and his associates in the United States Steel corporation. They say that Mr. Morgan settled all matters of business policy with Mr. Carnegie when it was arranged to have the Carnegie interests enter the consolidation. Further, they indicate that Mr. Carnegie, under the organization scheme of the corporation, was to receive only bonds and that he could have no object in contesting the Morgan policy.

The conduct of the affairs of the steel corporation is generally understood to be in the hands of President Charles M. Schwab and his subordinates.

Mr. Schwab was placed in his position at the wish of Andrew Carnegie and the Morgan underwriting syndicate is generally understood to be no longer a factor in the steel corporation management.

"WANG" IS A SUCCESS AT DUQUESNE GARDEN

The Old Hopper Comic Opera Gives the Stock Company Its Best Chance.

One may praise the production of Goodwin and Morse's old comic opera, "Wang," by the Duquesne Garden Stock Company this week, almost indiscriminately without going far astray. Manager Conant has excelled himself in the fulness with which he has equipped the piece in the first place. There are none of the familiar and well-remembered properties and accessories of the delightful skit left unprovided for, and the costuming is fully as rich and pleasing to the eye as in the old days, when the opera was De Wolf Hopper's piece de resistance. The chorus sings the hitting music with a vigor and mucfulness, and when better and more intimate relations are established between the singers and Director Haig, this feature of the performance will be beyond criticism.

Of the principals, Mr. Martin's "Wang" is by reason of its prominence the most conspicuous, and it must be said, to Mr. Martin's credit, that he admirably succeeds the originator of the role. He lacks Hopper's deliberateness, and apparently imitates him, but for all this his work is humorously pleasing, while his singing voice is even better than Hopper's. If he will only put the brakes on and take his time the role will be well taken care of. Miss Mason's Matsuya is another well-played role. She sings finely the one or two songs that fall to her lot, the "Babbling Brook" Morceau being especially well rendered. Della Fox in her best days never had a voice that could equal Miss Mason's, but in that peculiar chicness, which goes so well with this particular song, Miss Mason might learn much from the once idolized Della.

Mr. Persse's work as Jean, Mr. Shelly as Captain Tracsse and Mr. Piggott in the small part of Chop Suey were all thoroughly in harmony with the general excellence of the production. Miss Mary Carrington sang sweetly as Marie, while Miss Stone as Gillette shows marked improvement in her work. Mr. Sinclair's Pegot was by long odds the best thing he has done and was quite as good as the original "Keeper of the Royal Elephant." Miss Eloise Bishop, who sang the role Widow Framouse was most kindly received, and she deserved it. Her voice is of excellent quality and fine range. With proper dramatic training she promises to be heard from again.

The Music of "Wang" is all so sprightly and full of color that it would be a waste of time to attempt to individualize the several well-known airs. Mr. Martin made a decided hit with his introduction of local gags in "The Man In the Moon" song. Reference to Pittsburgh's skyscrapers and the street cleaning crusade brought rounds of applause. Altogether the company got away with "Wang" in dashing style and made last night one of the best impressions of the season so far. Mr. J. D. Wilson was the Palm garden attraction and sang well, as he always does.

LIBERTY CLOTHING CO.'S BIG SALE!

MERCHANT TAILORED CLOTHING

AT A THIRD THE COST OF MANUFACTURE

View of Warner Bros. & Co. Clothing Manufactory at Buffalo.

Sale Starts Tomorrow (Wednesday) Morning

WHY SUCH FINE CLOTHING IS NOW SACRIFICED.

Owing to the continued cool weather, Warner Bros. & Co., of Buffalo, N. Y., have been obliged to sacrifice all their surplus stock. Naturally they came to the Liberty Clothing Company, of Pittsburgh, knowing the reputation of this concern for disposing of large lots of the best clothing.

Well, there was a good deal of figuring on both sides, but finally a satisfactory price was arrived at, and the goods were hurried here by express.

This is not only the largest purchase of fine clothing ever made by a Pittsburgh firm, but it is the most sensational in every respect.

First of all, Warner Bros. & Co. make merchant tailored garments only. The "cheap" hand-me-down goods are regarded by them as a disgrace to the business. So you'll understand why we are enthusiastic when we tell you that we secured exactly 2,840 suits from this firm—and every garment has a Warner Bros. & Co. label sewed on it, which is an absolute guarantee of the garment's quality.

The Warner Bros. Co. clothing is worn by the most stylish dressers in the country. It is made for men who can afford to pay for the best. Therefore, observe the enormous reductions from regular prices. We are actually offering these suits at an average of ONE-THIRD the prices which prevailed before this purchase was made.

NO TAILOR ON EARTH CAN MAKE FINER CLOTHING

There are about 150 patterns in this assortment, comprising the best American and imported cloths. All coats, pants and vests are hand-made and sewed with pure dye silk. The lowest priced suit in the lot was made to sell at $20, and from that they range up to $38. However, the special sale prices range from $6.98 to $9.98. You will get an idea of the up-to-date styles from the fact that you can choose from the new Norfolk, the Military, the Varsity, the 1902 Spring Model, the Half-Box, the Skeleton for hot weather, the Half-Skeleton, the extreme short Coat, the Straight Sack, etc.

It is only a few days since these goods left the hands of the workmen, so that absolutely all of them are strictly new weaves and colorings.

Every Man In Need of Clothing Should Attend This Sale.

If you can't come, send your size and the garments will be shipped to you immediately. We can furnish your exact size and guarantee a perfect fit. Such a sale was never before known.

You can now get three fine suits for the price of one.

Clothing for Men Who Know What's What

What we wish to impress upon you particularly is the character of this clothing. We repeat that it is merchant tailored clothing, not to be confounded with the ordinary clothing of any make whatever, but was made for the very best trade.

And gentlemen who can appreciate the difference between the finest and the ordinary will thank us for inviting them to attend this truly marvelous sale.

ative Leaders Object to Gen- Shut Down to Aid Those in thracite Region—Herman Justi Chicago Discusses the Situation.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 30.—Herman Justi, missioner of the Illinois Coal Oper- rs' association, has an article in Record-Herald on the present ne situation. He says: The joint terstate movement of coal miners d coal operators rests upon certain ell-defined principles, which have en clearly expressed, and which are ecognized as the declaration of faith both coal miners and coal oper- rs, who are parties to the joint in- rstate movement, and of all other par- es as well in the coal mining industry the United States who have subscribed and who are carrying out the idea em- ied in what are known as joint trade reements.

The coal miners and coal operators of nnsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois joint convention assembled at Indian- olis, Ind., February 9, 1902, unanimously opted resolutions declaring that the ntracts and agreements entered into be- ween them were made in good faith and "we consider ourselves severally and col- ectively bound in honor to carry them t in good faith in letter and spirit, and e so pledged to use our influence and thority to enforce these contracts and reements, the more so since they rest the main upon mutual confidence as eir basis." Mr. Justi continues:

Great Caution Necessary.

"We cannot exercise too much caution in hat we say or do at this time, for the re- lt of a general strike in the coal mining dustry would be far-reaching and ruin- us in its consequences. It should be borne n mind that the coal mining industry pplies the originating motive power for very other industry in the land, and if hat is to be paralyzed by idleness, what reat industry is there that will be able o furnish employment for the toiling asses?

"I am heartily in favor of trade agree- ments, and I believe the labor problem will in a great measure be solved when organized capital and organized labor uni- versally adopt the system, and when public opinion will refuse to countenance the violation of such agreements by either party. To be sure, if such trade agree- ments can be lightly swept aside by the whim of either party, then the whole sys- tem is a farce and will soon fall into disuse.

"Every strong, well-conducted labor or- anization that is reasonably fair in its dealings will survive all opposition and resistance from without, but they cannot survive the consequences of their own acts, if their own acts are foolish or vicious. The United Mine Workers of America is an organization second in in- fluence and numbers to no other labor or- ganization in the world; it is well man- aged and it has accomplished a great work, but the moment it ignores its agreements it will commit suicide.

Workmen Object to Strike.

"Conservative business men, as a rule, have reached the conclusion—whether they entirely approve of unions or not— that it is far better to give those now in existence a fair trial and help to make them perfect and to fulfill their mission rather than go through the sad experience with a new organization, which would certainly be the case if existing ones were destroyed.

"I have discussed the subject of a gen- eral strike in the coal mining industry with many labor leaders, and I have yet to find one who does not regard with dread and horror the possibility of a gen- eral strike, or who is unmindful of the resultant consequences to organized labor.

"The question as to how the rank and file view the matter is not so easily an- swered, but will they not ask themselves: What is it for which the anthracite miners are contending? They can only answer this question by saying that it is for some of those conditions of labor now enjoyed by the miners in the bituminous field. Can these conditions be obtained by ignoring the contracts now in effect and which they themselves have made? Will they imperil the advantages they now enjoy in a doubtful struggle entered into under such circumstances? To me it seems plain that the bituminous coal miners will neither ignore the law of self- preservation nor these simple considera- tions of right so clearly enunciated in the declaration of principles of coal miners and coal operators to which I have re- ferred at the beginning."

SETTLED ON WAGES.

Committee of Machinists and Em- ployes Reach Compromise—Other Firms Called to Meet It.

Committees representing the journeymen and employing machinists yesterday, in conference at the Hotel Lincoln, settled the wage demand of the workers for the year starting today. The settlement pro- vides an advance of 5 per cent for the men, an arbitration clause and holiday rules similar to those recently agreed to by the molders.

The committee of five, representing the employing concerns and headed by George Mesta of the Mesta Machine Company, represents 23 concerns who employ 75 per cent of the journeymen of the craft in this district.

Notice has been sent to the other em- ploying concerns that they must agree to the committee adjustment by July 10 or their men will be called on strike.

City Superintendent Samuel Andrews Who Will Deliver an Address Welcoming the State Educational Association of Pitts- burgh.

STATE EDUCATORS MEET TOMORROW

FORTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL SESSION OPENS IN PITTSBURGH.

Business and Pleasure Trips Will Keep Delegates Busy for Several Days. Noted Men of Profession Will Make Addresses Before Association.

The forty-seventh annual session of the Pennsylvania State Educational as- sociation will be called to order in the Alvin theater at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning by the president, J. R. Flick- inger, of Lock Haven. After prayer by the Rev. H. H. Marlin, Recorder J. O. Brown, representing the city; Dr. W. H. McKelvey, president of the Central Board of Education, and Samuel Andrews, su- perintendent of the Pittsburgh schools, will deliver addresses of welcome.

Responses will be made by Dr. B. J. Waller, principal of the Indiana State Normal school; J. L. E. McGinnes, super- intendent of the Steelton schools, and the Dr. H. T. Spangler, president of Ursinus college, Collegeville. The first paper will be "Supervision," W. L. Greene of Dubois will speak on it from the superin- tendent's point of view, and W. M. Fierce of Ridgeway from the teacher's point of view. H. C. Missimer of Erie, N. P. Kinsley of Franklin, and J. A. Wright of Bedford will take part in the discussion.

"Weak Points That Need Attention" is the title of the paper that will be read by Dr. T. B. Noss, principal of the State Normal school at California. The discus- sion will be by Dr. Daniel Fleisher of Columbia, Charles Loze of Williamsport, Henry S. Wertz of Blair county, and C. E. Dickey of Avalon.

At 2 o'clock all members of the asso- ciation are invited to go up the river on the Francis J. Torrance. Those who wish can stop to inspect the Homestead steel works, and the boat will pick them up on the return trip. The boat will go up the river as far as possible to return be- fore dark.

At 8 o'clock there will be another ses- sion at the Alvin, and President Flick- inger will deliver his address. There will also be an address by Dr. Charles F. Thwing, president of the Western Re- serve university, Cleveland, O.

On Thursday there will be a morning session, and in the afternoon those who wish may visit the Heinz pickle factory. When the party returns a visit will be made to Highland park, and then to Schenley park. At 8 o'clock Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh of the University of Penn- sylvania will lecture on "The Educa- tional Problem in Porto Rico." At the close there will be a reception at the Monongahela house, so that all may meet the officers of the association and other prominent educators of the state. Fri- day will be a busy day, as there are six papers and the discussions.

The Monongahela house is headquar- ters. In addition to the regular program, there will be Round Table conferences at the North school, at which there will be papers read and discussed. The rooms and conferences will be designated by Supt. Andrews.

PETITION FOR A NEW CHURCH WAS GRANTED

The Rev. Dr. J. T. Gibson and His Supporters Won a Victory in the Pittsburgh Presbytery.

As forecasted in The Gazette, the Rev. Dr. J. T. Gibson and his supporters won out in the movement for the erection of a new church in the East End district. The Pittsburgh presbytery, after unavail- ing efforts to unite the Fourth church and the proposed one, voted unanimously yesterday in favor of Dr. Gibson's peti- tion. The action of the presbytery is be- ing commended on all sides, as it settles amicably what might have developed into serious trouble.

Dr. Gibson and his supporters will now form a permanent congregation and es- tablish themselves as soon as possible. The presbytery, which met in the First church, received the resignation of the Rev. H. T. Kerr, who has accepted a call to a church in Hutchinson, Kas. The next meeting will be held in September.

In the Dunseith-Donehoo case it has been decided that the Ingram session was irregular in receiving W. B. McCormick into the church while he was still a mem- ber of Dr. Donehoo's church. Notwith- standing this Mr. McCormick and his family will remain in the Ingram session, the commission having reported that it was wiser to settle the affair as amicably as possible. The West End session, it is said, will now grant Mr. McCormick letters.

CITY WILL BE FAIRLY HIDDEN IN GAY COLORS

Pittsburgh Will Deck Herself in Red, White and Blue for the Fourth.

CITIZENS ARRAY HOMES

Dealers in Bunting and Flags Report Unprecedented Demand—Military Arrangements for the Day Are Completed—Honors for President.

Pittsburgh is to appear in gala dress for the Fourth. Plans are mak- ing that will convert the principal streets into waving masses of red, white and blue, with "Old Glory" dis- played from every possible point. The decorating is not going to be confined to the business section this year. Deal- ers in bunting and flags say the de- mand has been unprecedented. Every citizen wants to fling the national col- ors to the breeze and help the city present a bright and gay appearance.

The big business houses are going to make their establishments perfect masses of color and men are planning and arrang- ing the decorations now. By Thursday the downtown streets will be filled with flags and bunting. Out along the parade route, patriotic Pittsburghers are prepar- ing to welcome the city's honor guest by magnificent private decorations.

Among the firms that will get an early start in decorating is that of Horne- Stewart & Co., on Fifth avenue. A. A. Horne, the senior member of this firm, said last night:

"We propose to begin to decorate our buildings tomorrow, and hope to have the handsomest display in the city. At all events we will spend enough money to make it the best display if possible. Every building in the city should be decorated on the Fourth. As it is I do not believe there is a family in the city that does not possess an Ameri- can flag, and even if they cannot afford to get anything else they should display the American colors.

Big Display Promised.

"However, I have no doubt that hun- dreds will do much more towards beautify- ing the city for this occasion. It is seldom that we have a chance to show our best front to such a distinguished visitor as the chief executive of the na- tion, and we cannot afford to overlook this opportunity to show our patriotism and good will.

"There are plenty of handsome buildings in the city that would be greatly en- hanced in appearance by tasteful decora- tions, and I would like to see a lively competition between the business men of the downtown district to see which can get up the neatest and finest display."

Mr. Horne is only one of many who will begin to decorate today, and the indications are that the city will be a perfect mass of color on the Fourth, if the present plans are carried out.

Plans were announced today for the decoration of the Elks' club, Lodge No. 11, located at the corner of Jumonville street and Fifth avenue. Murray Liv- ingston is in charge of the work, and promises something very fine. At a meet- ing of the house committee of the club last night it was decided to erect a stand on the grounds in front of the clubhouse.

School Children Take Notice.

Superintendent Samuel Andrews of the public schools requests special notice of the fact that the school children who are to sing for the president as his carriage passes them, en route to the park on the morning of the Fourth, are to meet him at the Bellefield school yard, on Fifth avenue, near the Hotel Schenley, at 8 o'clock on the morning of the Fourth, in- stead of at the asylum grounds, as was previously arranged. The schools are dismissed for the summer and Mr. An- drews has no other method of notifying the children. He says the Bellefield school grounds are well adapted for the purpose, and that he may also get the grounds of the United Presbyterian church adjoining.

Prof. F. E. Rinehart has charge of the music, and will conduct the children in their singing of patriotic airs. A cor- netist will assist. There will be about 2,000 children in the chorus.

Col. Samuel Moody, assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, who is on the transportation com- mittee, said last night that his com- pany had made every arrangement for the comfort and pleasure of the excur- sionists. He expects thousands from points as far west as Alliance, Canton, Youngs- town, Steubenville, Akron and other points in Ohio.

Military Arrangements.

The military preparations for the recep- tion of President Roosevelt have been completed, and are the most elaborate in the history of the local national guard. The troops will parade in their blue serv- ice uniform, with white collars. Com- pany commanders have promulgated all the necessary orders, and the full strength of the commands is promised. It will be no doubt disappointing to many of the troops that there will be no review, but this has been taken care of, as the president's carriage will be driven through the lines, just before he takes position on the stand in Schenley park. Instead of a marching salute the presi- dent's march will be sounded, colors will be dipped and the brigade will present arms.

The Sheridan troop will be massed un- der the porte cochere at Union station, and the guard massed in Liberty street, the right resting in New Grant street. The Boys' brigade and other independent military organizations will be formed in line on the north side of Liberty street. When the president debouches from the station the president's march will be sounded and three ruffles will announce to the waiting troops his arrival.

Troops Will See Him.

When he emerges from the center door of the station, there will be a flash of sabers as he enters his carriage, and the troop will be formed in columns of platoons. The president will be driven rapidly between the line of waiting troops in Liberty street, and will re- ceive the usual military honors as he passes between the lines.

A platoon of mounted police will lead the marching column. The troopers in advanced and rear guard formation with flankers thrown out, will surround the president's carriage. Maj. John P. Pen- ney, will act as personal aide to the president, and will ride mounted by his carriage. A platoon of mounted police will also act as rear guard to the march- ing column.

The escort of the national guard, which is to be composed of infantry, artillery and cavalry, will be in the order named. Battery B will fire the national salute for the president upon his arrival in Union station, and will leave the march- ing column to fire the national salute as the president is entering the park. The battery will be put in action front, and take a position on the ridge overlooking the Schenley hotel.

Arrangements for Day.

The troops will be drawn up in line as soon as the president's stand is reached. As his carriage enters the line, arms will be presented and colors drooped. This will be the only military feature in the park, after which the troops will be dismissed. At the close of the ceremonies in the park, the presi- dent will be driven to the residence of Henry Clay Frick, and will be escorted by the Sheridan troop. A large tent will be erected on the lawn of Mr. Frick, where the troop will be entertained and their mounts cared for in the large stables. In the evening the president will return to the park, escorted by the troopers, to view the fireworks.

The troops will be formed in a provi- sional brigade, and will be in command of Gen. John A. Wiley, who will be ac- companied by his staff. Gen. Wiley will open his headquarters in the Seventh Avenue hotel on Thursday morning. The Sheridan troop will arrive in the city early on the morning of July 4, and will be quartered in the Eighteenth in- fantry armory in Oakland. The Tenth infantry will arrive in the city early the same morning.

The military attendance promises to be the largest ever seen on a holiday parade in this city. Although the troops are disappointed in not being allowed to wear the khaki uniform it is not thought likely that it will affect the attendance.

Yesterday's contributions brought the Fourth of July fund up to $21,155. They were as follows:

FOR WINTER WORK.

Plans for the Boys' Industrial Home at Oakdale.

The managers of the Boys' Industrial home at Oakdale have completed the plans for the greenhouse and workshop where the boys can be employed this winter when the weather will not permit of outdoor work, and now need the $2,000 that is necessary to complete the build- ings. When the matter was presented to a leading oil man he at once gave his check for $200.

In the six months ending June 15, 85 boys have been cared for in the home and it is hoped that by winter there will be accommodations for twice as many boys, the needs of an institution of this kind becomes more apparent every day. The home has a property worth $20,000, but like all institutions, money is needed, and particularly is it needed now so that the plans can be made for the winter. Charles E. Dean, cashier of the Union National bank, is the treasurer.

THE ATTRACTIONS OF A BIG MODERN STORE

Some of the Interesting Things to Be Seen in the Horne-Stewart Establishment.

Within the past two years the Horne-Stewart store has branched out from its former conservative catering to women alone, and has finally taken in all the departments which go to make up the full-fledged modern department store. In enlarging the space, the far-seeing managers have, however, kept up the exclusive character of the goods handled, holding to their former plan of ultra-elegance in each department, so that a saunter through the present spacious shop is a veritable glance into the fashion world, with all its kaleidoscopic changes and interesting developments.

Nowhere in the shop is this more apparent just now than among the silks, where the Dolly Varden and Pompadour silks, in all the dainty colorings of the French designs, are to be found. The plain and fancy moires which are to be used extensively in the autumn for wraps, short coats and entire costumes, are shown and the soft twilled foulards so happily chosen for shirtwaist suits this summer, are to be found in every variety which public taste demands, while the sheer materials, voiles, crepes-de-Paris, silk and wool crepes in navy, and the fashionable reseda are temptingly suggestive of handsome street gowns.

Especially is this true of a new voile, showing invisible checks woven in the material and designed for street or afternoon gowns. The striped yachting cloth used for all kinds of outing, especially for tennis, is most attractive to the Pittsburgh woman, because of its light coloring, which gives it a particularly dainty effect against dingy surroundings. Bright red cheviot, heavy but very soft in weave, is shown for automobile coats and golf jackets. A draping of scarlet and green in this, in the dress goods departments, offers artistic suggestion for color combination.

Pretty Made-Up Suits.

In the made-up suits, the Horne-Stewart management has displayed a particularly happy taste this summer, and the beautiful voiles and canvas weaves, with light broadcloths, Persian trimmed and elegant, are tempting to the lover of pretty things. From the suits to the hats is but a step, and in the millinery department is shown all the chic and Frenchy smartness which has long distinguished the creations bearing the Horne-Stewart name. Especially of the toques and bonnets for middle-aged women is this true, though for the young woman desirous of combining smartness with dignity, there is every possibility of happy choice.

A glance at the novelty counter shows novelties in truth such as make a visit interesting at any time. Belts with the natty little postillion tabs or coquettishly made of open mesh silk are shown for morning or formal wear and belt pins of gun metal set with small coral or turquoise stones present the extreme of elegant conservatism. Wrist bags in grey and tan leather, soft as satin, have wreathing edges of silver leaves or snake frames with serpent heads from which jewelled eyes glitter, holding the wrist chain in place. Some of these are fitted with card case, purse and smelling bottle, and are the last cry of convenient smartness for the twentieth century woman. In the hosiery and underwear department, something of dainty interest is always a forgone conclusion. Just now it is the strapless undervests for evening dress, and the new silk and lace sox for women. These latter have just come from New York.

There never was a woman yet who did not love linen and the new Louis Quinze tablecloths, woven with fleur-de-lis and palms, is decidedly fascinating to housewifely taste. The convent and peasant embroidery on fine linen handerchiefs stands equal in charm to the connoisseur and the newest patterns for initials or monograms are full of artistic suggestion.

Novelties in lace and embroidery never fail to tempt fair woman, who loves fine work by her very nature. The small and variously shaped made medallions for use on silk or linen frocks are of absorbing interest, and the Horne-Stewart display has skimmed the world's cream, showing patterns which no shop not even the prime Paris studios, may outrival.

There is a most seasonable interest just now in the men's furnishing department, where large sizes in underclothing are made a specialty, and where all the hygienic linen mesh underwear is sold.

No one ever visits the Horne-Stewart establishment without a lingering visit to the art department, where just now the beautiful Mount Mellek work is attracting attention. On satin damask the silver white silk embroidery stands out with shining distinctness, attracting a murmur of admiration from every one who sees it, and the birthday pillows, showing the astrological design of the months, with a seasonable flower and the traditional jewel, are formed into an attractive border.

A glance at the men's clothing floor reveals the magic of the Rogers, Peet & Co. name for whom the Horne-Stewart Company is the sole distributer in Western Pennsylvania and a final peep into the children's room shows the daintiest of infant wear, all edged with filmy lace and packed, if desired, in satin tied baskets for layette gifts.

An extensive shopping list may be well cancelled from end to end in a journey through this single establishment, where women love to go and where every new trip reveals some new attraction.

FINAL HEARING IN THE CLAIM OF DR. BROWNING

Arguments in the Case Which Involves a Doctor's Bill of $350,000.

LONG ADDRESSES MADE

The Attorneys for the Plaintiff Insisted That the Claim of Dr. Browning Was in Accordance With the Wishes of the Senator.

The final hearing was held yesterday before Judge J. W. Over upon the claim of Dr. W. C. Browning of Philadelphia for $350,000 from the estate of the late C. L. Magee. Of the sum claimed $190,000, represented compensation for services as physician to the decedent, and the balance is claimed as profits upon investments said to have been made by Mr. Magee for himself and the doctor. The executors of the estate were represented by Attorney George C. Wilson and W. D. Evans. Dr. Browning was represented by Attorney W. B. Rodgers and Attorney J. Rodgers McCreery.

The session was given up to arguments. Mr. Wilson spoke for two and one-half hours and Mr. Rodgers for two and three-fourths hours. During his address Mr. Wilson wholly ignored making any reference to the claim of profits upon stock transactions and Mr. Rodgers only lightly touched upon it.

In opening his argument Mr. Wilson cited a number of cases tending to show the testimony of Dr. Browning and his nurse, Miss Garrett, should not have been allowed. He also read the deposition of Mrs. Magee which was taken by agreement of counsel, but not admitted as evidence. This testimony was read to show that Dr. Browning did not accompany Mr. Magee on many of his trips. Mr. Wilson took up the testimony of the witnesses. He said the evidence given by the bell boy at the Stafford hotel was of no importance, as all that he remembered was seeing Dr. Browning at the hotel every day.

Reviewed Miller's Testimony.

He reviewed the testimony of George W. Miller to show that Dr. Browning did not give up his practice to attend Mr. Magee at Atlantic City. Mr. Wilson referred to the nurse treating Mr. Magee in the same manner as did Dr. Browning, of the assurances made by the doctor that he would cure Mr. Magee, up until a week of the latter's death, and of the testimony of the "ear, eye and nose specialists" called in behalf of Dr. Browning.

Mr. Wilson referred to the evidence given by John I. Shaw as to conversations he had with Mr. Magee about the physician's rates, and he called especial attention to the fact that at these talks no one was present except Mr. Magee, Dr. Browning and Mr. Shaw. Reference was made to Mr. Shaw's remark to Mr. Magee when the doctor's bill was spoken of to the effect the "executors have cold feet." Upon this Mr. Wilson said: "Can you imagine such a thing, your honor? Here is a man gaying such things in the sick room a few months before Mr. Magee's death."

Mr. Wilson contended that Dr. Browning did not present a paper to sustain his claim and contended that the doctor either misunderstood Mr. Magee's case or gave false assurances. Mr. Wilson said that Mr. Shaw was the last man to call upon Mr. Magee and the first to cease visiting him. He argued that it was very strange Mr. Magee had not told his closest friends what Mr. Shaw said he told him.

Mr. Rodger's Argument.

In opening his argument Mr. Rodgers said that no one knew his business better than Mr. Magee himself. He showed that there is a balance of the personal estate of Mr. Magee of $2,869,488.97, after the payment of $164,904 to the executors and $27,000 to Mr. Wilson. This was done to show Dr. Browning's bill comparatively was not large. Mr. Rodgers said it was idle talk to say that Mr. Magee could have been treated as well by "Wash Moore, superintendent of city property of the city of Pittsburgh, or Mike Brennan, the barber and bleeder, and thus save expenses."

Mr. Rodgers said it was fortunate for Mr. Magee that he was not dependent upon the executors for what he wanted. Mr. Magee's memory had been "wounded in the house of his friends." Again Mr. Rodgers said:

"If Dr. Browning was right in his diagnosis, and these experts wrong in theory, then he did this for Mr. Magee if not more—he saved him from a capital operation, and assuming that he had survived that operation, he saved him from the admitted results of an operation." Mr. Rodgers compared Mr. Magee's condition before and after his visits to Dr. Browning, and referred to his remark: "I'll take my hat off to you, Dr. Browning. I am still living."

Read a Statement.

The lawyer read a statement of the times Dr. Browning had treated Mr. Magee and the periods, and said that Mr. Magee's closest friends did not deny the doctor's treatment was beneficial, which is evidence for the claimant. He declared the expressions of witnesses neither made nor will change the contract and that if Mr. Magee was satisfied no one can now complain.

He said that if Mr. Magee's mind was affected it would not hurt some others to be affected likewise, and that there was no evidence to show that he had an incurable disease. Mr. Rodgers reviewed the evidence as to the alleged stock account. He said Mr. Magee would have never occupied the position of his executors and that if Mr. Magee was satisfied it is not right for the "executors to steal from Dr. Browning that to which he is entitled." In conclusion Mr. Rodgers said:

"I am here as I started out. I stand here representing Mr. Magee's wishes. I represent him: the executors misrepresent him." Mr. Wilson filed a protest against this, after which the court took the papers.

BEAN'S REASON GIVEN.

His Attorney Says He Was Promised a Suspension of Sentence in the Case.

In the criminal court yesterday Attorney Ralph P. Tannehill filed a petition in which he sets forth the reasons why D. P. Bean wishes to withdraw his plea of no defense in the perjury case against him.

The petition sets forth that the plea was made under a misapprehension that Attorney Clarence Burleigh, who represents the prosecutor, the Pittsburgh Railways Company, stated that he would use his influence with the court to have sentence suspended if he would withdraw the civil suit against the Pittsburgh Railways Company and enter a plea of no defense in the perjury case. This was done, but later, it is alleged, that Attorney Burleigh stated that the company intended to make an example of Bean.

The court said during the argument yesterday that Attorney Tannehill was laboring under a very great misapprehension if he thought Attorney Burleigh could get the court to suspend sentence. He said that the court is not in the habit of suspending sentence on men who plead guilty, especially in perjury cases. The court further said that unless some better reason could be advanced to cause a suspension of sentence the sentence would be pronounced.

Bean received a verdict of $1,000 damages for the alleged loss of the sight of his right eye and the Pittsburgh Railways Company claims the sight was injured in another manner than on a street car.

ASKS FOR A RECEIVER.

Bill in Equity Against the Valley Camp Meeting Association.

Attorneys C. F. McKenna and E. J. McKenna, representing William J. Kountz, executor and trustee of the estate of Peninah W. Kountz, filed a bill in equity in common pleas court No. 1 against the Allegheny Valley Camp Meeting association. It is asked that a receiver be appointed for the association, that the association be restrained from diverting its property at Valley Camp station from the purposes authorized in its charter, and that the board of managers be restrained from levying assessments upon the stock held by the estate.

It is stated in the bill that Peninah W. Kountz before her death, November 29, 1890, possessed certain certificates of ownership of 28 lots of the 35 acres of the association at Valley Camp station. It is said the corporation, through its managers, have for the past several years discontinued the holding of annual camp meetings as required by its charter, and have abandoned the grounds. It is alleged the managers have permitted the corporation to use the ground as an undenominational summer resort, and although at no legal expense the managers have continued to levy assessments upon stock and have threatened to forfeit the stock held by the estate if it is not paid.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

By the will of Albert Gauson of Pittsburgh, an estate valued at $1,100 is left to Mrs. Philomena Chuson.

Executions were issued as follows: W. W. Giffen vs. John H. Hulls et al., $965; W. W. Whitesell vs. George H. Frensch et al., $1,110.

John H. Keeler of Duquesne filed a petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities are $11,203, and assets $1,565. A like petition was filed by Benjamin Goldstein of Monongahela. He owes $7,832 and has $776 assets.

Precipes without statements were entered in the following damage suits: Charles Morrow, E. V. Gordon and Patrick Costello against the Allegheny Cemetery Company, and against the Westside Belt Railroad Company.

Jane M. Graham filed a bill in equity against W. F. Frazier and M. J. Shuey to have a certain lease cancelled. The plaintiff says the terms of the lease were misrepresented to her and charges the defendants with making fraudulent representations.

The report of the commissioner in the divorce suit of Elnma Merriman against Elmer S. Merriman was filed. Mrs. Merriman says she left her husband because of his abuse. She says he choked her until she was "black in the face."

The will of Hugh Claney, aged 95, who died in Bellevue last week, was filed yesterday. The estate is valued at $30,000. To Jennie Davis is bequeathed $100. Albert J. Claney $2,000, and Margaret, Clarence and Hugh Miller certain real estate in Bellevue. A lot in the same plan is left to Ellen C. McIntosh. The residue of the estate goes to Albert J. Claney, James M. Claney and Elsie Claney.

In the case of F. D. Ort against A. Wirth, a statement was filed yesterday in which the plaintiff asks for $2,500 damages. It is alleged that the defendant on June 3 sold to the plaintiff a cow which he represented was in good healthy condition. Ort further alleges that the cow was suffering from several diseases, and that Wirth paid a fine of $50 and costs for the offense which was imposed by an alderman.

The following decrees in distribution were made yesterday: Rosina Lasher, $1,002 21; Frances Carraher, $3,615 81; Sarah A. Bishop, $5,070 57; James A. Murray, $5,694 41; Anna Gunning, $205 24; Carolina O. Thompson, $15,850 39; Magdalena Schultz, $19,972 63; Catherine Casey, $376 80; Richard J. Volk, $1,436 08; Mary Schuck, $2,305 10; Emma M. Dodds, $1,373 17; August Steinmeyer, $500; William B. McLaughlin, $673 01; John Fischer, $309 80; William Helbling, $123 54.

STEAMERS MAY ESCAPE

Revenue Cutter Thetis Stands by the Jeanie and Portland, Imprisoned in the Ice.

PORT TOWNSEND, WASH., June 30.—The steamer Centennial reached port this morning from Cape Nome, bringing news of the safety of the steamers Jeanie and Portland. She also brought word that the story of the loss of the United States revenue cutter Thetis is untrue.

The steam whaler Belvedere arrived at Cape Nome on June 20 and reported that the Jeanie and Portland were sighted in the ice pack June 17, 80 miles north of Cape Prince of Wales and the Diomede islands. The revenue cutter Thetis was standing by the imprisoned vessels.

The Jeanie and Portland were not injured by the ice and there were good prospects of their getting away.

BAPTIST MINISTERS MET.

Held an All-Day Session in the Wilkinsburg Church.

The Baptist ministers of the Pittsburgh conference held an all-day session yesterday in the Wilkinsburg church, the Rev. J. M. Moore, pastor. The meeting was called to order by the Rev. G. A. Sheets, who read a paper on "Is Soul-Winning Becoming a Lost Art?" Luncheon was served at noon by the ladies of the church. The afternoon session was given to a conference on evangelistic work, with the Rev. J. A. Maxwell as moderator. Papers were read by the Rev. J. M. Thomas the Rev. J. T. Davis, and the Rev. J. M. Moore. In the evening special devotional exercises were held.

The Presbyterian ministers discussed "summer revivals" at their regular Monday meeting. It was announced that the Rev. Dr. J. P. Calhoun will have charge of the open-air services next week.

WANTS GUFFEY TO HELP

Trouble Expected in the Third and Fourth Legislative Democratic Conventions Tonight—Temporary Rolls Will Contain Surprises.

Friends of George W. Guthrie say that he is not altogether pleased with the Erie platform. They say that he was not consulted in the construction of the planks and thinks that he should have been.

Since Guthrie has been nominated for lieutenant governor he is said to be of the opinion that he should have had something to say about the platform. While this will not keep him from accepting, it gives him something to object about. The candidate is said to feel that Col. James M. Guffey owes him a call. The men have not met since the Erie convention. Guthrie would evidently like to be urged to take a place on the ticket. It is doubtful if the colonel will walk over to Diamond alley to do the persuading. The manager of the Democratic party no doubt believes that it is Guthrie's place to call.

May Meet on the Fourth.

Col. Guffey and Guthrie may meet on Independence Day. Robert E. Pattison is expected here Friday, and there will be a general conference. It is believed that Guthrie will then announce his acceptance of the lieutenant governorship. His friends are all of the opinion that he will not decline.

Controller John B. Larkin had a long talk with Guthrie yesterday. After the conference Larkin refused to say whether the candidate would accept, but remarked, "I think that he should." The controller was not disposed to discuss the report that Guthrie was not exactly pleased with the platform. He said Guthrie had not talked with him about it.

Friends of Guthrie are dropping in to see him every day, and urging him to accept the nomination. When they leave him they all appear to have gotten the impression that the nomination will not be refused.

Clark Will Control.

Even the opponents of County Commissioner James A. Clark say that he will control the Democratic county convention. George S. Fleming announced yesterday that he had conferred with D. J. McCarthy and could say that the Braddock man would favor the nomination of Clark. One of McCarthy's friends in the Eighth legislative district convention will today announce that McCarthy has withdrawn in favor of Clark. Michael Gross of McKeesport is also said to have quit the race.

Dr. W. E. Johnston of Etna, who made an effort to elect delegates friendly to his candidacy for commissioner, was not at headquarters yesterday, but it is believed that he is still in the fight. Alderman John A. Martin of Pittsburgh says that he will stick to a finish. He claims 11 of the 30 delegates, but admits that it will be impossible to defeat Clark. He says that he will get three delegates in the Third, two in the Fourth, four in the Fifth and two in the Seventh.

Martin May Be Surprised.

There may be a surprise in store for the alderman. In local Democratic politics it is never safe for a man to claim anything until he has heard the temporary roll read. Yesterday was roll-making day at headquarters. The temporary chairmen of the Eighth legislative district conventions were there. County Chairman Thomas B. Alcorn presided, and Timothy O'Leary performed his customary duty of "making the roll." On this roll are placed the delegates who have a prima facie right, in the eyes of the organization, to be there. Probably some of them were voted for at the primaries Saturday and probably not. That is a matter of small importance to rollmakers.

This roll is used to perfect the temporary organization. From among these delegates a committee on contests will be appointed. It is the duty of this body to pass upon the right of delegates; who were no doubt elected Saturday, to sit in the convention. If this committee does what the organization expects, it will throw out every real delegate, unless he is "right." Martin's delegates in the Third district are not "right," so it is quite probable that when the temporary roll is read he will recognize few names. O'Leary says that Martin will have two delegates in the district convention.

Martin Expects Trouble.

Martin says that he understands his men are to be kept off the roll. He is ready to fight. The alderman claims to have carried the entire district. The statement of O'Leary would indicate that some one is being deceived or is in error. Martin expects to force the Citizens to give the Democrats one candidate for assemblyman in the Third district. If this cannot be done, the 'squire proposes to nominate two Democrats. These statements were made before he had seen the temporary roll. It may be that he will not be in a position to control the district after the convention gets down to business. Dennis J. Boyle will preside over this convention. It may be that he is a trifle short in parliamentary law, but he knows how to "run" a Democratic meeting. He is not for Martin, and this fact will no doubt be clearly shown the minute the ball opens.

Interesting in the Fourth.

The hardest fight is expected in the Fourth legislative convention tonight in Ralston school. John J. Sweeney and William J. Ryan are both confident of winning the assembly nomination. No matter who is successful, the delegates to the county convention will support Clark.

Both candidates think that they have a friendly chairman in George S. Fleming. He says that he will be impartial and denies that the committee on contests has already agreed upon its report. Fleming's friends are urging him not to preside at the meeting, as they are fearful of trouble. He insists that he will be there and is not the least bit afraid of a riot.

John Larkin is positive in his declaration that Sweeney cannot be nominated. When told that the roll was probably made up in the interest of Sweeney, he said: "There will be another roll then, and Sweeney will not be nominated." The probability of two conventions appears to be great. Thomas S. Bigelow says that if Sweeney is nominated the Citizens will not indorse him.

In the Second Allegheny district the Democrats say that they will name Squire Harkins and Mr. Hamilton as candidates for assembly. If this is done it will be in defiance of the Citizens-Democratic agreement.

Controller Larkin has got into the Fourth district contest in the interest of Ryan. He was busy yesterday trying to get support for the Twelfth ward man and last night made this statement:

"The fight against Ryan, the Citizens nominee for the legislature in the Fourth district, is engineered chiefly by ring Democrats on the city and county pay roll and in obedience to orders of the machine. It is the last ditch, and the police are to do their full share of the work. This district has always been disgraced by a ring Democrat in the legislature, except in the case of Brophy, who was and is a true Democrat.

"The people, however, have tired of this and will insist on having the man they want, regardless of what the convention does tonight. I have reason to believe the roll is padded against Ryan, and the convention is likely to be organized against him.

"It is true he still has the courts to appeal to, and if beaten there must organize for the polls, where the people will overwhelmingly outvote the gang and all connected with it, through nomination papers for every man on the Citizens ticket in that district. That's my advice to them, and they will follow it. The people are always right, and the scandals of that district will be resented by them by a majority for Ryan unequaled in that ring-ridden district. The ring Democrats, prominent in this fight, must be kept in the front that the people may know them and give them full credit for their participation.

"I do not live in the district, but am in this fight as a Democrat and a citizen who believes the people have some rights that must be respected, and for the other reason that the Citizens and Democrats of this district voted for the people in February."

Sweeney Men Caucus.

Sweeney held a caucus of his delegates last night. He says that out of 18 he had 16 present, and all swore that they would stick with him to a finish. There are 26 delegates in the convention, and it takes 14 to nominate. Ryan is just as positive that he has 18 votes.

Sweeney says that his delegates were instructed to vote for the following delegates to the county convention, who will support James A. Clark: George S. Fleming, P. J. Barry and Patrick Kearns.

Sweeney says that many of his delegates were elected without a contest. If delegates, representing any of these districts, are brought into the convention by Ryan, Sweeney announces that he will make an information for perjury against each one, and push the case in the courts. He has knowledge that fake contests are to be made, and is prepared to make a legal battle. It is quite probable that the courts will finally have to determine who is the nominee in the district, and both sides are keeping this in mind.

Martin Prepared to Fight.

There was an unusual meeting in the office of an alderman last night. Squire Martin had heard that attempt would be made to pack the roll of the Third legislative district convention, and keep his friends from controlling the convention.

Martin called in his lieutenants, and a council of war was held. He told them that he had carried 38 districts in the Saturday primaries and knew of but two contests until yesterday, when he discovered the opposition had filed 23 contests against his men. It was also explained that with Dennis J. Boyle in the chair, the Martin people could expect the worst of it. By unanimous consent it was decided to go to city hall in a drove and use force if necessary to secure proper recognition for Martin.

Sensational Day in Chicago Pits

WET WEATHER SENDS GRAINS TO TOP NOTCH

Corn Hits the Highest Price Known in the Past Ten Years.

WHEAT IS ON THE JUMP

Rain Scared Crowd--Shorts Rapidly Scurry to Cover--Bulls Have Too Much News--Oats Join in the General Flurry.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 30.—In the grain pits today the dominating influence was the rain which has fallen since Saturday to flood an already soaked country. The dry spots on the map were so few as to scarcely warrant attention. Wheat closed 1¼c over Saturday, corn 1⅛@2⅝c up, oats 1¼@1⅜c higher and provisions 2½c to 7½c improved.

September wheat, in which option the bulk of trade was transacted in the wheat pit, opened ⅞c to 1⅛c higher at 73¼c to 73⅝c and went at a jump to 74c amid the clamor of a rain-scared crowd of shorts. Although not needed for the purpose, a decrease of 3,725,000 bushels in the quantity afloat, and a report that France would have to do some steep importing owing to a prospective late European harvest, acted as auxiliary influences in sustaining prices. On the other side there were two considerations—lower Liverpool cables and the feeling that the rain must finally cease. Trade was heavy during the first hour, but the price did not get outside the opening range, nor did it during the remainder of the session, when the volume of transactions decreased.

Close Strong and Higher.

The close was strong, September 1¼c up to 73⅝c. The visible decrease 1,275,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 637,000 bushels compared with 499,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 495 cars and Chicago 29, with 5 of contract grade. This made a total for the three points of 524 cars against 452 last week and 517 a year ago.

Corn was excited and the feeling nervous, but prices exhibited buoyancy which refused to be dulled even when the manipulators of the July delivery jumped September into the pit in increasing quantities. July corn started bobbing up smartly, but shipments, the coarse grain strength and a fair visible supply decrease. The close was firm at 1⅛@1¼c net advance. July, 49½@50c, closed 50c; September, 48¾@49c, closed 49c; December, 43¾@44c, closed 44c. Oats—Receipts 18,000 bushels; exports, 30,414 bushels. Spot firm, 60½c elevator and 71c f. o. b. afloat. Activity and strength were in full evidence today, the market advancing sharply on excessive rains in Iowa and Illinois, closing firm at ⅝@1⅛c net advance. July, 37½@38⅝c; September, 28¾@29c, closed 28¾c; December, closed 25¾c. Corn—Receipts 18,000 bushels; exports, 30,414 bushels. Spot firm, 60½c elevator and 71c f. o. b. afloat. Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Coffee futures opened steady, with prices 5 points lower. News generally, with the exception of firmer Brazilian markets, was bearish in character, particularly cables from the French market, which depicted a net decline there of 1 franc. Receipts were heavy at primary points and spot trade was dull. Local business was confined principally to professional transactions and prices finally closed more than 5 points after the first call, closing prices being 5@10 points lower and the tone quiet. Total sales were 15,500 bags, including July at 4.85@4.85c; August, 4.85c; September, 5c; October, 5.10c; December, 5.20@5.25c; January, 5.25c; March, 5.45c; May, 5.55c. Sugar, raw steady; fair refining, 3¾c; centrifugal, 96 test, 4¼c; molasses sugar, 2¾c; refined quiet.

Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Drygoods—The week opens with a quiet general tone. Bleached cottons are still in fair demand, but other lines of cotton goods are in decidedly moderate demand today. There is no change in the position of the market or in quotations in any direction. Print cloths are unchanged. Buyers indifferent at current prices. This market will be closed next Friday and Saturday.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 30.—M. F. Rowland, a Montana miner who has just returned from Alaska, reports a stampede from the Valdez country to the Nizini river, where rich placer diggings have been discovered. Claims are yielding from 20 cents to $2 a pan under adverse circumstances, and nuggets as large as beans are found among the gravel. A little north of this discovery, Mr. Rowland says, are very rich copper properties. He believes the Nizini and Kotsina country will prove the richest mining camps in the far north.

Cripple Creek's production for the first half of this year is estimated at $13,026,302, against $12,102,500 for the same period of 1901. The dividend record for the six months was $1,489,140, a considerable decrease from that of the corresponding period of last year. This was due to several of the big producers entering barren zones. The Portland passed its dividend and put $1,000,000 into its new mill. Under all the circumstances the gain in the camp's output is regarded as satisfactory.

A dispatch from Durango, Col., says Frank Weston, husband of Effie Ellsler, the actress, has made a big stake in his claims in the Needleton district. It is a strong vein of quartzite three feet wide and carrying $60 gold, 110 ounces silver and 15 per cent lead, which was uncovered in a 200-foot tunnel.

Western college men have organized the Phi Delta Theta Copper Mining Company, to work the Sweetheart group at the head of Cow Creek, Wyo. The capitalization is $1,000,000 in $1 shares.

Great activity is apparent in every part of the Battle Lake district, Wyo., a correspondent writes to a New York house that from Badger peak west to the Buhah and Copper Blossom there is a continuous chain of shafts and tunnels, and copper ore is as plenty as pine trees. Money for operations also is plentiful. Ten thousand dollars in the treasury for working purposes is common, and many companies have several times that amount on hand with which to conduct summer developments.

Pay Heleonda, in the Cracker Creek district, Ore., has encountered more of the rich ore discovered on the 200-foot level a few weeks ago. It runs $100 to the ton and is further proof of the continuity of the vein.

The Metal Market.

Considerable local business was closed in tin today, sales amounting to about 30 tons for July delivery at 28¼@28⅝c. The spot market closed lower, $27 75@28 00. The London market was $1 lower, with spot at £124 10s and futures at £121. Copper was easy and lower here, with standard, spot to August, at $11 87½@11 75. Lake, $11 90@12 00. Electrolytic, $11 90@12 05, and casting, $11 80@12 00. The London dooper was £2 6d lower, with spot at £52 5s and futures at £53. Lead was unchanged at New York at 4½c and London was also unchanged at £11 2s 6d. Spelter ruled dull but firm at 5c, while London closed at £18 12s 6d. While locally iron was steady and unchanged, advices here said were higher. Heavy warrants closed nominal; No. 1 foundry, $22 00@23 00; No. 2 foundry, northern, $21 00@22 00; No. 1 foundry, southern, $21 50@22 50; No. 2 foundry, southern soft, $21 50@22 50. Glasgow closed at 55s and Middlesboro at 49s 7½d.

MACHINISTS WALK OUT.

Strike of Union Pacific Shopmen Is Practically Complete.

OMAHA, NEB., June 30.—The machinists of the Union Pacific railroad, in accordance with their decision last Saturday, today struck in all the large and many of the smaller shops of the system. With few exceptions the walkout seems to be general.

President Burt volunteered the information that his company was not antagonizing the labor unions and that the management of the road had decided on a fixed policy of using the piece work system in all its shops. He said the system had been in use about 10 days in several of the shops and had proved satisfactory. He expressed a belief that the men would all return to work in a short while and that the whole matter would soon be settled.

The demands of the machinists are that they receive an increase of 10 per cent in wages and that the company do not adopt the piece work system.

ANOTHER WEST VIRGINIA GUSHER IS DEVELOPED

The new Keener sand strike, west of the Big Knot Run pool in Clay district, Ritchie county, W. Va., did as predicted when drilled deeper last Saturday evening, and places another gusher to the credit of this part of Ritchie county. The well was drilled in last Thursday and from the top of the sand showed over 150 barrels a day, but when drilled a little deeper into the sand increased its production to 25 barrels an hour and the gauge for the first 24 hours was 576 barrels. It is owned by the Three Joes Oil Company, located in the Savoy Wagner farm, and is certain to open a big pool of Keener sand oil.

In the Folsom Gordon sand district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test well on the Keener heirs' farm, located west of the Fairfield Peterson No. 1, into the Gordon stray and has a show for a big 3-barrel producer. It will be drilled to the Gordon.

In the same district, Miller Bros.' No. 1 on the E. A. Tuckington farm is holding up at 50 barrels a day. This is the best producer that has been completed in this end of the development.

In the northeast end of the Pine Grove district and northeast of the producers on the Dewey farm, the South Penn has drilled its No. 1 on the Mary E. Wyatt farm into the stray and has a show for a producer.

In the west side of the "Little Germany" district in Marshall county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 2 on the A. J. Carlisle farm into the Gordon and has a producer. The hole stands full of fluid and the well is shut in.

In the Fish Creek district the same company has drilled in its No. 2 on the John Shaw farm and has a show for a small producer.

In the Meadville district, Tyler county, the Hanson Oil Company has completed its test on the C. C. Craven farm and has a duster in the Big Injun sand.

In Pettis run, Union district, Pleasant county, Benedum & Co. have drilled their test on Joseph Holden farm through the Maxon sand and have a duster. They are now drilling to the Big Injun.

Southwest of the Wolf Summit field in Harrison county, the South Penn Company has drilled its No. 1 on the G. W. Brobard farm through all sands, including the fifth, and has a small pumper in the lower formation.

West of Salem the same company has drilled its test on the Wilson farm through all sands and has a small pumper.

In the Beails Mills district No. 5 on the O. W. McEachleon farm has been drilled through the Golden sand, showing for a small well.

West of the Blacksville development in Greene county, the Philadelphia Company completed a test well on the McNeeley farm and has a fine gasser in the deep sand.

In the Mt. Morris district the Carnegie Natural Gas Company has drilled its test on the John South farm through all sands and has a duster.

Southeastern Ohio.

In the new Keener sand pool, west of Jerusalem, Monroe county, Ohio, the Unity Oil Company's No. 2 on the E. J. and K. M. Harper farm is producing 150 barrels a day. No. 1 on the same farm, 30 barrels; No. 1 on the E. A. Jones farm, 80 barrels; No. 1 C. E. Kelter, 95 barrels, and No. 1 Frank Peterman, 75 barrels a day. Several important wells will be due in this development this week.

In the Graysville district the Fisher Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the Abe Mann farm and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper in the Big Injun.

In the Sand Hill district, Washington county, J. M. Thornily has completed No. 3 on his own farm and has a duster.

In the same district, E. Craig & Co. have completed their test on the Ralph Bean farm and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper in the Cow Run sand. The Palmer Oil Company's No. 3 on the William Dye farm is about the same size in the same sand.

In the shallow sand territory near Chester Hill, Morgan county, F. M. Selby & Co. have completed their No. 20 on the R. B. Lambert farm and have a duster.

In the same district the Ohio Consolidated Oil Company has completed Nos. 4 and 5 on the E. R. Heiman farm and has small pumpers.

Local Notes.

In the Logansville development in Beaver county, E. E. Reed has completed his No. 2 on the John Hoffman farm and has a light gasser.

In the same district, McCann & Co. have completed No. 2 on the Robert Charleston farm and have a duster in the 100-foot sand.

THE THREE RIVERS.

CINCINNATI, June 30.—River at 6 p. m., 22.6 feet and rising. Cloudy and warmer. The clerks and crew of the Queen City of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati packet line left for Pittsburgh tonight over the Pennsylvania to bring that boat here. Capt. Calhoun and crew of the Virginia arrived today to take the boat to Pittsburgh. The Otto Marmet went up at 4 p. m. with a tow of empties for the Kanawha. The Crown Hill arrived with a tow of timber from the Sandy. The Mt. Clare arrived this morning at 10 o'clock. She had in tow the last of the loaded barges which were in the Kanawha. She returned tonight with empties. The Adele went up light to Pittsburgh to assist the down coming tows of the boats of the combine. The H. E. Frisbie left for the lower river and Cairo at noon with four loaded barges of coal and five empties.

LOUISVILLE—River rising rapidly, with 7 feet 8 inches on the falls, 10 feet in the canal. Business dull. Capt. Max Seedbott has returned from Pistol Slough, where he succeeded in raising three barges of steel rails, sunk by the John A. Wood some time ago. He is now getting ready to handle a big coal fleet, which will arrive here in a few days from headwaters. River men are jubilant over the prospects of a coalboat stage, as it will make things lively here.

WHEELING—River 9 feet 9 inches and rising. Heavy rains today; clear and warm tonight. Departed, Bessie Smith, Parkersburg, 11 a. m.

STEUBENVILLE—River 9 feet and rising. Clear and warm.

MORGANTOWN—River 8 feet and rising. Rainy.

GALLIPOLIS—River 10 feet 6 inches and stationary. Cloudy and cool.

BROWNSVILLE—River 6 feet 2 inches and stationary. Clear.

PARKERSBURG—River 10 feet and rising. Clear and hot. Light rain today. No boats.

WARREN—River 5 feet 1 inch and rising slowly. Cloudy.

HUNTINGTON—River 15 feet and rising. No Cincinnati boats today. Light showers all day, with heavy rain at night.

MARIETTA—River 9.2 feet. Bedford up, 6 a. m. Locals on usual time.

POINT PLEASANT—River 11 feet 10 inches and rising. Cloudy and pleasant. No boats.

CHARLESTON—River 5 feet 9 inches. Cloudy and warmer.

NEW LOCKS AND DAMS.

Those on the Upper Monongahela Will Be Finished Next Year.

Capt. W. L. Silbert yesterday returned from the headwaters of the Monongahela river, where he had been examining the improvements being made to that stream. It will be nearly 18 months before navigation will be opened between Morgantown and Fairmont.

Dams 10 and 11 are almost completed, but the dam at No. 11 has not been closed in the middle, a space of 150 feet being left for boats, so as to enable them to tow material through for use at the other dams. At dam No. 12 work will be finished in several months and it is thought that the other locks and dams 13, 14 and 15 will be completed by the end of next season. Concreting has been commenced at No. 15, the last of the series, and at No. 16 the work of building the coffer dam is under way.

When all the dams are in operation navigation on the Monongahela will be open to Fairmont and the coal fields in that territory can be tapped for river shipment, but it is thought that it will be years before this is done, for there is much undeveloped coal land nearer the markets. Much other material, however, will find a market at Pittsburgh.

LEGAL NOTICES.

WILLIAM P. SCHELL, JR., Attorney-at-Law, 134 Fourth ave., Pittsburgh, Pa. Notice is hereby given that in the court of common pleas No. 1 of Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, No. 212, September term, 1902. In the matter of the petition of Sarah Greaves for the release and discharge of mortgage from Thomas Speer, recorded in said county, in mortgage deed book, volume Q. 16, page 382. Take notice that the petition of Sarah Greaves filed Saturday, June 28, 1902, at the above number and term, respectfully represents, That petitioner is the owner in fee simple of all that certain tract or piece of ground situate in Baldwin township, Allegheny county, and state of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the center of Brownsville road 20 feet wide at corner of lot or ground conveyed by Thomas W. Briggs, et ux., to Monte, by deed dated August 25, 1870; thence by the center of said road north 52 degrees, 30 minutes east, seventy-hundredths perches to a mark on rock in center of said road; thence by the center of said road north 82 degrees, 0 minutes east, eighteen and seventy-hundredths perches to a pin in the center of said road; thence by the center of said road south 52 degrees, 45 minutes east, six and two-hundredths perches to a pin in the center of said road; thence by the center of said road south 28 degrees, 0 minutes east, twelve and seventy-nine-hundredths perches to a pin in the center of said road; thence by the center of said road south 38 degrees, 30 minutes east, seven and sixteen-hundredths perches to a pin in the center of said road; thence by the center of said road south 49 degrees, 20 minutes east, nineteen and eighty-hundredths perches to a pin in the center of said road; thence south 37 degrees, 15 minutes west, forty-seven and sixteen-hundredths perches to a pin, thence north two degrees, 0 minutes east, thirty and one-hundredths perches to a pin, and thence north 44 degrees, 32 minutes west, twelve and twenty-seven-hundredths perches to the place of beginning, containing eleven and three-hundred and two one-thousandth (11.302-1,000) acres. That said property (inter alia) is encumbered by the lien of a certain mortgage dated December 2, 1899, and recorded in the Recorder's office of Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, in deed book, volume Q. 16, page 382, having been given (inter alia) upon the property above described by Thomas Spencer to John Hollcroft of Washington county, Pennsylvania, to secure the payment of two hundred and fifty-one hundredth dollars ($200.50) to said John Hollcroft by Thomas Spencer, on or before the 1st day of October, 1902, with interest to be paid on same from the 30th day of September, 1899. That no payment of principal or interest has been made either in full or on account of said mortgage within twenty-one (21) days next after the present owner of the above described premises or so far as can be ascertained by any of her predecessors in title, and that petitioner has no knowledge of any person or parties interested in said premises, that the release of the premises above described from said mortgage nor any acquittance or acknowledgement of payment thereof, or on account thereof, is of record in Allegheny county. Wherefore petitioner prays your honorable court after notice given according to law, to decree and direct that the above described premises be released and discharged from said mortgage and the payment thereof and that a copy of this petition and the decree thereon shall be entered of record in the office of the recorder of deeds of Allegheny county, Pennsylvania. Now, petitioner known, that I, William C. McKinley, sheriff of Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, do hereby give public notice requiring all persons interested in said mortgage to appear in said court at Pittsburgh, on the first day of the above to answer said petition and to show cause why the proper decree should not be granted and the said mortgage satisfied of record.
WILLIAM C. McKINLEY, Sheriff.

BEARS IN STEEL BEGIN LITERARY FIGHT ON STOCK

Lawyer Trehane Writes a Pamphlet Attacking Stock Conversion Plan.

LAWSON THE ARCH-BEAR

Pig Iron Growing Scarcer—Archer Brown Thinks Demand for Finished Products Has but Fairly Begun.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 30.—Members of the New York stock exchange and thousands of others of the Wall street community found in their mails today a pamphlet quoting an open letter to George W. Perkins, "chairman of the finance committee," by John Trehane, an American lawyer in London, whose attacks upon the United States Steel Corporation's version scheme have attracted more or less attention both here and abroad. A small imprint of a New York printer in John street betrays the fact that this literature has been circulated by American bears on steel.

This is not the first bearish literature that has been circulated, but it serves to revive mental speculation as to the identity and animus of the bear party. It is generally believed that Boston is the city of the bearish religion on steel. Many attacks upon the combine are known to have their origin there, and it is generally believed that Thomas W. Lawson is the arch-bear.

A Woeful Waste of Words.

As a criticism on the United States Steel Corporation's financial policy the Trehane letter, circulated today, is a weak exhibit. The statements therein contained are intemperate, for one thing, and for another they carry the suspicion of an opposite interest other than that advocated from purely unselfish motives. Nearly 500 words of his diatribe are devoted to lecturing the finance committee on the difference between "interest payment on a mortgage and dividends on stock." He makes obvious the point that in times of depression the preferred stock dividend might be passed, whereas interest on the proposed bond issue is a fixed charge the payment of which cannot be avoided. Everybody was aware of the difference between interest and dividends before Mr. Trehane undertook to enlighten the stock market community of the two continents.

It may be recalled that a gentleman closely familiar with the financial affairs of the combine has declared that the management is persuaded that the consequences of passing the dividend of United States Steel preferred would be quite as disastrous as forfeiting interests on bonds, which probably is true in practice if not in theory. In his summing up paragraphs, Mr. Trehane writes:

May I suggest that this is a question into which you should carefully look, and upon which you would do well to consult with a few men outside the corporation who have a special knowledge, both of law and of the financial principles, such men, for instance, as ex-President Grover Cleveland and Senator Depew, both of whom, I take it, are your well-wishers. I feel sure that, not only in the opinion of such specialists as these, but in that of the financial community generally, you will find it to be held that you are wrong in your views, and that a scheme which involves a commission of 20 per cent instead of 5 per cent, and which unnecessarily fastens upon the corporation a new mortgage debt of $200,000,000, with an annual charge of $10,000,000, is not advantageous to the customer with whom the house of J. P. Morgan & Co. has made a bargain, while its partners were acting for both parties.

Pig Iron Becoming Scarcer.

A number of the largest manufacturers of pig iron, with seen today, expressed the opinion that the shortage of pig iron is becoming more pronounced, and that if there is no material falling off in the demand for finished steel it will be months before the furnaces will be able to meet deliveries promptly. Rogers, Brown & Co. say that the prices of pig iron for early deliveries are what the fortunate holders wish to make them. For immediate supplies there is practically nothing to turn to except Scotch and English makes, and these are now arriving at eastern seaboard points at the rate of 1,000 tons a day. The importing price is up about $1 a ton, through higher freights and slightly improved markets abroad. Archer Brown's view of the situation follows:

The country seems to be just adjusting itself to the breadth and genuine character of the great revival of business and steel. The theory that it was abnormal because it was too great and must soon collapse because great markets have collapsed in the past, has prevailed until recently, quite as much among ironmakers themselves as among investors and financiers. Each week that passes with still broader and firmer markets and new work of every kind springing, as it were, from the ground, increases the number of those who believe the revival is not ephemeral, but lasting, and the great work of construction and reconstruction in the country, instead of being over, has scarcely begun and, barring unexpected calamities, the iron producing capacity of America, far from being overdeveloped, will have all it can do to keep pace with the country's legitimate business.

The majority of the furnaces in Eastern Pennsylvania are stopped by the anthracite coal strike, and great inconvenience is caused thereby to the foundries and rolling mills of this section. Furnaces in Ohio and in Virginia also has closed ten furnaces in that district and in Southern Ohio, entailing still greater scarcity of raw materials. Prices for next year's deliveries range from $20 to $21 at producing centers. Ohio iron practically has disappeared from the market as a result of the inability of the furnaces to produce sufficient coke."

Swamped by Plate Orders.

Representatives of the principal steel plate mills of the country report that the congestion of orders has increased during the past week, while the execution of them has been somewhat interfered with by the difficulty of securing an adequate coal supply. None of the mills are accepting orders limiting the time for delivery at the market price, the increase depending upon the degree of promptness in delivery demanded. The price of plate for which the date of delivery is not specified remains at $40 a short ton, and orders at this price are generally executed within six or eight weeks. Purchasers are very willing, however, to pay $45 to $50, and even more, for plate they must have in 10 days or two weeks. Regarding the prevailing price of steel plate, an officer of one of the principal producing companies says:

The market is being maintained at a very reasonable figure considering the fact that the companies could sell their billets at $32 a ton and make more on them than by rolling them out. It costs $10 to convert them, so on that basis there is a loss of $2 a ton on the plate; but the mills do not propose to leave their plate customers in the lurch, nor are they making them pay what they might be made to pay. This is a continuation of the liberal policy which the steel interests of the entire country have pursued though the recent and present enormous demand for steel. So far the increase in the cost of rolling caused by the coal strike has been borne entirely by the mills except in the case of orders for quick delivery.

Stock Conversion Litigation.

Pending a decision in the appeal of the United States Steel Corporation from the Emery injunction, the stock market community is discussing what the combine might do in the event of the restraining order being sustained in the higher courts. It is believed now by some very competent local experts that if this special act of the New Jersey legislature, under which the United States Steel Corporation has proceeded, is held by the higher courts to be class legislation, and therefore unconstitutional, the combine's finance committee might still carry its end under the revised general corporation act of New Jersey, section 29, which says:

The decrease of capital stock may be effected by retiring or reducing any class of the stock, or by drawing the necessary number of shares by lot for retirement, or by the surrender by every shareholder of his shares and the issue to him in lieu thereof of a decreased number of shares, or by the purchase at not above par of certain shares for retirement, or by retiring shares owned by the corporation, or by reducing the par value of shares.

By going a longer way around than was contemplated in the conversion scheme, against which an injunction now lies, the United States Steel Corporation might therefore, under the general act, issue bonds, sell them for cash, and with the proceeds purchase preferred stock. It is believed by several prominent corporation attorneys that this could be done so that the effect would be precisely the same as the proposed conversion. This section of the law clearly establishes the right of the corporation to retire a part of its preferred stock, and, while there is no clear authority under the act to exchange bonds for stock, it is claimed the right exists to issue and sell bonds with the approval of two-thirds of the stockholders, and that such bonds could be sold to purchase stock.

The Month's End Business Sends Call Loans Up to 7 Per Cent.

U. S. STEEL STOCKS DOWN

Brokers Talk of Over-Capitalization and Insufficient Working Funds as Cause for Drop—Chicago's New York Exchange Is Lower.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 30.—The stock market reflected the recent prevailing tendency of speculative sentiment to lay greater stress upon encouraging developments and to ignore what appears to be unfavorable with an invincible cheerfulness. The money market became quite active today and call loan rates ran up to 7 per cent under the influence of month-end demand for funds. This had the effect of curtailing operations in stocks to some extent, but forced non-appreciable liquidation. The special stocks which have been chosen as leaders of the market by the speculative party which has made itself the guardian of values showed points of strength at various times during the day. The course of the grain markets showed a feeling of considerable anxiety as to the effect of the heavy storms upon the grain crops, but aside from St. Paul, no railroad stock was much affected by this development.

Good Thing for Cotton.

On the other hand, the favorable effect of the rains on the cotton crop found a response in an upward movement in some of the cotton carriers, notably Texas & Pacific and Southern Pacific. The coalers also responded to the expressions of confidence on the part of the operators that the coal strike is disintegrating. There is a belief in the financial district that the coal mine operators have been deferring active steps towards a resumption of mining until after the July 4 holidays in the belief that the holiday period might aggravate a tendency to disorder. A buoyant recovery from recent depression in Colorado fuel was attributed to manipulation or to a struggle for control amongst disaffected insiders. Sugar also made an unexplained rise, but the industrials generally were heavy. United States Steel stocks dropped back a fraction. Over-capitalization, insufficient provision for working capital and exorbitant allowances to merger syndicates and the continually developing necessity for bond issues by the industrial combinations are subjects under constant discussion in Wall street.

Speculators Shy of Call Loans.

The immunity of stock values from harm on account of the flurry in the money market is attributed to the fact that the large speculative interests have provided themselves with time loans over the period of the July settlements. The rise in money rates in London today caused an advance in sterling at Paris, and thus relieved the pressure on New York. New York exchange at Chicago, which ruled at 35 cents premium last week, dropped back today to 5-cent discount, indicating some pressure from that source upon New York for funds. The market closed almost unanimate and steady.

There was an active market for Burlington joint 4s in connection with the closing up of the syndicate. The understanding that the syndicate holdings were disposed of in connection with the settlement made the issue strong. Otherwise the market was quiet and firm. Total sales, par value, $4,040,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales for the day, 314,000 shares.

Talk of too much paid merger syndicate, over capitalization and insufficient working capital causes a drop in United States Steel. Sales were 10,700 common and 5,262 preferred.

Western Union continues to feel the loss of the Pennsylvania wires and the stock is again slightly lower.

Missouri Pacific has the heaviest sales, 33,300, at a slight decline.

Month's-end business causes a big demand for call money, the rate touching 7 per cent.

Cattle.

The falling off in cattle receipts at the East Liberty stock yards today, as compared with last Monday, amounted to 25 carloads, while they fell short 50 loads of the arrivals two weeks ago. The market was steady, but no higher, notwithstanding the decrease in the amount of offerings.

Prime, 1,400 to 1,600 lbs., $5 15@5 50; prime, 1,200 to 1,400 lbs., $5 75@7 15; good, 1,200 to 1,300 lbs., $5 25@5 75; fair, 900 to 1,000 lbs., $4 00@4 60; tidy, 1,000 to 1,150 lbs., $5 25@5 75; fair, 900 to 1,000 lbs., $4 00@4 60; heifers, 700 to 1,100 lbs., $4 00@5 50; cows, $3 00@4 50; bulls and stags, $2 00@4 00; good fresh cows, $40 00@50 00; common to fair, $20 00@30 00.

Hogs.

Like cattle, receipts of hogs were less than those of a week ago, and the market for prime heavies advanced about 10 cents a hundred, while other grades were fairly steady, though quoted a little lower than on last Monday.

Prime heavies, $5 50@7 35; best mediums, $7 00@7 55; heavy Yorkers, $7 40@7 45; light Yorkers, $7 30@7 35; pigs, $7 20@7 25; roughs, $6 00@7 25.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts of sheep and lambs were light, 22 carloads reaching the central stock yards against 40 loads last week. The market advanced 10 to 15 cents on best wethers, other grades of sheep remaining steady without change. Choice lambs were a trifle firmer, while veal calves continued firm at quotations of last week.

Best wethers, 35 to 100 lbs., $4 35@4 60; good, 85 to 90 lbs., $4 00@4 25; mixed, 75 to 85 lbs., $3 25@3 75; culls and common, $2 50@2 00; choice lambs, $6 00@6 50; common to good, $4 00@5 75; veal calves, $7 00@7 50; heavy and thin, $4 00@5 00.

...he market on the Pittsburgh stock ...ange yesterday was the dullest ...he year, the sales being only 2,002 ...res of stock and $7,000 bonds. This ...de the fourth day in succession in ...ich the sales were less than 3,000 ...es. The tone was irregular, the ...pal movements being in the ...ng group. Those issues were ...somewhat erratic pending the ac- ...of the directors in regard to div- ...s. Federal National Bank broke ...31 for 40 shares, but the cause was ...parent. It may have been a disap- ...ent that no dividend was declared, ...there have not been any wide- ...rumors one way or another con- ...g the possibilities in that direction. ...National bank was firm but un- ...at 300 cash, the exclusive an- ...ent in The Gazette some days ...at an extra dividend would be de- ...ausing it to be discounted. Allo- ...Trust Company was 18½ higher at ...the declaration of its initial divi- ...as previously announced in The ...s. The American Trust Company ...d $2 to 118 and was offered at 119. ...Trust Company opened at 286 ...d up to 300. Then near the close ...ped to 295 bid. The advance was due to the declaration of an initial quarterly dividend of 2 per cent. Commonwealth Real Estate & Trust Company advanced from 226 to 229 on sales of 20 shares and closed strong at that price bid, which was a recovery of $11 from the low point of the month. This was probably due to the declaration of a 2½ per cent semi-annual dividend, and an extra dividend of 2½ per cent by the Commercial National bank, which is owned by the Commonwealth company. The South Side Trust rallied ½ on a small sale to 108. The Allegheny National bank, which recently advanced to 119 bid, also declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent, an increase of 1 per cent. Another surprise came from the City Deposit bank, whose stock has recently been quite strong at advancing prices. It declared a quarterly dividend of 3 per cent, against 5 per cent semi-annually heretofore. These things made the banking group particularly interesting, but otherwise the market was dull and dreary. Window Glass common, which will probably be given a 1½ per cent dividend today, was dull but firmer at 64⅞. At the close it broke to 64, a loss of ⅝ from the opening but a gain of that much from last Saturday. The Steel shares were quiet and generally lower, while the coalers were exceptionally dull and narrow. Philadelphia Company common was firm and fractionally higher at 48⅝. Bonds were very dull.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Bank exchanges for the year to date show an average monthly loss of over $4,000,000.

Sales Pittsburgh stock exchange: Yesterday, 2,002 shares and $7,000 bonds. For June, 127,481.3 shares and $188,000 bonds.

Colonial Trust sold at $390 and closed at 395 bid.

Commonwealth Real Estate Trust advanced $6 to 229.

American Window Glass common closed at 64. Only 335 shares sold.

Crucible Steel common closed at 21⅝, and the preferred at 85½.

United States Steel common closed at 37½ and the preferred at 88⅞.

National Fire Proofing preferred advanced to 41.

The coal stocks were very dull.

Philadelphia Company common closed at 48⅝.

Bonds were dull but firm.

FINANCIAL DRIFT.

Whitney & Stephenson sold River Coal 6s at 118½.

London traded in Wall street in 5,000 shares, equally divided.

Five shares of Colonial Trust offered near the close at 390.

War taxes on sales and transfers of stocks are things of the past.

Nothing was done about dividends at the meeting of Soo directors.

During the first half hour only 7 different securities were dealt in.

Masten & Co. offered 500 United States Steel common near the close at 37⅛.

The Bellevue Savings & Trust Company will clear through the Union National bank.

The last sale of the month was 100 Window Glass common at 64. R. C. Hall to H. Miller.

Montreal operators are again bullish on Canadian Pacific and disposed to support and advance the stock.

The first sale of the day was 100 National Fire Proofing preferred at 41, Preston, Watt & Schoyer buying from Hill & Co.

Illinois Central held well in spite of statements that the St. Louis & Southwestern will acquire the Illinois property.

The Fort Pitt National bank will, beginning today, clear its own checks, having become a member of the Pittsburgh Clearing House association.

Colorado Fuel had a sharp rally, which was attributed to covering by the shorts of the contracts which they had put out on the postponement of the dividend payment.

Arthur Davis passed around the cigars yesterday morning on the exchange and the announcement was made that a new broker had arrived in the city. Mr. Davis received the congratulations of all.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Third National bank, Allegheny, was held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of voting on a resolution to place the bank in voluntary liquidation under the provisions of the law. The resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote of the stockholders.

The banking house of T. Mellon Sons passed out of existence yesterday, being succeeded by the new Mellon National bank. The new institution has a capital of $2,000,000 and not $1,000,000 capital and $1,000,000 surplus, as originally intended. The only other national bank having a capital of $2,000,000 is the Federal National.

Shirley Plumer Austin, for six years editor of a manufacturing journal, and special agent for glass manufacturing for the twelfth census, has accepted a position representing Edward C. Jones & Co., bankers and dealers in municipal and railway bonds, with offices in New York and Philadelphia. Mr. Austin will open a Pittsburgh office for the firm in the Bank for Savings building.

The Mellon National bank having been admitted to membership in the Pittsburgh Clearing House association, will, beginning today, clear its own checks and the checks of the following institutions: Allegheny Valley bank, Homewood Peoples bank, Monongahela Trust Company, United Realty Trust Company, Fidelity Title & Trust Company, T. Mellon & Sons, Union Trust Company, Wilkinsburg bank, and Joseph Tonicsanyi, Homestead.

The following local stocks were ex-dividend yesterday: Westinghouse Airbrake, 2½ per cent regular and 2½ per cent extra; Union Switch & Signal common 1 per cent and the preferred 2 per cent; Westinghouse Machine common and preferred, 1½ per cent, and Monongahela River Coal preferred 3½ per cent. The United States Steel preferred 1¾ per cent was payable yesterday and the quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on Westinghouse Electric firsts is payable today. National Fire Proofing will be 1¾ per cent ex-dividend today.

A Wall street broker wired: Under ordinary circumstances this is a period of uncertainty and consequently a quiet market. The big people do not take hold of the market and make an upward movement until after the middle of August, as by that time the crops have advanced so far as to make such a movement safe and not in danger of any such upset as we had last year, for instance. It looks to me as if the market might start earlier than that, or, as if it may have already commenced, for all the activity is on the advance and no one wants to sell real stocks. Then, too, this prolonged period of dullness is all in favor of an early revival.

The banking department of the Commonwealth Real Estate & Trust Company will open today temporarily in the Commercial National Bank building, Nos. 313 and 315 Fourth avenue, until its permanent quarters, now occupied by Messrs. Herron & Sons, Nos. 327 and 329 Fourth avenue, are ready for occupancy. The Commercial National bank had a very successful six months just closed, the net earnings for that period being about 8 per cent on its capital stock. A regular dividend of 2½ per cent and an extra dividend of 2½ per cent was declared, payable to the stockholders of record June 30, 1902. The Commonwealth Real Estate & Trust Company has purchased the stock of the Commercial National bank, and while the latter bank will retain its organization, the two institutions will be under the same management.

Of a total issue of $6,000,000 collateral trust five-year 4½ per cent gold bonds, dated February 1, 1902, of the Mexican Central Railway Company, Ltd., $6,000,000 have been disposed of by private sale. Subscriptions for the remaining $4,000,000 bonds at 98½ and accrued interest will be received by Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co., of New York, and the Mississippi Valley Trust Company of St. Louis. Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by Burr, Lee & Moore. A simultaneous issue will be made in London by J. Henry Schroder & Co., and in Amsterdam by Hope & Co. The subscription list here will be opened at 10 a. m. July 8, and will be closed at noon July 10, or earlier. The right is reserved to reject any application and to award smaller amounts than applied for. The bonds will be ready for delivery July 17. The bonds are redeemable at par and accrued interest, at the option of the company, on any semi-annual interest day, on 30 days' notice. The Mississippi Valley Trust Company of St. Louis is the trustee. The bonds are secured by $16,120,000 par value of consolidated gold 4 per cent bonds of the Mexican Central Railway Company, now reposing on the New York and London stock exchanges at about 84, representing a cash value of $13,548,360. The underlying bonds are a first lien upon 2,039 miles of road, subject only to a lien of $288,000 unexchanged 6 per cent first mortgage gold bonds and to $5,597,000 priority mortgage 5 per cent bonds, which latter are all now held by the Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Company, as additional security for the consolidated mortgage 4 per cent bonds.

OFFICE OF CLAIRTON STEEL COMPANY.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 25th, 1902.

To the UNION TRUST COMPANY OF PITTSBURGH and MELLON NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH,

I wish to state for your information that the payment for the issue of bonds of the Clairton Steel Company, dated July 1st, 1902, is secured by a morigage on the merged plants of the St. Clair Steel Company and the St. Clair Furnace Company into the Clairton Steel Company. The amount being expended at Clairton and covered by this mortgage is about eleven million dollars. When completed we will have in operation three blast furnaces of the capacity of fifteen hundred tons pig iron daily, and twelve open hearth furnaces. This steel plant and furnaces I consider the finest, and subject to the most economical operation, of any steel plant or furnace in the United States.

The open hearth furnaces will be ready by September 1st, and the blast furnaces by the first of the year.

I estimate the net earnings of the Clairton Steel Company on present prices at $3,500,000 per annum.

The principal and interest of the bonds are also guaranteed by the Crucible Steel Company of America, which Company owns all the capital stock of the Clairton Steel Company, and which Company had net earnings for the first fiscal year of $3,500,000 and the earnings this year are at a greater rate than $300,000 per month.

The Crucible Steel Company of America has a capital of $25,000,000 preferred, and $25,000,000 common stock, and has no mortgage indebtedness.

Respectfully yours,
W. P. SNYDER,
President Clairton Steel Company.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 30th, 1902.

The undersigned offer $4,000,000 of above described bonds at par and accrued interest. Subscription lists will be opened at the respective offices of the undersigned on Thursday, July 3d, 1902. The right is reserved to reject any applications or to award a smaller amount than applied for.

Payment for bonds allotted must be made on or before July 5th, 1902, and transferable interim certificates will be delivered pending the engraving of the bonds.

The undersigned consider the bonds above described as of the highest class of local industrial bonds, and recommend them as an investment of undoubted security.

JUNE EXCHANGES LOST.

Pittsburgh Bank Clearings Show an Average Loss of $4,000,000 During Six Months.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges for the month of June, ended yesterday, were more than $14,267,000 smaller than those for the same month a year ago and about $17,500,000 less than those for the month of May last. June's total of nearly $171,000,000 makes it the second largest June on record and brings the total for the year to date—six months—up to $1,050,858,185 70. This enormous aggregate, however, is more than $24,247,000 less than for the same period in 1901, thus making the average monthly loss of the present year to date almost $4,000,000. The shrinkage is attributed to several causes, but principally to the big falling off in the amount of business done in speculative and investment circles, and to the absence of any large important combinations of capital, etc. Undoubtedly the strike of the miners has had much to do with the decrease during the month of June and must necessarily continue to restrict trade as long as it continues. The local money market worked tighter during the month than it has been in a year or more, but at the close the prospects were for an easier time after the July disbursements began to seek investment. The rate for call and time loans has remained nominally at 5@6 per cent, but it is safe to say that very little money was placed below the highest figure and in some quarters all loans had to be refused and others called in.

The official reports of the clearing house for yesterday, the preceding Monday and the same day last year, show:

	Exchanges.	Balances.
Yesterday	$5,627,801 45	$1,079,335 15
Previous Monday	8,665,188 28	1,343,502 60
Last year	6,560,381 24	1,764,558 15
Yesterday's decrease	$941,579 79

The figures of the clearing house for the month of June, ended yesterday, compared with those for the month of May, 1902, and June, 1901, are as follows:

	Exchanges.	Balances.
June, 1902	$170,906,489 24	$26,312,860 89
May, 1902	188,490,269 65	27,400,365 20
June, 1901	185,173,640 46	17,582,892 03
June, 1902's decrease	$14,267,151 22

The exchanges for June compared with those for the corresponding month in previous years are:

June, 1902	$170,906,489 24
June, 1901	185,173,640 46
June, 1900	141,562,895 25

NEW MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL WILL BE BUILT SOON

Plans for It Are Now Being Drawn by Architect Sidney F. Heckert.

ON THE PAVILION PLAN

Every Convenience and Facility for Treating Contagious Diseases Will Be Provided—Attention Will Be Paid to Sanitary Arrangements.

Before snow flies again Pittsburgh will have completed one of the finest municipal hospitals in the country. Plans for the building are now being prepared by Architect Sidney F. Heckert and bids on its erection will be asked in about three weeks. The cost is estimated at $80,000, and room will be provided for over 100 patients.

The project of building a hospital suitable for persons suffering from contagious diseases has been under contemplation a long time. When the ordinance passed councils about a month ago authorizing Director A. H. Leslie of the department of public safety to go ahead with the building he commissioned Architect Heckert to prepare plans at once. Other architects solicited the work, but owing to the fact that Mr. Heckert has made a special study of hospital construction and has now four hospital buildings under way he was chosen to design the new building. His preliminary plans have been approved by Director Leslie and it is reasonably sure that the hospital will be open for patients by November 1.

On the Pavilion Plan.

The proposed building is being planned with special reference to smallpox patients. It will be constructed on the pavilion plan, with walls of brick and a slate roof. The administration building, a part of the main pavilion, will be two stories high with dimensions 44x127 feet. This will contain the offices and apartments of the superintendent, physicians and male and female help. The kitchen, from which the entire institution will be supplied with food, will be located in this building and there will be a finished basement for supplies.

The main smallpox ward will be 28x80 feet and one story high. In it will be located the male and female wards, isolated wards, wards for doubtful cases, clothes rooms, diet kitchen and solariums or sun rooms. The wards will be connected with cloisters. Eighty patients can be accommodated in the pavilion.

A second pavilion, 28x140 feet, will be for scarlet fever patients. This will have the same general arrangement as the smallpox pavilion, both being finished in a very plain manner. It will have rooms for 25 patients.

Good Sanitary Arrangements.

The building was made one story high only for convenience and cheapness. In its construction special attention is being paid to the sanitary arrangements. A steam heating plant will be installed and the latest methods of ventilation provided. A feature in the plans is the provision that will be made for receiving and discharging patients and for accommodating visiting physicians, something which causes considerable difficulty in the ordinary pest house. A careful study of the latest methods will be made before furnishing the hospital and none but the most approved devices for handling smallpox cases will be purchased. This hospital will be the only one of its kind in Western Pennsylvania and will rank on a par with the contagious hospitals of New York and Chicago.

Speaking of the proposed building yesterday Director Leslie said: "We are getting ready for an epidemic, if it comes our way in the fall. Before winter we will be prepared to house and care for smallpox patients in the most approved manner. At present we have 83 patients in the pest house and tents. The two tents, 18x32 feet each, have no protection at all but are exposed to the sun on all sides. Hence, bad as the weather is, the hot weather of July will be worse still for the sufferers. We hope, however, to have the new frame addition of 24x70 feet done soon, and this will give us room for 125 patients in all, not including the tents. We are also having new pantries, bath rooms and sewer connections put in, which will help matters greatly."

PACIFIC CABLE OFFER.

Company Will Complete Line a Year Ahead of Time in Exchange for Government Services.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—An important conference was held at the navy department today at which Secretary Moody, Rear Admiral Bradford, chief of the bureau of equipment, and Senator Perkins of California, a member of the committee on naval affairs, were present.

These gentlemen had before them a proposition of the Eastern Extension Telegraph Company, acting, it is understood, through the Commercial Pacific Cable Company, by which this company would agree to finish its work of laying a cable across the Pacific ocean earlier than was contemplated and give this government the benefit of reduced rates in exchange for the information developed in the surveys made by the United States steamer Nero in 1899 for a practicable submarine cable route across the ocean.

Rear Admiral Bradford was charged with personal inspection and consideration of the matter. He probably will report favorably on the company's offer in a few days.

HANNA WINS AGAIN.

Collector Leach of Cleveland Renominated and Confirmed in Spite of Burton's Charges.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—Postmaster General Payne, Senator Hanna and Civil Service Commissioner Garfield had a conference with the president today regarding the political charges made by Representative Burton of Cleveland and others against Collector Leach at Cleveland. Mr. Garfield had just arrived from his home in Cleveland, where he investigated the situation and today he made his report to the president. Collector Leach also is here, and has filed an affidavit denying the charges.

The result of the conference was a conclusion that the charges against Mr. Leach had not been substantiated, and that the collector should be reappointed. Mr. Leach's re-nomination was sent to the senate, which promptly confirmed it.

Musician Killed by Fall.

BOSTON, June 30.—A fractured skull caused the death of Max Heindl, a theater orchestra leader of this city, today. Mr. Heindl fell down stairs at the Castle Square theater after the performance Saturday evening. He was a member of a family of famous musicians.

Denver Gets the Money.

DENVER, June 30.—By unanimous opinion of the state supreme court today the city of Denver is declared to be entitled to the $2,000,000 willed to it by George W. Clayton for the founding of The Clayton College for Boys.

QUAY'S TRIP DELAYED.

Will Start from Washington Today, But Has Not Made Up His Mind About Visit to Stone.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—(Special.)—Senators Quay and Penrose called upon the president this morning to make their parting calls, as they both expect to leave early tomorrow afternoon, when congress adjourns sine die. In reply to Roosevelt's inquiries they told him Pennsylvania would roll up a rousing majority this fall for the Republican state ticket, re-elect Senator Penrose and elect at least 28 of the 32 Republican representatives, with a possibility of one more. The president expressed his gratification at the information. He is eager that the next congress be Republican, and if Pennsylvania sets the pace as it created he has no doubt of the result.

Senator Quay was unable to leave the city tonight, as he expected, but says he will leave tomorrow after congress adjourns. He may go to Philadelphia on the afternoon train and leave there tomorrow night for his trip to Pittsburgh and Beaver.

The senator said he did not know whether he would stop at Harrisburg to see Gov. Stone or not. That will be decided tomorrow. Senator Penrose may accompany his colleague to Philadelphia tomorrow afternoon.

Weather—Fair. Tuesday, July 1, 1902.

A Group of Forget-Me-Nots—

That it will be a great oversight if you do not display your patriotism next Friday by hanging out a Flag. All sizes in Flags—silk or bunting.

That we have Flag Ribbons and tri-colored Ribbons—each nice for making patriotic furbelows. A pretty and becoming personal decoration for Friday.

That we close now at 5 P. M.—every day but Saturday, and on Saturday at 1 P. M. That this arrangement will be continued until further notice.

Continuance of the Clearance.

Neither rain nor the appearance of rain will keep people away when there is an important sale, like our Clearance on the tapis.

To be sure we are fortunate in having most of the car lines converge near our doors, and you can come in a blinding storm and hardly notice it.

The Clearance started yesterday with the usual enthusiasm attendant upon such sales, and it foreshadowed that this clearance month is to be a great one in this store. We shall keep you fully apprised of the bargains. Glance at our budget morning or evening, and you'll find something interesting.

For today these hints:

Cloak-Room Clearance.

Jackets and Waists—we'll let the shirtwaists speak for themselves. You'll find table after table full of them with the most remarkable reductions ever given to medium and fine waists—75c, for instance, for waists that sold for $1.50 and $2.50. All sizes and new colors.

The way we sold Jackets yesterday would almost lead one to say Fall was setting in instead of warm weather just about to show itself. But the Jacket—the light weight one—is woman's best companion through Summer—in this climate.

Today light weight Jackets—black and tan—$5 each, sold for $12.50.

Cloth or Silk Jackets, light weight, today for $7.50, that sold for $15.

Imported Coats—fine and handsome—sold for $50, today for $25.

Silk Waists today for $3, that sold for $7.

Just mention the above as a sort of a fly-leaf index to the whole department.

Clearing the Tailored Suits and Skirts.

If there is one department that outshines another in the matter of clearance prices that department is the one of Tailored Suits and Skirts on the second floor.

Study these underprices—they're worth it.

$18 Suits for $9.50.

$25 Suits for $12.00.

$35 Suits for $17.50.

And each one is entirely silk lined.

Something a little better! Certainly. Now, for $25, we sell suits that never sold for less than $40, and many of them for as much as $65. Isn't that liberal? Every excellent fabric worn, every fashionable style. The original price tags will tell you former price.

There are some mussed wash dresses that we'll sell for $5. Fine linens, heavy linens and lawns. $20 and $30 values. Your laundress will smarten them up in less than no time.

As to separate skirts, well, there are so many different styles, and so many different reduced prices, that it is hard to give a complete list.

But see how far $5 will go. For that price we are selling skirts that sold for $7 and up to $10.

New Tyrolean-Back Skirts—walking length—the newest idea from the Tyrol—catchy and practical. Made of fine brilliantine—blue and black—$8.50. In fine cloth, white only, $13.50.

Clearing the Ribbons.

All pure silk plain Taffetas, Satin Libertys and Fancies.

Such preferred widths as 4, 4½, 5 and 6 inches.

25c a yard.

They sold for 45c and up to 85c a yard.

That is enough to show anyone how we go about the clearance in any of our departments.

Clearing the Imported Cottons.

Usually imported Cottons come pretty high—but now Clearance time levels all barriers—and down come the prices to the insignificant stage.

10c yard for 25c lace stripe Mulls.

18c yard for 40c Scotch Ginghams.

25c yard for 50c, 60c, 75c Madras.

Half of $1, $1.25, $1.50, $2, $2.50 and $3 a yard for Colored Swisses.

How the Challis Goes.

And where is the woman who does not always have some use for Challis. There never was such another material made that is so universally esteemed by women as Challis.

25c yard for 35c domestic Challis.

35c yard for 50c French Challis. And it IS French, too.

45c yard for 65c and 75c French Challis.

Clearing the Black Dress Goods.

Black dress goods, staple year in and year out, are being cleared at such prices as these:

25c yard for 50c Black Crepe Cloths, Etamines and Satin Berber.

45c yard for 75c Black Cheviot.

75c yard for $1.25 Black Cheviot.

$1 yard for $1.75 Black Cheviot.

60c yard for $1 Black Voiles and Etamines.

85c yard for $1.25 Black Novelties.

Clearing the Dress Goods.

If ever there was a time when woman could dress good without much cost, that time is now. See how little it takes—for any color you like.

At 25c yard these—

65c a yard wool Mistrals.

50c a yard wool Henrietta.

Arons' Vol-Ta-Ic Diamonds

They fool experts and defy the best judges to distinguish them from genuine diamonds. Arons is the only jeweler in the world who can sell them. They are as brilliant and sparkling as the best blue white diamond ever mined and they never fade. Set only in solid gold; sizes ¼ to 5 karats; loose stones or mounted in rings, studs, pins, brooches, eardrops, neck chains, etc. It's foolish to pay fancy prices for real diamonds, which won't be distinguished from these and wear no longer.
